St. Joe Teen Sentenced To Life In Prison

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Calling the murder of a young St. Joseph woman "violent, savage, and cruel," Berrien Circuit Judge Chester J. Byrns yesterday sentenced 16-year-old David Paul Figlus to life in prison.

Figlus, of St. Joseph, had pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the rape-stabbing death of Dona Jean Armstrong, 20, last December.

Byrns sentenced Figlus to prison "for and during the period of your natural life," and recommended to any parole authority that "should parole be considered it be done only after care and caution and the most thorough psychiatric screening."

Figlus stood with one hand

clasping his other wrist in front of him and displayed no emotion when the life term was imposed.

Miss Armstrong was killed Dec. 10 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Armstrong, at 1209 Lane drive, St. Joseph, who were on vacation at the time.

While making his plea on March 1, Figlus related he spent the preceding night in the Armstrong home as a guest of the girl's brother. Figlus told Byrns he left in the morning, went home, then returned to the Armstrong home with the intention to kill Miss Armstrong.

Figlus said he raped her, stabbed her, took a shower in the house, and then went to St. Joseph high school. Byrns yesterday praised St. Joseph police for their investigation of the case.

Robert Love, chief probation-parole officer for Berrien county, said Figlus will be automatically segregated from older prisoners in prison, and could begin serving his term at either Ionia prison, a maximum security institution for younger offenders, or at the Michigan Training Unit, a medium security institution, also in Ionia.

Lester Knickerbocker, of the same office, said the state's parole board will review Figlus' case after 10 years, the first time the youth would be eligible for parole. Knickerbocker said if parole is not granted, the case is then reviewed annually. He noted a parole would require a public hearing to enable anyone to make comments, and even if the parole board should approve parole, Byrns or his successor in office could block the parole by objecting.

Byrns noted Figlus' counsel, Atty. James Straub, had asked the court to exercise understanding and clemency. "I anguished and prayed about what the right sentence would be," Byrns told Figlus.

"Your crime was violent, savage, and cruel. There wasn't any cause or provocation for it."

Byrns called Miss Armstrong "particularly fine and outstanding—she had every reason to live. I get the feeling that if it wasn't her it would have been someone else.

'Violent, Savage

"The biggest mystery is why?" Byrns continued. "I cannot give a good reason. There was no psychosis, you were sane. The only negative I could find . . . was that at 15 you were using marijuana and liquor."

"The thing that worries me here is the psychiatric reports indicate a possible repeat aggression," Byrns said.

The judge's last comment to Figlus as the youth began walking out of the courtroom after sentencing was: "May God bless you."

Goldwater Says Stories 'False'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Reports linking U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., his brother, Robert, and a close friend to mob figures in Arizona have spawned new controversy, with both Goldwaters attacking the stories.

The senator said Monday that what he had seen of the stories was "totally false," libelous and was "rather shabby, rather dishonest reporting." His brother called the report "poppycock" and added: "None of my friends will pay any attention to it."

A spokesman for the Investigative Reporters and Editors, Inc., which produced the series of stories in question, said the group would stand by its work.

A 36-member team of journalists from 23 newspapers and broadcast outlets went to Arizona six months ago to investigate organized crime. The group said the aim of the effort was to continue the investigative work of reporter Don Bolles of the Arizona Republic who was murdered last June. One man has pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the case; two are awaiting trial.

Sen. Goldwater said Monday that he believed the reporters had gone to Arizona "hoping to solve the Bolles murder." When they found they could not solve the murder, he said, "they set out to do a job on Arizona." He conceded that organized crime does exist in Arizona, "particularly in the field of land sales."

"It's not only ridiculous, it's completely untrue," the senator said today on ABC television's "Good Morning, America" program when asked about an IRE report that he had dominated Arizona politics while condoning organized crime.

The copyright series of reports by the IRE was released to participating newspapers and broadcasters for use starting Sunday and there were wide variations in the way the stories were handled.

Some papers started the series as scheduled and said they would continue daily articles for the 21-day span of the project. Others said they would delay the series to allow for further editing and tailoring for local audiences.

Some papers, citing the length of the installments — which run several thousand words each — cut large sections of the reports. Others made lesser changes.

The report sparked controversy in the Arizona legislature on Monday.

Sen. Sue Dye, D-Tucson, criticized the Arizona Republic and Phoenix Gazette — which participated in the IRE project — for deciding not to publish the entire series. Sen. Leo Corbett, R-Phoenix, said he supported the newspapers' stance.

In the first two days, published accounts of the series said there was widespread organized crime in Arizona, often condoned by political leaders who profited from associations with the underworld. The Monday installment focused on the two Goldwaters and on a close friend, Harry Rosenzweig, former Arizona Republican chairman.

Both Robert Goldwater, who heads the family business, and Rosenzweig, a jeweler, were interviewed by IRE members with their attorneys present. Barry Goldwater was not. He said he was forced to cancel one appointment with the group because of family obligations; a spokesman for the IRE said he had cancelled two appointments.

Robert and Barry issued statements Monday on the IRE report. Rosenzweig was unavailable for comment. A woman who answered the telephone at his home said he was at his store; a secretary at the store said he would not be

State Rides Auto Cycles

By LARRY McDERMOTT
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's economy will continue to improve this year, but may plummet again before 1980 because of the roller coaster effect of auto production, says the state budget director.

Gerald Miller used a briefing Monday on the state's economic outlook for 1977 to promote again Gov. William Milliken's proposed budget stabilization fund, a method of setting aside state revenue for use in hard times.

Milliken has given the so-called rainy day fund top priority.

Manufacturing will be the primary source of 90,500 new jobs this year, according to the governor's economic report to the legislature which Miller discussed.

"The cyclical nature of Michigan's economy has resulted in rapid declines in revenue and recurring financial crises," Milliken said in the report. He added that demands placed upon the state during recessions have historically forced tax increases, but the rainy day fund might help avert that in the future.

In his report, Milliken also emphasized the need to face the special problems of downtown urban centers. He said legislation should be enacted to provide tax relief to businesses which expand in downtown areas.

Also needed, the governor said, is passage of his $144 million transportation package, submitted to the legislature earlier this year, and reform of workers' disability compensation laws.

Miller said Michigan's personal income increased by 12.4

MacTavish Quits As Lancer Coach

Lloyd MacTavish, head varsity basketball coach at Lakeshore high school for the past six seasons, has resigned from his coaching position.

Dennis Kniola, Lakeshore athletic director, told the school board last night that he received and accepted Mac-Tavish's resignation on Friday.

MacTavish came under fire this season from certain segments of the Lakeshore community after his second straight losing season. His teams the past two years had a 14-28 record. Prior to that, in four years as head coach, his Lancers were 59-29, winning one district crown and two Blosssonland conference titles. His overall record as head coach at Lakeshore was 73-67.

In his resignation letter, MacTavish stated his decision was based "exclusively upon the fact that the periphery of coaching has begun to overshadow my zest for competition. The fun and enjoyment of coaching has been lost." He also thanked Kniola for "your support" during his tenure as head coach.

Kniola said MacTavish will remain on at Lakeshore as a full-time counselor.

Kniola said applications for the head basketball coaching job are now being accepted and hopefully the position will be filled by mid-May.

Carter's Bidirectional Foreign Policy

Last November proved that Jimmy Carter is a great vote getter and the public opinion polls taken since he entered into the White House seven weeks ago reinforce that standing.

Lyndon B. Johnson started out in the same manner, only his opening pace more resembled a fast break down a basketball court than ball handling one's way through a sticky defense.

This is great for an officeholder and his party. There's nothing like having the home folks thinking they are doing a great job.

Vietnam persuaded LBJ not to seek re-election in 1968. The opinion polls were running so strongly against him on that issue that Johnson began to entertain doubts if he could obtain renomination, much less win an election.

Though Vietnam has to rate as a military defeat for Uncle Sam, the setback in the field of battle stemmed from a poor guess on foreign affairs which Johnson inherited from the Kennedy Administration.

This is the conviction that because ours is a democratic society all other nations should be so constructed and if they are not, it becomes America's moral obligation to export political freedom to them.

In one form or another, the conviction has been the springboard for U.S. foreign policy since the time of Woodrow Wilson.

Wilson spoke of the free determination of peoples.

A generation later Roosevelt inveighed against the suppression of the spirit.

Jimmy Carter calls it human rights.

He has indicated by a variety of signs that the U.S. will treat differently or possibly not at all with a country whose government keeps its domestic critics under lock and key.

While the ethical principle cannot be faulted, two conditions have to be met to make it effective.

It must be applied uniformly, not selectively.

Carter presently is saying one thing and practicing another. Lifting the travel ban to Cuba is not conditioned upon Castro freeing his political prisoners nor recalling his troops from Angola and several other African countries.

Neither does Carter propose to reduce U.S. aid to the African countries, only a handful of which are ruled by a process remotely resembling political freedom of choice.

Secondly, we must possess the strength and the will to use it to put the noble words into action.

It is one thing to threaten a small Latin American country with a cut-off in foreign aid if its government does not put the First, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments into effect.

It is something else to criticize the Soviets for suppressing dissidents and then urge negotiations be speeded up to strengthen detente and the Strategic Arms Limitations Talks.

The Kremlin already has called Washington's bluff on that score.

The Soviets are not impressed by Carter's batting average in the latest Gallup poll.

They do have a pretty fair idea of what their military strength is and what ours amounts to.

They also hold a fair hunch the American public would not rush into another armed conflict to bring its conception of political freedom to other corners in the world.

By his own admission, Carter at this time does not have the feel for foreign affairs that he has on domestic problems.

Yet he must be enough of a realist to know that foreign affairs goes by the philosophy of when in Rome do as the Romans do.

Why, then, raise a hedgerow when talking to foreign powers whose strength is equivalent to ours?

The late Mayor Daley had a phrase for it.

Town Meetings Might Be Better For Biggies, Too

President Carter's trip to Clinton, Mass., tomorrow will bring him into contact with a forum of direct democracy in perhaps its purest extant form: the New England town meeting. Carter's recent phone-in was a sort of national town meeting of the air. Now he will get to see the real thing.

A Massachusetts law of 1692 provided that town meetings be held annually in March, and they usually take place in late winter or early spring in other New England states as well. There is disagreement as to their origins. Historian Edward Channing came to the conclusion that New England town meetings "grew by the exercise of English common sense, combined with the circumstances of the place."

Called to order by the town clerk, the typical town meeting proceeds to the election of a moderator and then to the business stated in the "warning," or call for the meeting. While some transactions may have been prearranged by informal caucus or special advisory of financial committees, the open debate is often spirited.

At times, town business is so extensive as to require adjourned sessions of the annual meeting as well as occasional special meetings. Although fixed within certain limits by state law, it includes a wide variety of subjects, including maintenance of schools, roads, bridges, waterworks, libraries, cemeteries and parks.

Only qualified voters are summoned by the warrant which calls the meeting and specifies its business. Inhabitants in general are admitted, however, and sometimes they participate in debate. For instance, exiled Soviet author Alexander Solzhenitsyn recently attended the annual meeting of Caledonia, Vt., the town near which he now lives, to apologize for the fence he erected around his 51-acre property.

Today, the town meeting flourishes mainly in the smaller communities of New England. Problems tend to be fewer and more manageable in a simple, rural setting where neighborliness is the norm rather than the exception.

The town meeting should not be dismissed as a quaint anachronism peculiar to a single section of the country. If nothing else, it endures as a symbol of participatory self-government at its best. The idea of a people taking care of their own needs rather than forever appealing for federal or state aid is especially appealing at a time when several large cities are on the brink of municipal bankruptcy.

Who's to say that New York, for example, might not prosper more under town hall rule than it has under "professional" managers.

EDITOR'S MAILBAG

POTENTIAL HARM CALLED UNPROVEN HARM

Editor,

The latest United for Survival newsletter reflects the devoted efforts of its members to protect humanity and the present environment. Their worthy efforts have had, and will continue to have beneficial effects in a real sense, both for their own satisfaction and for the common good.

It is also evident in the newsletter that their efforts often extend in support of unfounded fears and apprehensions. Therefore I'm glad they were not active in the days of Columbus, warning him he would fall off the edge of the earth. Or sided with Edison and condemned the potential hazard of useless electric power connections to private homes where people might be electrocuted.

The group opposes Project Seafarer "on the grounds of possible negative effects of electromagnetic radiation on human life".

It supports the action of the Food and Drug administration banning acrylonitrile plastic beverage containers, for the "FDA cited possible health hazards."

"Potential threats to human health and the environment posed by unregulated genetic research involving recombinant DNA" calls for "prompt protective agency (HEW) action".

Their position reflects not only serious concern, but also great fear of potential, but unproven harm. Thus their tenet might be: "Don't do a thing, unless you can prove it is safe." With that outlook I would be unable to live to face tomorrow. Nor would I dare to die tonight.

True, we have read of the tests that large doses of acrylonitrile harmed small rodents in the lab. But is that proof against plastic bottles? If it is, the person in Florida, who died from drinking too much water, should keep us from drinking water altogether.

Their support of anti-phosphate bills stems from the claim that it leads to eutrophication — the death of a body of water — by stealing the oxygen. But scientific evidence (real proof) shows it is not the phosphates, but the organic carbon content of sewage which removes the oxygen. As I understand it, Ohio recognized that evidence and improved sewage treatment, while it scrapped the phosphate ban. The process of eutrophication is reversed. Yet there are plans afoot for a federal law to ban phosphates all around the Great Lakes.

The group appears to have more faith in government than in individuals, and perhaps rightly so. It is the easiest way for a minority to exert its will on a careless majority. Thus it looks for help from FDA, HEW and our lawmakers.

Maybe I have more faith in my fellow man, mankind as a whole, and in the Omnipotent Creator of the universe. He let humanity survive the flood, the wars and epidemics. When Israel faced starvation in the desert, He gave them manna. When we faced darkness because whale oil became scarce, He gave us petroleum. Already, in our energy crisis, there is promise of clean fusion reactors giving unlimited power. And hope for making seawater drinkable.

In spite of all the prophets of doom, wise action based on proven facts will save our environment and United for Survival is a vital part of such action. We will not return to the world of yesteryear or lead the life of a caveman. We will go forward, slowly but surely, to a better tomorrow, under the guidance of our Creator.

Officials of the Michigan Baptist Convention plan a not-for-profit retirement center for the defunct Whitcomb Hotel in St. Joseph. They have contracts to purchase the building and the adjacent property of the St. Joseph Herald-Press. The Baptists' board of directors is expected to complete the purchase at its meeting Saturday in Lansing. Plans for the building, to be named Whitcomb Tower, are to provide complete eating, recreational, medical and lounging facilities for some 240 residents, they said. The extended medical care facility would be built on the site of the St. Joseph Herald-Press, which is located in the same block on the east side of the hotel. Residents will purchase a "life lease" and then pay monthly rents.

Carter Could Regret Choice

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Jimmy Carter may rue the day he decided to let the Justice Department continue its probe of alleged Korean influence-buying on Capitol Hill instead of turning the whole mess over to a special prosecutor.

The department is reportedly having difficulty coming up with the kind of hard evidence necessary to sustain indictments against present and former members of Congress who may have been on the take — and that could mean political trouble for Carter.

There are countless die-hard Nixon supporters just itching for an excuse to accuse the new Democratic team of partisan favoritism in the administration of justice.

Murmurs of "cover-up" are already creeping into newspaper columns and Republican conversations, and they are likely to mount if the Justice Department recommends anything milder than a public hanging for two-thirds of the Democrats in Congress.

There is absolutely no evidence that the Justice Department, which began its Korean probe while Republican Jerry Ford was President, has failed to pursue all available leads with vigor.

But Carter's fellow Georgia Democrat, Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell, gave critics a mile-wide opening when he said last month that he'd like to see the investigation wrapped up as expeditiously as possible. Such displays of impatience are not conducive to restoring public confidence.

And Ben Civiletti, the President's nominee to head the criminal division of the Justice Department, did little to assuage burgeoning suspicions last week when he refused — under repeated probing from Sen. Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo. — to give the Senate Judiciary Committee or the public any information about the progress of the probe.

For a President who owes his election in large measure to Watergate, Carter seems strangely insensitive to the bitter legacy of distrust that scandal created.

Of course it is cynical to assume that the Justice Department under a Democratic president would sweep under the rug serious allegations against predominantly Democratic members of Congress.

But suspicions that such a cover-up might occur are entirely predictable, given the experience of the past five years. Congress is held in very low esteem by the public, and few laymen understand how hard it is to build a bribery case that will stand up in court. If little comes of the Korean probe, it will be easier to assume that the fix was in than to accept the possibility that the Justice Department did its best and couldn't find sufficient evidence to warrant prosecutions.

It won't help them at the moment, but Carter and Bell may be able to avert further problems of this sort by throwing the administration's full support behind pending legislation to trigger the appointment of a special prosecutor in all federal criminal investigations involving top government officials.

A similar bill, the principal legislative response to the entire Watergate scandal, was approved by the Senate last year but died in the House Judiciary Committee in the waning days of the 94th Congress.

An independent special prosecutor might not be any more effective or honest than the attorney general and Justice Department in pursuing official corruption. But appearances count as much as the reality in this situation.

Robert Frost's Remark Right?

In August, 1962, the great American poet Robert Frost had his famous meeting with Soviet premier Nikita Khrushchev in the town of Sochi in the Crimea. This meeting resulted in a minor but extremely revealing scandal.

The old poet was sick but idealistic, and he had gone to the USSR at the personal request of President John Kennedy. Frost was supposed to promote "mutual understanding" — and he did, but not in the sense Kennedy expected.

When Frost's returning jet landed at the airport in New York, the poet confronted a horde of reporters. What had Khrushchev said? What had Frost said?

At that moment Frost made a statement that caused instant scandal. It outraged President Kennedy, who thereafter ceased all communication with the poet, not even thanking him for his trip to Russia as a "cultural ambassador."

The scandal was caused by the following statement by Frost to the assembled reporters: "Khrushchev said he feared for us modern liberals. He said we were to liberal to fight."

Wham! This was Kennedy's own laureate, the poet who had read the Inaugural Poem.

The authors of the new and final volume of Frost's biography, Lawrence Thompson and Roy Winnick, believe that Frost at the airport "put the word 'liberal' in Khrushchev's mouth." Frost, they say, fabricated the whole thing to "unburden his own obsession with liberals."

Really? Let us go back to Sochi, in the Crimea, and the meeting between those two powerful men.

As recorded by the translator present, and repeated in the Thompson-Winnick biography, Nikita Khrushchev in a rambling discourse:

"That the Soviet Union and all the Warsaw Pact nations were young countries, healthy, vital, full of energy. He said that they had made extraordinary strides forward. The United States and Western Europe... were thousands of years old, with a defunct economic system. This reminded him... of an anecdote reported in Gorky's memoirs of Tolstoy, where Tolstoy told about being too old and too weak and too infirm to do it, but still having his desire."

Probably the premier's briefers had fed him the literary anecdote about Gorky and Tolstoy, knowing that he would be talking to Frost. The important thing here, however, is that Khrushchev delivers to Frost a frank opinion that differs in no way from that of any other Soviet leader before or since.

Stalin might have put it more brutally, spoken of the "dust-bins of history." The current man, Leonid Brezhnev, would be more discreet. Nikita Khrushchev, because of his 1956 denunciation of Stalin, is supposed to be a "moderate." What he told Robert Frost, however, is completely consistent with orthodox Soviet doctrine.

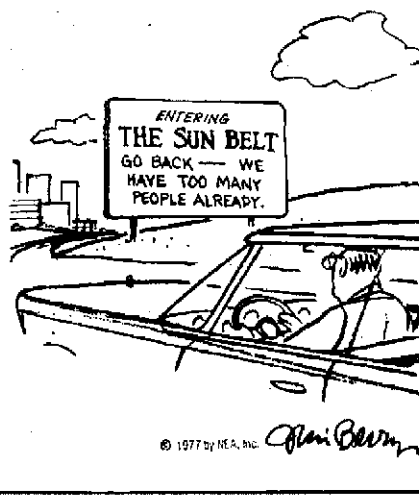

Switch back, now, to the New York airport, with Frost's jet arriving from Russia.

Frost had met Khrushchev. He had heard the premier, whom he liked personally, describe the West as irresponsible, in retreat, its economy in disarray and — the earthy Tolstoy anecdote — as impenetrable in the world arena.

When Frost stepped off his jet at the New York airport, he did not, I think falsely, substantiate the premier's remarks. He simply used his own terminology in summing them up.

Understandably, Kennedy was furious, having recently been defeated by Castro at the Bay of Pigs. Today, however, as thousands of Cuban troops and advisors undertake the re-colonization of central Africa, the ghost of Kennedy is somewhere telling the ghost of Robert Frost: "You were right."

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

Carter's Bidirectional Foreign Policy

Last November proved that Jimmy Carter is a great vote getter and the public opinion polls taken since he entered into the White House seven weeks ago reinforce that standing.

Lyndon B. Johnson started out in the same manner, only his opening pace more resembled a fast break down a basketball court than ball handling one's way through a sticky defense.

This is great for an officeholder and his party. There's nothing like having the home folks thinking they are doing a great job.

Vietnam persuaded LBJ not to seek re-election in 1968. The opinion polls were running so strongly against him on that issue that Johnson began to entertain doubts if he could obtain re-nomination, much less win an election.

Though Vietnam has to rate as a military defeat for Uncle Sam, the setback in the field of battle stemmed from a poor guess on foreign affairs which Johnson inherited from the Kennedy Administration.

This is the conviction that because ours is a democratic society all other nations should be so constructed and if they are not, it becomes America's moral obligation to export political freedom to them.

In one form or another, the conviction has been the springboard for U.S. foreign policy since the time of Woodrow Wilson.

Wilson spoke of the free determination of peoples.

A generation later Roosevelt inveighed against the suppression of the spirit.

Jimmy Carter calls it human rights.

He has indicated by a variety of signs that the U.S. will treat diffidently or possibly not at all with a country whose government keeps its domestic critics under lock and key.

While the ethical principle cannot be faulted, two conditions have to be met to make it effective.

It must be applied uniformly, not selectively.

Carter presently is saying one thing and practicing another.

Lifting the travel ban to Cuba is not conditioned upon Castro freeing his political prisoners nor recalling his troops from Angola and several other African countries.

Neither does Carter propose to reduce U.S. aid to the African countries, only a handful of which are ruled by a process remotely resembling political freedom of choice.

Secondly, we must possess the strength and the will to use it to put the noble words into action.

It is one thing to threaten a small Latin American country with a cut-off in foreign aid if its government does not put the First, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments into effect.

It is something else to criticize the Soviets for suppressing dissidents and then urge negotiations be speeded up to strengthen detente and the Strategic Arms Limitations Talks.

The Kremlin already has called Washington's bluff on that score.

The Soviets are not impressed by Carter's batting average in the latest Gallup poll.

They do have a pretty fair idea of what their military strength is and what ours amounts to.

They also hold a fair hunch the American public would not rush into another armed conflict to bring its conception of political freedom to other corners in the world.

By his own admission, Carter at this time does not have the feel for foreign affairs that he has on domestic problems.

Yet he must be enough of a realist to know that foreign affairs goes by the philosophy of when in Rome do as the Romans do.

Why, then, raise a hedgerow when talking to foreign powers whose strength is equivalent to ours?

The late Mayor Daley had a phrase for it.

Town Meetings Might Be Better For Biggies, Too

President Carter's trip to Clinton, Mass., tomorrow will bring him into contact with a forum of direct democracy in perhaps its purest extant form: the New England town meeting. Carter's recent phone-in was a sort of national town meeting of the air. Now he will get to see the real thing.

A Massachusetts law of 1692 provided that town meetings be held annually in March, and they usually take place in late winter or early spring in other New England states as well. There is disagreement as to their origins. Historian Edward Channing came to the conclusion that New England town meetings "grew by the exercise of English common sense, combined with the circumstances of the place."

Called to order by the town clerk, the typical town meeting proceeds to the election of a moderator and then to the business stated in the "warning," or call for the meeting. While some transactions may have been prearranged by informal caucus or special advisory of financial committees, the open debate is often spirited.

At times, town business is so extensive as to require adjourned sessions of the annual meeting as well as occasional special meetings. Although fixed within certain limits by state law, it includes a wide variety of subjects, including maintenance of schools, roads, bridges, waterworks, libraries, cemeteries and parks.

Only qualified voters are summoned by the warrant which calls the meeting and specifies its business. Inhabitants in general are admitted, however, and sometimes they participate in debate. For instance, exiled Soviet author Alexander Solzhenitsyn recently attended the annual meeting of Caledonia, Vt., the town near which he now lives, to apologize for the fence he erected around his 51-acre property.

Today, the town meeting flourishes mainly in the smaller communities of New England. Problems tend to be fewer and more manageable in a simple, rural setting where neighborliness is the norm rather than the exception.

The town meeting should not be dismissed as a quaint anachronism peculiar to a single section of the country. If nothing else, it endures as a symbol of participatory self-government at its best. The idea of a people taking care of their own needs rather than forever appealing for federal or state aid is especially appealing at a time when several large cities are on the brink of municipal bankruptcy.

Who's to say that New York, for example, might not prosper more under town hall rule than it has under "professional" managers.

POTENTIAL HARM CALLED UNPROVEN HARM

Editor,

The latest United for Survival newsletter reflects the devoted efforts of its members to protect humanity and the present environment. Their worthy efforts have had, and will continue to have beneficial effects in a real sense, both for their own satisfaction and for the common good.

It is also evident in the newsletter that their efforts often extend in support of unfounded fears and apprehensions. Therefore I'm glad they were not active in the days of Columbus, warning him he would fall off the edge of the earth. Or sided with Edison and condemned the potential hazard of useless electric power connections to private homes where people might be electrocuted.

The group opposes Project Seafarer "on the grounds of possible negative effects of electromagnetic radiation on human life".

It supports the action of the Food and Drug administration banning acrylonitrile plastic beverage containers, for the "FDA cited possible health hazards."

"Potential threats to human health and the environment posed by unregulated genetic research involving recombinant DNA" calls for "prompt protective agency (HEW) action".

Their position reflects not only serious concern, but also great fear of potential, but unproven harm. Thus their tenet might be: "Don't do a thing, unless you can prove it is safe." With that outlook I would be unable to live to face tomorrow. Nor would I dare to die tonight.

True, we have read of the tests that large doses of acrylonitrile harmed small rodents in the lab. But is that proof against plastic bottles? If it is, the person in Florida, who died from drinking too much water, should keep us from drinking water altogether.

Their support of anti-phosphate bills stems from the claim that it leads to eutrophication — the death of a body of water — by stealing the phosphates. But scientific evidence (real proof) shows it is not the phosphates, but the organic carbon content of sewage which removes the oxygen. As I understand it, Ohio recognized that evidence and improved sewage treatment, while it scrapped the phosphate ban. The process of eutrophication is reversed. Yet there are plans afoot for a federal law to ban phosphates all around the Great Lakes.

The group appears to have more faith in government than in individuals, and perhaps rightly so. It is the easiest way for a minority to exert its will on a careless majority. Thus it looks for help from FDA, HEW and our lawmakers.

Maybe I have more faith in my fellow man, mankind as a whole, and in the Omnipotent Creator of the universe. He let humanity survive the flood, the wars and epidemics. When Israel faced starvation in the desert, He gave them manna. When we faced darkness because whale oil became scarce, He gave us petroleum. Already, in our energy crisis, there is promise of clean fusion reactors giving unlimited power. And hope for making seawater drinkable.

In spite of all the prophets of doom, wise action based on proven facts will save our environment and United for Survival is a vital part of such action. We will not return to the world of yesteryear or lead the life of a cave man. We will go forward, slowly but surely, to a better tomorrow, under the guidance of our Creator.

Carter Could Regret Choice

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Jimmy Carter may rue the day he decided to let the Justice Department continue its probe of alleged Korean influence-buying on Capitol Hill instead of turning the whole mess over to a special prosecutor.

The department is reportedly having difficulty coming up with the kind of hard evidence necessary to sustain indictments against present and former members of Congress who may have been on the take — and that could mean political trouble for Carter.

There are countless die-hard Nixon supporters just itching for an excuse to accuse the new Democratic team of partisan favoritism in the administration of justice.

Murmurs of "cover-up" are already creeping into newspaper columns and Republican conversations, and they are likely to mount if the Justice Department recommends anything milder than a public hanging for two-thirds of the Democrats in Congress.

There is absolutely no evidence that the Justice Department, which began its Korean probe while Republican Jerry Ford was President, has failed to pursue all available leads with vigor.

But Carter's fellow Georgia Democrat, Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell, gave critics a mile-wide opening when he said last month that he'd like to see the investigation wrapped up as expeditiously as possible. Such displays of impatience are not conducive to restoring public confidence.

And Ben Civiletti, the President's nominee to head the criminal division of the Justice Department, did little to assuage burgeoning suspicions last week when he refused — under repeated probing from Sen. Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo. — to give the Senate Judiciary Committee or the public any information about the progress of the probe.

For a President who owes his election in large measure to Watergate, Carter seems strangely insensitive to the bitter legacy of distrust that scandal created.

Of course it is cynical to assume that the Justice Department under a Democratic president would sweep under the rug serious allegations against predominantly Democratic members of Congress.

But suspicions that such a cover-up might occur are entirely predictable, given the experience of the past five years. Congress is held in very low esteem by the public, and few laymen understand how hard it is to build a bribery case that will stand up in court. If little comes of the Korean probe, it will be easier to assume that the fix was in than to accept the possibility that the Justice Department did its best and couldn't find sufficient evidence to warrant prosecutions.

Broken Water Mains 'Emergency' For BH

SPECIALIST: Mrs. Gladys Peoples Burks, coordinator of compensatory programs for Benton Harbor Area schools, was awarded a specialist degree in educational administration March 12 at Michigan State university. She has bachelor's and master's degrees from Western Michigan university. Mrs. Burks is a former teacher and elementary principal in the Benton Harbor district.

Benton Harbor City Manager Melvin Farmer Jr. told city commissioners last night that broken water mains becoming evident because of warmer temperatures have created an "emergency situation" that is causing water shutoffs for many residents.

Farmer said there are

of shutoffs because of a manpower shortage. Broken water lines currently under repair, according to Farmer, are at Second and Park streets, Division and Superior streets, North Shore drive near the Paw Paw river bridge, Lavette street, High street, and two breaks on Wall street in complained about the city's new litter ordinance which allows ticketing of property owners and residents for littering garbage.

Malkin, who is Benton township treasurer, said he was ticketed by the city sanitation department because one of his tenants violated the litter ordinance by not putting her garbage in plastic bags and not putting it in the right location.

Malkin said the city sanitation department should have ticketed the tenant and not himself, the landlord. City Manager Farmer responded that the sanitation department is not always able to determine who is causing a garbage problem and said a property owner has a responsibility to maintain his property.

The commission also voted to advertise for bids to tear down substandard housing at 1127 Agard, 610 Riverside, 326 Paw Paw, 733 East High, 132 North Fair, 346 Summit, and 581 Clay streets.

Commissioner Norval Weiss, who said he has heard some complaints about the number of houses the city is tearing down, said the city is only demolishing houses that are uninhabitable, economically impossible to fix up, an eyesore to the neighborhood and dangerous for neighborhood children to play in. "No house has been torn down with occupants in it," Weiss said.

City Manager Says Line Breaks Not Considered Health Problem

currently seven breaks in main water lines throughout the city and water has been shut off to some of the residents served by the lines that are broken.

The breaks became apparent when warmer weather thawed frozen lines permitting water to seep out of cracks caused by severe winter temperatures. Repairs will also require shutoffs to residents while the breaks are being mended, Farmer said.

Farmer said this morning

water superintendent.

Farmer said he had no idea when repairs on the broken lines will be completed because as repairs are made new breaks occur in other areas of the water lines.

Farmer had no estimate on how many people will be affected by the broken lines or how much repairs will cost the city. He said water shutoffs range from several houses to several city blocks and said the city has been unable to notify residents front of the public library and in front of the fire department.

Farmer said private equipment has been contracted to help with repairs.

During cold winter weather this year, the city experienced problems with frozen water pipes and asked residents to keep cold water running to prevent further freeze-ups.

Gregory said water is standing in streets above water mains in several locations. He said the broken mains remained undetected until the thaw because water continued to run through them.

In other action last night, the city commission set a March 28 public hearing on the city's plans to designate all of the 41 acres of urban renewal land located in the old fruit market and Riverview drive area for light industrial use.

Although most of the vacant urban renewal land owned by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) is zoned for light industrial use, the city amended the land-use plan for the area calling for commercial and multi-family residential uses, according to Al Chase, economic development director.

The amendments, made in 1971 and 1975, had anticipated a shopping mall and a proposed multi-family housing complex on the urban renewal land, according to Chase.

After the public hearing, the request for the amendment to the land-use plan must go to HUD for final approval. The city is negotiating with HUD to purchase the land for development.

Ken Malkin, who said he owns a three-unit apartment at 864 Columbus avenue, appeared before the commission and

BH Stabbing Victim Dies

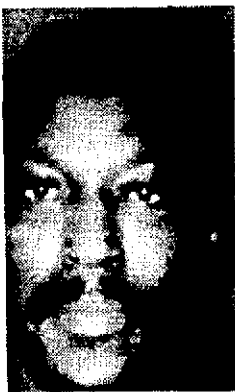

A 35-year-old Benton Harbor man was stabbed fatally Monday during a fight at his home, 600 Pearl street, Benton Harbor police said. Ernest Boggs was found lying face-down in his front yard by Patrolmen Galen Anderson and Kenneth Webster about 6:30 p.m. Boggs was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy hospital with a stab wound in the chest. Det. Sgt. Sam Watson said there were four people in the house at the time of the stabbing but none was arrested. Watson said police were to confer today with the Berrien county prosecutor to determine what charges will be authorized.

Two knives were seized as evidence during a search of the house, Watson said. A blood-stained kitchen knife was found on the front porch and a second knife, which was not blood-stained, was found inside the house, Watson said.

Watson said Boggs was reported angry when he came home Monday, but the cause of the anger was not known. A fight developed in the kitchen and was carried on through the house, Watson said. Watson said Boggs also was known as Ernest Griffin.

The death was the second homicide reported in Benton Harbor this year.

Salary Committee Mulled By Benton

Future salaries of all Benton township elected officials may be recommended by a compensation committee, under an ordinance expected to be considered and possibly adopted by the board of trustees tonight.

Supervisor Catheryn Sirk said the proposed ordinance calls for appointment of a five-member salary compensation committee, permitted for townships by state statute.

Citizens would continue to approve or reject salaries of elected officials at annual meetings, Mrs. Sirk said. The difference, she said, is that salary recommendations would be made by the township budget committee, comprised of elected officials and the controller.

Such a compensation committee would be similar to one adopted by the Benton Harbor city commission two years ago. Legal problems arose over the number of members named and disputes occurred over the amount of salaries recommended. No change resulted and all city commissioners still receive $8 per meeting.

In Benton township, a citizens' committee would classify and detail job descriptions of elected officials, Mrs. Sirk said. The elected officials are the supervisor, clerk, treasurer, four trustees and one constable.

Mrs. Sirk said the citizens' committee would meet on odd-numbered years, starting this year. It would recommend salaries for two years ahead, starting with fiscal 1978-79. The township fiscal year begins April 1.

Salaries of elected officials will be recommended by the budget committee for fiscal 1977-78. Mrs. Sirk said police negotiations and a reported proposed increase of 20 percent—from $12,500 to $15,000—for the supervisor and

Firemen Rescue 2 BH Boys

Benton Harbor firemen reported they rescued two boys from their burning home during a fire Monday that was caused by a bird's nest clogging a clothes dryer vent.

Firemen said they found the boys, ages 9 and 4, huddled under a blanket in the living room of the house at 547 North Winans street.

The boys were evacuated without injury, and the fire around the dryer was extinguished with chemicals. Firemen said the bird's nest in the vent was apparently of new construction built by sparrows.

The fire caused an estimated $2,500 damage at the home of Roxanne Willis. Firemen said she was not at home when the fire was reported at 9:05 a.m.

Attending the convention will be Al Weston and Doug Burleson, both of Bloomingdale; Brian Dible of South Haven; and Tom Rider of Hartford.

Interceptor Trial Could Take Months

An attorney representing one of the defendants in a suit in which St. Joseph and Lincoln townships seek $10.5 million for damage to the Hickory Creek sewer interceptor yesterday predicted a trial on the case could take four to five months.

Grand Rapids Atty. Clarke Nims made the forecast during a hearing before Berrien Circuit Judge Chester J. Byrns on a defense motion for a change of venue from Berrien county.

Byrns denied the motion, ruling that he believed eight impartial jurors for the civil trial could be found in Berrien. No date for the trial has been set. The case will be heard by six jurors and two alternates.

Byrns also noted that if Nims' prediction is right, the county may have to get a retired judge to hear the case to enable Berrien's four circuit judges to handle their normal workload.

The change of venue motion came from two of the defendants, Armco Steel Corp., of Ohio, which manufactured the pipe used for portions of the interceptor, and the original engineering firm of Ayers, Lewis, Norris & May of Ann Arbor. Nims represents Armco. The other defendant in the townships' suit is Yerington & Harris, Inc., of Benton Harbor, contractors for the project.

The suit claims negligence by the defendants resulted in damage to portions of the interceptor, including the partial collapse of 265 feet of pipe in St. Joseph township.

The interceptor connects sewer systems in the townships to the Twin Cities sewage treatment plant in St. Joseph and was completed in 1974 at a cost of $3.2 million. The townships initiated legal action in an attempt to recover repair costs for damaged portions of the interceptor.

Twin Cities Both Okay Bridge-Naming Contest

The city commissions of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph last night gave permission to Blossomtime, Inc., to conduct a contest to name the new bridges connecting the Twin Cities.

The permission came in the form of a resolution unanimously approved by each commission.

One name will be selected for both the Main street bascule bridge and the Morrison channel bridge because the State Highway department considers them a single bridge.

The St. Joseph commission also voted to give Blossomtime permission to use city streets for the annual Blossom parade Saturday, May 21, but that vote was less than unanimous. It was approved 4 to 1 with Commissioner Warren Gast casting the no vote.

Permission for the parade is required from both cities before the Department of State Highways and Transportation will allow the parade route to be closed to traffic. Benton Harbor commissioners previously approved the parade.

Questioned after the meeting, Gast said he voted against the parade because he feels Blossomtime should have to prove that St. Joseph residents want the parade held in the city.

"I don't ever remember Blossomtime asking city residents if they like it (the parade)," Gast said.

Car-Cycle Smashup Hurts Two

Two women sustained apparently minor injuries Monday afternoon when the car in which they were riding collided with a motorcycle, Benton township police said. The motorcycleist was not injured.

Treated and released at Mercy hospital were Nancy E. Howard, 45, of Sodus, and Martha Drumwald, 33, of 1661 Colfax avenue, Fairplain. Police said the motorcycle was driven by Milton O'Flynn, 28, of 181 Madeline avenue, Benton township. The accident occurred at M-139 and East Empire avenue. Police said Nancy Howard was ticketed for failure to yield right-of-way.

Pielemeier Will Seek 2nd Term

John Pielemeier said Monday he will seek re-election to a second four-year term on the St. Joseph board of education at the annual election June 13, but Mrs. Beverly R. Linn said she will not seek re-election.

Both were elected in 1973 and their terms are the only ones expiring this year.

District Business Manager Dennis Percy said nominating petitions for the two board posts are available at his office in Jefferson elementary school. Percy said between 20 and 45 signatures are required from district residents to nominate a person.

Percy said petitions must be filed at his office no later than 4 p.m. April 11.

Pielemeier, 51, currently is board treasurer. He said reasons for his candidacy include seeking financial responsibility within the local district and an endeavor to secure a fair share of state funds for the district. Pielemeier also stressed health education, saying "We are weak in terms of communicating consequences of the use of tobacco, alcohol and drugs."

Pielemeier and his wife, Mary, have six children, including three in the public school system. Pielemeier is an engineer for the Whirlpool laundry group. The family lives at 1107 St. Joseph drive. Mrs. Linn, wife of Dr. Frank Linn, did not comment other than to say she will not seek re-election.

pie, Leryn Sefent, and Joseph Hanley.

Last year, St. Joseph commissioners voted unanimously to approve the parade, but Gast made similar remarks.

The contest to name the bridge will be conducted during April and the winning name will be announced Friday, May 20, at a dedication ceremony on the new bridge, according to David Fister, a Blossomtime director.

Fister attended the St. Joseph commission meeting to explain the contest. William Starbuck, president of Blossomtime, appeared before the Benton Harbor commission.

The two men gave these details in their presentation: Blossomtime was asked by the state highways department to include the bridge dedication ceremonies as part of the annual Blossom festival. The department has also approved the bridge naming contest.

The contest rules have not been established yet, nor has a prize been selected, but these details will be announced soon.

A plaque with the winning name on it will be attached to the bridge tender's tower. The name will apply to the new bridge over the Morrison channel as well as to the new lift bridge even though they are separate structures. Fister said the state highways department considers the two structures as one bridge.

State Sen. Charles Zollar (R-Benton Harbor) has agreed to submit the winning name to the state legislature for adoption. Permission to hold the contest must still be obtained from the Berrien county board of commissioners.

The winning name will be chosen by a judging panel made up of the following people: Benton Harbor Mayor Joel Patterson and City Manager Melvin Farmer; St. Joseph Mayor Franklin Smith and City Manager G.W. Hepler; Nancy Clark, chairman of the Berrien county board of commissioners; John Crouse, president of the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce; and Starbuck.

In other areas at the St. Joseph commission meeting, Hepler said the city had spent $101,242 through February for snow and ice removal this winter. Last year, the city had spent $48,350 of the same date.

Broken Water Mains 'Emergency' For BH

SPECIALIST: Mrs. Gladys Peoples Burks, coordinator of compensatory programs for Benton Harbor Area schools, was awarded a specialist degree in educational administration March 12 at Michigan State university. She has bachelor's and master's degrees from Western Michigan university. Mrs. Burks is a former teacher and elementary principal in the Benton Harbor district.

Benton Harbor City Manager Melvin Farmer Jr. told city commissioners last night that broken water mains becoming evident because of warmer temperatures have created an "emergency situation" that is causing water shutoffs for many residents.

Farmer said there are

of shutoffs because of a manpower shortage.

Broken water lines currently under repair, according to Farmer, are at Second and Park streets, Division and Superior streets, North Shore drive near the Paw Paw river bridge, Lavette street, High street, and two breaks on Wall street in complained about the city's new litter ordinance which allows ticketing of property owners and residents for littering garbage.

Malkin, who is Benton township treasurer, said he was ticketed by the city sanitation department because one of his tenants violated the litter ordinance by not putting her garbage in plastic bags and not putting it in the right location.

Malkin said the city sanitation department should have ticketed the tenant and not himself, the landlord. City Manager Farmer responded that the sanitation department is not always able to determine who is causing a garbage problem and said a property owner has a responsibility to maintain his property.

The commission also voted to advertise for bids to tear down substandard housing at 1127 Agard, 610 Riverside, 320 Paw Paw, 733 East High, 132 North Fair, 346 Summit, and 581 Clay streets.

Commissioner Norval Weiss, who said he has heard some complaints about the number of houses the city is tearing down, said the city is only demolishing houses that are uninhabitable, economically impossible to fix up, an eyesore to the neighborhood and dangerous for neighborhood children to play in. "No house has been torn down with occupants in it," Weiss said.

Not Considered Health Problem

currently seven breaks in main water lines throughout the city and water has been shut off to some of the residents served by the lines that are broken.

The breaks became apparent when warmer weather thawed frozen lines permitting water to seep out of cracks caused by severe winter temperatures. Repairs will also require shutoffs to residents while the breaks are being mended, Farmer said.

Farmer said this morning

water superintendent.

Farmer said he had no idea when repairs on the broken lines will be completed because as repairs are made new breaks occur in other areas of the water lines.

Farmer had no estimate on how many people will be affected by the broken lines or how much repairs will cost the city. He said water shutoffs range from several houses to several city blocks and said the city has been unable to notify residents front of the public library and in front of the fire department.

Farmer said private equipment has been contracted to help with repairs.

During cold winter weather this year, the city experienced problems with frozen water pipes and asked residents to keep cold water running to prevent further freeze-ups.

Gregory said water is standing in streets above water mains in several locations. He said the broken mains remained undetected until the thaw because water continued to run through them.

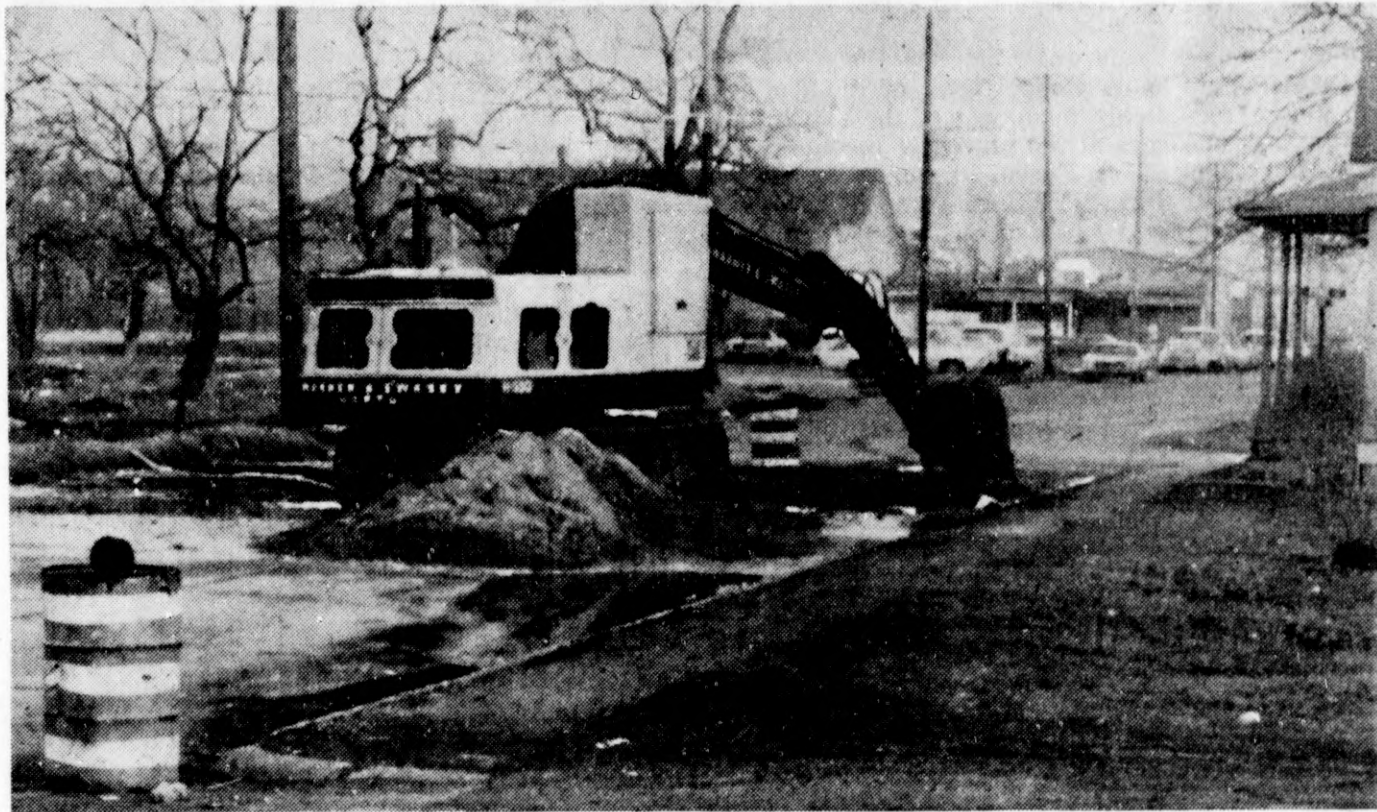

In other action last night, the city commission set a March 28 public hearing on the city's plans to designate all of the 41 acres of urban renewal land located in the old fruit market and Riverview drive area for light industrial use.

Although most of the vacant urban renewal land owned by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) is zoned for light industrial use, the city amended the land-use plan for the area calling for commercial and multi-family residential uses, according to Al Chase, economic development director.

The amendments, made in 1971 and 1975, had anticipated a shopping mall and a proposed multi-family housing complex on the urban renewal land, according to Chase.

After the public hearing, the request for the amendment to the land-use plan must go to HUD for final approval. The city is negotiating with HUD to purchase the land for development.

Ken Malkin, who said he owns a three-unit apartment at 664 Columbus avenue, appeared before the commission and

Salary Committee
Mulled By Benton

Future salaries of all Benton township elected officials may be recommended by a compensation committee, under an ordinance expected to be considered and possibly adopted by the board of trustees tonight.

Supervisor Cathryn Sirk said the proposed ordinance calls for appointment of a five-member salary compensation committee, permitted for townships by state statute.

Citizens would continue to approve or reject salaries of elected officials at annual meetings, Mrs. Sirk said. The difference, she said, is that salary recommendations would be made by the township budget committee, comprised of elected officials and the controller.

Such a compensation committee would be similar to one adopted by the Benton Harbor city commission two years ago. Legal problems arose over the number of members named and disputes occurred over the amount of salaries recommended. No change resulted and all city commissioners still receive $5 per meeting.

In Benton township, a citizens' committee would classify and detail job descriptions of elected officials, Mrs. Sirk said. The elected officials are the supervisor, clerk, treasurer, four trustees and one constable.

Mrs. Sirk said the citizens' committee would meet on odd-numbered years, starting this year. It would recommend salaries for two years ahead, starting with fiscal 1978-79. The township fiscal year begins April 1.

Salaries of elected officials will be recommended by the budget committee for fiscal 1977-78. Mrs. Sirk said police negotiations and a reported proposed increase of 20 percent—from $12,500 to $15,000—for the supervisor and clerk had no bearing on the proposed ordinance.

Mrs. Sirk said she was first elected to the board in 1974 as clerk and spearheaded efforts in 1975 for the salary ordinance. Mrs. Sirk said that odd-numbered year passed, without board action, and this would be the time to act.

Mrs. Sirk said citizens named to the committee cannot be employees of the township government, but must be township electors. Members would be nominated by the supervisor, but must be approved by a vote of the board of trustees. They would organize within 30 days after the ordinance is adopted and then have up to 45 more days to describe jobs involved and recommend salaries.

The township board meets tonight at 7:30 in the municipal building.

BH Stabbing
Victim Dies

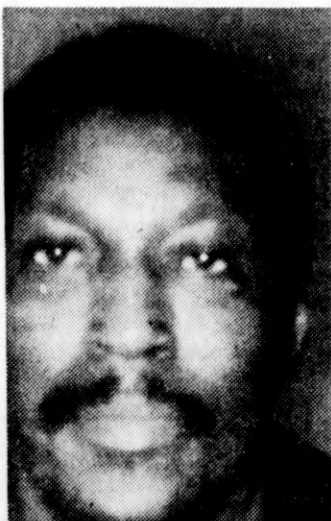

A 35-year-old Benton Harbor man was stabbed fatally Monday during a fight at his home, 600 Pearl street, Benton Harbor police said. Ernest Boggs was found lying face-down in his front yard by Patrolmen Galen Anderson and Kenneth Webster about 6:30 p.m. Boggs was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy hospital with a stab wound in the chest. Det. Sgt. Sam Watson said there were four people in the house at the time of the stabbing but none was arrested. Watson said police were to confer today with the Berrien county prosecutor to determine what charges will be authorized.

Two knives were seized as evidence during a search of the house, Watson said. A blood-stained kitchen knife was found on the front porch and a second knife, which was not blood-stained, was found inside the house, Watson said.

Watson said Boggs was reported angry when he came home Monday, but the cause of the anger was not known. A fight developed in the kitchen and was carried on through the house, Watson said. Watson said Boggs also was known as Ernest Griffin.

The death was the second homicide reported in Benton Harbor this year.

Twin Cities Both Okay
Bridge-Naming Contest

The city commissions of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph last night gave permission to Blossomtime, Inc., to conduct a contest to name the new bridges connecting the Twin Cities.

The permission came in the form of a resolution unanimously approved by each commission.

One name will be selected for both the Main street bascule bridge and the Morrison channel bridge because the State Highway department considers them a single bridge.

The St. Joseph commission also voted to give Blossomtime permission to use city streets for the annual Blossomtime parade Saturday, May 21, but that vote was less than unanimous. It was approved 4 to 1 with Commissioner Warren Gast casting the no vote.

Permission for the parade is required from both cities before the Department of State Highways and Transportation will allow the parade route to be closed to traffic. Benton Harbor commissioners previously approved the parade.

Questioned after the meeting, Gast said he voted against the parade because he feels Blossomtime should have to prove that St. Joseph residents want the parade held in the city.

"I don't ever remember Blossomtime asking city residents if they like it (the parade)," Gast said.

Voting in favor of the parade were Mayor Franklin Smith and Commissioners William Gilles-

Treated and released at Mercy hospital were Nancy E. Howard, 45, of Sodus, and Martha Drumwald, 33, of 1661 Colfax avenue, Fairplain. Police said the motorcycle was driven by Milton O'Flynn, 28, of 181 Madeline avenue, Benton township. The accident occurred at M-139 and East Empire avenue. He said the city-operated ice rink on Napier avenue was open for 44 days of skating this winter compared to 24 last year. It cost the city $16,100 to operate the rink and revenues of $3,761 were collected, he said.

The commission voted to "accept for study" a proposed new city-wide zoning ordinance the planning commission has prepared and recommended for adoption. Hepler said a public hearing on the ordinance would be scheduled after commissioners have studied the proposal.

The commission also voted to recommend that the name of the late Herbert M. Domke be removed from a liquor license held by his widow, Mrs. Maxine Domke. The license is for Maxine's Bar and Grill, 613 Pleasant street. The commission's recommendation goes to the state liquor licensing commission in Lansing for final approval.

Four To Attend FFA Meet

LAWRENCE — Four members of two Future Farmers of America (FFA) chapters at the Van Buren skills center will attend the 49th annual state FFA convention at Michigan State University March 23 through 25. Attending the convention will be Al Weston and Doug Burleson, both of Bloomfield; Brian Dible of South Haven; and Tom Rider of Hartford.

Grand Rapids Atty. Clarke Nims made the forecast during a hearing before Berrien Circuit Judge Chester J. Byrns on a defense motion for a change of venue from Berrien county.

Byrns denied the motion, ruling that he believed eight impartial jurors for the civil trial could be found in Berrien. No date for the trial has been set. The case will be heard by six jurors and two alternates.

Byrns also noted that if Nims' prediction is right, the county may have to get a retired judge to hear the case to enable Berrien's four circuit judges to handle their normal workload.

The change of venue motion came from two of the defendants, Armco Steel Corp., of Ohio, which manufactured the pipe used for portions of the interceptor, and the original engineering firm of Ayers, Lewis, Norris & May of Ann Arbor. Nims represents Armco. The other defendant in the townships' suit is Yerington & Harris, Inc., of Benton Harbor, contractors for the project.

The suit claims negligence by the defendants resulted in damage to portions of the interceptor, including the partial collapse of 265 feet of pipe in St. Joseph township.

The interceptor connects sewer systems in the townships to the Twin Cities sewage treatment plant in St. Joseph and was completed in 1974 at a cost of $3.2 million. The townships initiated legal action in an attempt to recover repair costs for damaged portions of the interceptor.

Wife beating is a serious problem that is kept well hidden. To bring it out into the open and to offer assistance to the battered victims, spouse abuse task forces are being formed.

The newly-formed Spouse Assault Task Force, organized by the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor YWCA, met March 11 at the YWCA to receive directional advice from representatives of similar agencies from throughout Michigan and South.

According to Sally Howard, local chairman, purpose of the task force is "to raise the consciousness of the community, to recognize the incidence of spouse assault and to aid battered spouses."

Guests from similar organizations attending and sharing ideas were, Sue Ashby, Every Woman's Place, Inc., Muskegon; Lynn Parks, YWCA, Grand Rapids; Rose Marie Hengensbach, Women's Center, South Bend YWCA; Carolyn Krill, director of Women's Crisis Center, Kalamazoo YWCA; Linda Hall, Open Door Crisis Center, Lansing; Mary Ellen Wasserberger, executive director, Pontiac YWCA, and Sue Wallendorf, National Organization for Women (NOW) domestic violence project, Ann Arbor.

The local Spouse Assault Task Force was formed last October.

According to the prosecutor's office, 110 cases of spouse assault were documented in the immediate twin cities area during a four-month period last year.

Spouse assault is defined as any assault and battery, felonious assault, or assault with intent to do bodily harm between persons in any couple relationship.

Task forces in other communities are composed of a sampling of representatives from different types of agencies, including medical, psychology, law enforcement, social service and women's councils.

Carolyn Krill, director of the Women's Crisis Center of the Kalamazoo YWCA, says spouse assault should be a crime in which the penalty increases with the number of offenses as it does in drunk driving offenses. The first time one is arrested for spouse assault, there should be one sentence, the next time a stiffer sentence, etc., she said.

The Women's Crisis Center, which was founded last June, has already served over 60 victims without receiving any publicity.

Krill says the prosecuting attorney is interested and concerned about laws dealing with cases involving spouse abuse and is interested in changing statutes regarding spouse assault so it becomes a separate crime — not simple assault.

Krill said the Kalamazoo program includes 24-hour telephone service, supportive counseling, information about community resources and legal rights; referral services for men and women, and 24-hour emergency shelter for women and children.

Linda Hall of the Open Door Crisis Center, Lansing, identified two major types of spouse assault — the sadistic situation in which the husband wishes to humiliate his wife, thus giving himself a "power trip," and the controlling situation, based on the husband wanting to maintain that he has control over his wife, that he "calls the shots."

Mary Ellen Wasserberger, executive director of the Pontiac YWCA, said that the YWCA and NOW worked together in Oakland county to form a spouse assault task force last fall. She said one of the goals there is to establish a more permanent shelter, although a shelter alone is not enough — "you must develop your support network."

Wasserberger said she hoped a state-wide network would develop out of Friday's meeting "so that we may function together more effectively and collectively."

Representatives attending hope for a state and eventually national coalition of spouse abuse task forces.

According to "A Guide to Wife Assault Resources," prepared by the Washtenaw County Domestic Violence Council, "Wife assault is considered to be the single most unreported crime in the country. . . . Some experts believe that half of all married women will be affected by spouse inflicted violence during their married lives."

'Gigi' Next For Players

Third Play Of Season

Jon Putzke, who has been active in area commercial and community theatre for several years, will direct the comedy, "Gigi," Twin City Players' third play of the season.

The original Broadway version will be presented Thursday through Saturday, March 24-26, and Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2, at 8 p.m. in the Blue Lecture Hall at Lake Michigan college.

There will be no reserved seats. Tickets may be purchased at the door, from cast members: at Van's Pharmacy and the Design Council, St. Joseph, and Gillespie's Drug stores, Riverview, Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

Putzke, owner and director of the Tin Tree Theatre in New Buffalo, has in the past directed "Plaza Suite" and "Mame" for Twin City Players. He also acted in "Lark" and "Oliver."

"Gigi" has a cast of seven. Michelle Farwell of Berrien Springs, in her first appearance with Twin City Players, will play the title role.

Gigi's love interest, Gaston Lachaille, will be played by Mark Penwell of St. Joseph, who last appeared in TCP's production of "Solid Gold Cadillac."

Rosemarie Roth of St. Joseph will play the part of the mother, Andree, and Courtney Johnson of Benton Harbor will play Gigi's grandmother, Madame Alvarez. Both have been active in numerous TCP productions.

Three newcomers to TCP plays are in the cast. They include Lee Ross Beltr of Michigan City, playing the aunt, Alicia; Richard Engbladh of St. Joseph, as Alicia's butler, Victor, and Stephanie Regan of Coloma, as the maid.

Everyone, including the cook, will go for this cool dessert combo that can be made so quickly.

Chill ripe avocados; halve, pit and brush with lemon juice. Fill hollows with a tangy sherbet mixed with chopped toasted walnuts for an interesting crunchy texture.

Orange, lime or pineapple sherbets are fine choices. Top off each serving with a walnut half or a large walnut piece.

Hormones Of The Past Rare Cancer Cause?

EAST LANSING — Today's physicians learn from the past when it comes to prescribing hormone treatment for pregnant women, said Dr. Arthur Kohrman, professor and associate chairman of Michigan State university's department of human development.

Dr. Kohrman, a pediatrician specializing in the effects of hormones upon developing organisms, believes that current treatment of pregnant women with synthetic analogs of the sex hormone "progesterone" may be potentially dangerous to the fetus when it matures.

Doctors today commonly prescribe progesterone for pregnant women having a history of miscarriages and premature deliveries in the hope that the drug will prolong pregnancy, Dr. Kohrman said.

In the late 1940s and 1950s, between 500,000 and two million women were treated with another hormone, DES (diethylstilbestrol), a synthetic estrogen, in attempts to reduce fetal loss.

"We now feel," Dr. Kohrman said, "that DES was not effective in preventing miscarriage, but that it is responsible for the appearance of a rare vaginal cancer and for other urogenital abnormalities in sons and daughters of mothers given DES during pregnancy."

There is no evidence, he added, that DES — now sometimes prescribed as a "morning after" birth control pill — causes any problems in women taking the drug for short periods or in any children born to women who took DES prior to pregnancy.

Though DES-related vaginal cancers are rare — less than 500 in the entire world have been reported — as many as 80 to 95 per cent of the women who were fetuses in the womb when their mothers took DES, do show changes in their vaginal tissues.

"These changes may or may not prove to be pre-cancerous," Dr. Kohrman said, "we will have to wait and see."

In his MSU research lab, Dr. Kohrman and his associates have studied the widely prescribed progesterone analog "17-hydroxy-progesterone caproate."

In mice, he reports, this drug can cause vaginal tissue changes that appear similar to DES induced changes.

He is now studying the mice as they age and mature to see if the early tissue changes he observed are actually a prelude to cancer.

"It's always dangerous to extrapolate from animal models to people," he cautioned, "and our results are not conclusive, but it would seem advisable for doctors to proceed cautiously with progesterone treatments of pregnant women — particularly in light of what we know about DES."

"The critical point to remember about hormones," Dr. Kohrman said, "is that these compounds are not poisons, but natural materials with potentially powerful effects on developing organisms, and these effects may not be seen for years or decades."

When large doses of a naturally occurring hormone are applied to a system as complex and rapidly changing as a human fetus, the effects are difficult to predict as we have seen with DES where the changes were not detected until the children passed 20 years of age, he said.

ATTENTION! Future Brides

Brides-to-be planning engagement announcements and wedding stories in this newspaper are asked to observe the following rules:

Engagement and wedding forms are available in the women's department at The Herald-Palladium offices in Benton Harbor or St. Joseph. The pertinent information should be typed or plainly printed in filling out these forms to prevent errors.

Wedding forms should be picked up at least two weeks and turned in one week before the wedding is to take place.

When wedding information is sent within two months of the engagement announcement date, only ONE picture will be run. The bride-to-be may have her choice.

Use proper names — not nicknames. In wedding information, use husband's names for married attendants.

Only pictures of the bride in her wedding dress will be used. Formal glossy black and white portraits are preferred.

Engagement and wedding pictures are usually available at this newspaper office after publication for a short time.

AID FOR BATTERED SPOUSES

Advise For Agency

Wife beating is a serious problem that is kept well hidden. To bring it out into the open and to offer assistance to the battered victims, spouse abuse task forces are being formed.

The newly-formed Spouse Assault Task Force, organized by the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor YWCA, met March 11 at the YWCA to receive directional advice from representatives of similar agencies from throughout Michigan and South

According to Sally Howard, local chairman, purpose of the task force is "to raise the consciousness of the community, to recognize the incidence of spouse assault and to aid battered spouses."

Guests from similar organizations attending and sharing ideas were, Sue Ashby, Every Woman's Place, Inc., Muskegon; Lynn Parks, YWCA, Grand Rapids; Rose Marie Hengensbach, Women's Center, South Bend YWCA; Carolyn Krill, director of Women's Crisis Center, Kalamazoo YWCA; Linda Hall, Open Door Crisis Center, Lansing; Mary Ellen Wasserburger, executive director, Pontiac YWCA, and Sue Wallendorf, National Organization for Women (NOW) domestic violence project, Ann Arbor.

The local Spouse Assault Task Force was formed last October.

According to the prosecutor's office, 110 cases of spouse assault were documented in the immediate twin cities area during a four-month period last year.

Spouse assault is defined as any assault and battery, felonious assault, or assault with intent to do bodily harm between persons in any couple relationship.

Task forces in other communities are composed of a sampling of representatives from different types of agencies, including medical, psychology, law enforcement, social service and women's councils.

Carolyn Krill, director of the Women's Crisis Center of the Kalamazoo YWCA, says spouse assault should be a crime in which the penalty increases with the number of offenses as it does in drunk driving offenses. The first time one is arrested for spouse assault, there should be one sentence, the next time a stiffer sentence, etc., she said.

The Women's Crisis Center, which was founded last June, has already served over 60 victims without receiving any publicity.

Krill says the prosecuting attorney is interested and concerned about laws dealing with cases involving spouse abuse and is interested in changing statutes regarding spouse assault so it becomes a separate crime — not simple assault.

Krill said the Kalamazoo program includes 24-hour telephone service, supportive counseling, information about community resources and legal rights; referral services for men and women, and 24-hour emergency shelter for women and children.

Linda Hall of the Open Door Crisis Center, Lansing, identified two major types of spouse assault — the sadistic situation in which the husband wishes to humiliate his wife, thus giving himself a "power trip," and the controlling situation, based on the husband wanting to maintain that he has control over his wife, that he "calls the shots."

Mary Ellen Wasserburger, executive director of the Pontiac YWCA, said that the YWCA and NOW worked together in Oakland county to form a spouse assault task force last fall. She said one of the goals there is to establish a more permanent shelter, although a shelter alone is not enough — "you must develop your support network."

Wasserburger said she hoped a state-wide network would develop out of Friday's meeting "so that we may function together more effectively and collectively."

Representatives attending hope for a state and eventually national coalition of spouse abuse task forces.

According to "A Guide to Wife Assault Resources," prepared by the Washtenaw County Domestic Violence Council, "Wife assault is considered to be the single most unreported crime in the country. . . . Some experts believe that half of all married women will be affected by spouse inflicted violence during their married lives."

'Gigi' Next For Players

Third Play Of Season

Jon Putzke, who has been active in area commercial and community theatre for several years, will direct the comedy, "Gigi," Twin City Players' third play of the season.

The original Broadway version will be presented Thursday through Saturday, March 24-26, and Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2, at 8 p.m. in the Blue Lecture Hall at Lake Michigan college.

There will be no reserved seats. Tickets may be purchased at the door; from cast members; at Van's Pharmacy and the Design Council, St. Joseph, and Gillespie's Drug stores, Riverview, Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

Putzke, owner and director of the Tin Tree Theatre in New Buffalo, has in the past directed "Plaza Suite" and "Mame" for Twin City Players. He also acted in "Lark" and "Oliver."

"Gigi" has a cast of seven.

Michelle Farwell of Berrien Springs, in her first appearance with Twin City Players, will play the title role.

Gigi's love interest, Gaston Lachaille, will be played by Mark Penwell of St. Joseph,

who last appeared in TCP's production of "Solid Gold Cadillac."

Rosemarie Roth of St. Joseph will play the part of the mother, Andree, and Courtney Johnson of Benton Harbor will play Gigi's grandmama, Madame Alvarez. Both have been active in numerous TCP productions.

Three newcomers to TCP plays are in the cast. They include Lee Ross Behr of Michigan City, playing the aunt, Alicia; Richard Engdahl of St. Joseph, as Alicia's butler, Victor, and Stephanie Regan of Coloma, as the maid.

Use Baskets For Chicken

Baskets are great for fried chicken suppers.

Shallow rectangular ones, lined with paper napkins, can hold the chicken plus French-fried potatoes or onion rings and a pick-up salad of radishes and stuffed celery. Round baskets can hold fresh fruit and cookies for dessert.

LWML Schedules Prayer Day Service

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Trinity Lutheran church, Berrien Springs, will be the host church for the annual Prayer Day service to be held Thursday, March 24.

The service will be sponsored by the St. Joseph Zone of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League. Theme for the day will be "Saints Arise! Share the Good News!"

Registration will be at 10 a.m. with a Communion service, conducted by the Rev. Daniel Streufert, zone pastoral counselor, at 10:30 a.m. A noon recess will be held from 11:30 to 12:30 p.m. and a topic discussion and group study will be held from 12:30 to 2 p.m.

There is no registration fee and an offering will be taken. Husbands are invited to attend and a free nursery will be available for preschool children.

All women of the St. Joseph zone are invited to bring their Bibles and sack lunches for the noon recess.

The St. Joseph Zone includes all Missouri Synod Lutheran churches in Berrien, Cass and Van Buren counties.

Classy Walnut Combo

Everyone, including the cook, will go for this cool dessert combo that can be made so quickly.

Chill ripe avocados; halve, pit and brush with lemon juice. Fill hollows with a tangy sherbet mixed with chopped toasted walnuts for an interesting crunchy texture.

Orange, lime or pineapple sherbets are fine choices. Top off each serving with a walnut half or a large walnut piece.

Hormones Of The Past Rare Cancer Cause?

EAST LANSING — Today's physicians might learn from the past when it comes to prescribing hormone treatment for pregnant women, said Dr. Arthur Kohrman, professor and associate chairman of Michigan State university's department of human development.

Dr. Kohrman, a pediatrician specializing in the effects of hormones upon developing organisms, believes that current treatment of pregnant women with synthetic analogs of the sex hormone "progesterone" may be potentially dangerous to the fetus when it matures.

Doctors today commonly prescribe progesterone for pregnant women having a history of miscarriages and premature deliveries in the hope that the drug will prolong pregnancy, Dr. Kohrman said.

In the late 1940s and 1950s, between 500,000 and two million women were treated with another hormone, DES (diethylstilbestrol), a synthetic estrogen, in attempts to reduce fetal loss.

"We now feel," Dr. Kohrman said, "that DES was not effective in preventing miscarriage, but that it is responsible for the appearance of a rare vaginal cancer and for other urogenital abnormalities in sons and daughters of mothers given DES during pregnancy."

There is no evidence, he added, that DES — now sometimes prescribed as a "morning after" birth control pill — causes any problems in women taking the drug for short periods or in any children born to women who took DES prior to pregnancy.

Though DES-related vaginal cancers are rare — less than 500 in the entire world have been reported — as many as 80 to 85 per cent of the women whose fetuses in the womb when their mothers took DES, do show changes in their vaginal tissues.

"These changes may or may not prove to be pre-cancerous," Dr. Kohrman said, "we will have to wait and see."

In his MSU research lab, Dr. Kohrman and his associates have studied the widely prescribed progesterone analog "17-hydroxy-progesterone caproate."

In mice, he reports, this drug can cause vaginal tissue changes that appear similar to DES induced changes.

He is now studying the mice as they age and mature to see if the early tissue changes he observed are actually a prelude to cancer.

"It's always dangerous to extrapolate from animal models to people," he cautioned, "and our results are not conclusive, but it would seem advisable for doctors to proceed cautiously with progesterone treatments of pregnant women — particularly in light of what we know about DES."

"The critical point to remember about hormones," Dr. Kohrman said, "is that these compounds are not poisons, but natural materials with potentially powerful effects on developing organisms, and these effects may not be seen for years or decades."

When large doses of a naturally occurring hormone are applied to a system as complex and rapidly changing as a human fetus, the effects are difficult to predict as we have seen with DES where the changes were not detected until the children passed 20 years of age, he said.

What To Do After Accidents

NEW YORK (AP) — One out of every five licensed drivers in the United States was involved in an auto accident in 1976, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

With the chance of involvement in an accident running so high, the Institute urges every driver to be aware of certain steps that should be taken following an accident. These include:

- Stop, identify yourself and summon aid for the injured, as required by the law.
- Write down the other driver's name, address and driver's license number.
- Obtain the names and addresses of all passengers involved in the accident and anyone who witnessed the mishap.

Tell the basic facts to the police officer who investigates the accident, but do not admit to fault under any circumstances. Make a note of the officer's name, badge number and jurisdiction.

Refuse to sign any liability waivers or assurances that you are uninjured since accident injuries are not always immediately evident. Even if you only suspect you are injured, you should consider seeing a doctor.

Take notes on the circumstances surrounding the accident, including time, place, weather and road conditions, any evidence of a law violation, approximate speed of both cars and other relevant details.

Make as accurate a diagram as possible of the scene of the accident, including the precise placement of cars and people.

Report the accident to your insurance representative promptly, since most policies require such notification within a specified period. In order to speed the claims settlement, include your policy number and all the details of the accident in your report.

In addition, every state requires that you report in writing to a specified state agency all accidents involving damage which exceeds a predetermined dollar amount. This amount and the time period allotted for filing the report vary from state to state. Police can give you the information for your state and provide you with the report form.

Aromatic Dinner Bell

As beef ribs roast in a slow oven to the desired degree of doneness, the house fills with the tantalizing beef aroma that forecasts the ultimate in dining enjoyment.

To facilitate carving, have the retailer loosen the back (chine) bone of the rib roast by sawing across the ribs, advises Reba Staggs, National Live Stock and Meat Board home economist.

Irish Soda Bread

Sift into a large bowl, two cups flour, three-fourths teaspoon baking soda, one-half teaspoon baking powder, three-fourths teaspoon salt and one tablespoon sugar.

Add six tablespoons shortening and cut into flour mixture until consistency of coarse corn meal. Mix in one tablespoon caraway seeds. Gradually add three-fourths cup buttermilk. Knead in bowl and shape into a ball.

Place in well greased eight-inch oven proof skillet or loaf pan. Cut a cross in the top, brush with milk and bake at 375 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes.

Try Madeira In Cooking

Many American cooks now use sherry in cooking, but are still unaware of the merits of adding a medium or dry Madeira to some dishes.

Hat Parade Features Variety

From Housewife To Household Name

By ELLIE GROSSMAN

NEW YORK — (NEA) — A few months ago, Princess Grace of Monaco sent a telegram to Hanae Mori (pronounced HAN-ey MORE-y) in Tokyo.

How'd you like to design the costumes for an Oscar Wilde ballet my Royal Ballet of Monte Carlo is going to do? That's roughly what she said.

And Madame Mori, as she's known, replied, love to.

The invitation isn't surprising. Madame Mori spent seven years designing costumes for the movies in Japan before she moved into women's couture and ready-to-wear on a grand scale, and licensing arrangements with Cole of California for swimwear, Shiseido for perfume, and a host of others who make sheets, men's ties, stationery and umbrellas.

The October, 1976, issue of Fortune magazine described her as "... probably (Japan's) only woman corporate president." She's certainly one of its leading designers and she's on her way to becoming a global force.

This year, Hanae Mori enterprises, which also include a network of boutiques in Hong Kong, in Japan, and one in New York, will gross perhaps $88 million dollars.

The Japanese lady who holds those kinds of reins has to be persistent, industrious and willful.

We had occasion to find out recently when Madame Mori was in Manhattan for the opening of her ready-to-wear boutique in a former art gallery on East 79th Street. (Her couture clothes are carried in 100 specialty stores throughout the country.)

The building itself is a study in chrome and air, correctness and good taste; the two selling floors are conspicuously uncltered. Everything in its place — the scarves, jewelry, ties, etc., on the first floor, and upstairs, the snail, colorful, often frilled and ruffled clothes Madame Mori is showing for resortwear.

That morning, there was a good deal of quiet scurrying back and forth to see when Madame Mori would be ready. The tall, slender, amiable designer is treated almost reverentially by her Japanese and American employees alike.

Finally, we sat down to coffee, which Madame poured, and began to chat, although her interpreter hadn't arrived yet.

"I have been designer for 25 years," she said, in labored but lucid English. "I wanted to be artist when young, but my father was very strict. There were many Communists in art school at that time, which he didn't like. He wanted me to be a doctor because my brother was doctor."

But she didn't want to, so she studied Japanese literature and history at a women's college.

"And after graduated, got married with husband." She considers what she just said and laughs. "I was very nice housewife for one month, but I did not like to be at home. I wanted to be working, so I ask my husband — he's Japanese, very strong but very nice — and we discussed it for one month. Then I went to designing school in Tokyo."

Husband Kenzo, a textile manufacturer then, set her up in business and, she says, "Now he is my boss. Two years after I started fashion designing, I had trouble with tax office because I cannot count money, so my husband help me."

Anyway, there she was with a staff of three in a small studio "downtown in what was our Greenwich Village."

"I worked very hard. I had big show window and I changed designs every day. One evening, Japanese men, very drunk, pass by and look up and see sexy mannequins in short skirt. Next day, they returned and one, from movie studio, asked me to design for the movies. So I was very pleased at that."

She had, after all, majored in Japanese history which accounted for most of the scenarios. "After six years, all the big stars came to me, also

as private customers."

At this point, the interpreter arrived, to Madame's delight. But you speak English so well, we said to her, why not continue? There followed a pleasant scuffle, with ample smiling all around. For Madame Mori is persistent, industrious and willful. She won't speak English unless she has to.

The final count was a draw, with Madame answering in English when pressed.

There came a time, she continued, when "movies changed. They became very sexy and they didn't need clothes any more. And also designers from Paris came to Japan. Japanese people liked Paris fashion very much, which was very bad for domestic designers. So I like to change my style."

Which wasn't exactly easy. The traditional Japanese kimono comes in only three sizes — small, medium and large — minus the buttons, snaps and zippers the West loves. "We just wrap and tie," Madame said. "So I had to study American bodies and western style clothes. It was very difficult, but now I can do everything."

Sometimes, she even cleans the house, for fun. "I always think of tomorrow and not yesterday," and housecleaning, the interpreter explained, "helps to clean up the past."

But most important to Madame, who sleeps only six hours a night and "works the rest of the time," is "to have the health of the spirit. When I don't have that," she says, "I will be finished."

Madame's spirit is in good shape.

From Housewife To Household Name

By ELLIE GROSSMAN
NEW YORK — (NEA) — A few months ago, Princess Grace of Monaco sent a telegram to Hanae Mori (pronounced HAN-ey MORE-y) in Tokyo.

How'd you like to design the costumes for an Oscar Wilde ballet my Royal Ballet of Monte Carlo is going to do? That's roughly what it said.

And Madame Mori, as she's known, replied, love to.

The invitation isn't surprising. Madame Mori spent seven years designing costumes for the movies in Japan before she moved into women's couture and ready-to-wear on a grand scale, and licensing arrangements with Cole of California for swimwear, Shiseido for perfume, and a host of others who make sheets, men's ties, stationery and umbrellas.

The October, 1976, issue of Fortune magazine described her as "... probably (Japan's) only woman corporate president." She's certainly one of its leading designers and she's on her way to becoming a global force.

This year, Hanae Mori enterprises, which also include a network of boutiques in Hong Kong, in Japan, and one in New York, will gross perhaps $88 million dollars.

The Japanese lady who holds those kinds of reins has to be persistent, industrious and willful.

We had occasion to find out recently when Madame Mori was in Manhattan for the opening of her ready-to-wear boutique in a former art gallery on East 9th Street. (Her couture clothes are carried in 100 specialty stores throughout the country.)

The building itself is a study in chrome and air, correctness and good taste; the two selling floors are conspicuously unclutemployees alike.

Finally, we sat down to coffee, which Madame poured, and began to chat, although her interpreter hadn't arrived yet.

"I have been designer for 25 years," she said, in labored but lucid English. "I wanted to be artist when young, but 'my father was very strict. There were many Communists in art school at that time, which he didn't like. He wanted me to be a doctor because my brother was doctor."

But she didn't want to, so she studied Japanese literature and history at a women's college.

"And after graduated, got married with husband." She considers what she just said and laughs. "I was very nice housewife for one month, but I did not like to be at home. I wanted to be working, so I ask my husband — he's Japanese, very strong but very nice — and we discussed it for one month. Then I went to designing school in Tokyo."

Husband Kenzo, a textile manufacturer then, set her up in business and, she says, "Now he is my boss. Two years after I started fashion designing, I had trouble with tax office because I cannot count money, so my husband help me."

Anyway, there she was with a staff of three in a small studio "downtown in what was our Greenwich Village."

"I worked very hard. I had big show window and I changed designs every day. One evening, Japanese men, very drunk, pass by and look up and see sexy mannequins in short skirt. Next day, they returned and one, from movie studio, asked me to design for the movies. So I was very pleased at that."

She had, after all, majored in Japanese history which accounted for most of the scenarios. "After six years, all the big stars came to me, also

HANA MORI: "I was very nice housewife for one month, but I did not like to be at home. I wanted to be working..."

persistent, industrious and willful. She won't speak English unless she has to.

The final count was a draw, with Madame answering in English when pressed.

There came a time, she continued, when "movies changed. They became very sexy and they didn't need clothes any more. And also designers from Paris came to Japan. Japanese people liked Paris fashion very much, which was very bad for domestic designers. So I like to change my style."

Which wasn't exactly easy. The traditional Japanese kimono comes in only three sizes — small, medium and large — minus the buttons, snaps and zippers the West loves. "We just wrap and tie," Madame said. "So I had to study American bodies and western style clothes. It was very difficult, but now I can do everything."

Sometimes, she even cleans the house, for fun. "I always think of tomorrow and not yesterday," and housecleaning, the interpreter explained, "helps to clean up the past."

Madame's spirit is in good shape.

PLASTIC CLIPS

If metal hair clips rust and depress you, try some made of plastic. They won't rust and you'll feel better.

Aromatic Dinner Bell

As beef ribs roast in a slow oven to the desired degree of doneness, the house fills with the tantalizing beef aroma that forecasts the ultimate in dining enjoyment.

To facilitate carving, have the retailer loosen the back (chine) bone of the rib roast by sawing across the ribs, advises Reba Staggs, National Live Stock and Meat Board home economist.

In addition, every state requires that you report in writing to a specified state agency all accidents involving damage which exceeds a predetermined dollar amount. This amount and the time period allotted for filing the report vary from state to state. Police can give you the information for your state and provide you with the report form.

Irish Soda Bread

Sift into a large bowl, two cups flour, three-fourths teaspoon baking soda, one-half teaspoon baking powder, three-fourths teaspoon salt and one tablespoon sugar.

Add six tablespoons shortening and cut into flour mixture until consistency of coarse corn meal. Mix in one tablespoon caraway seeds. Gradually add three-fourths cup buttermilk. Knead in bowl and shape into a ball.

Place in well greased eight-inch oven proof skillet or loaf pan. Cut a cross in the top, brush with milk and bake at 375 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes.

Try Madeira In Cooking

Many American cooks now use sherry in cooking, but are still unaware of the merits of adding a medium or dry Madeira to some dishes.

You may want to experiment.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Agony Can Be Prevented

Dear Ann: I am writing this letter in an attempt to alert parents and hopefully spare their children years of struggle, agony and heartbreak. I just heard a report about the low percentage of children who have had vaccinations to protect them against polio.

I was a victim of polio in the early '50s before the vaccine was developed. I had to undergo two operations and years of special exercises to overcome a terrible complex. With the help of doctors, parents and friends, I mastered most difficulties and now live a normal life.

What happened to me was something nobody could help or prevent. But what would you say if someday your crippled child asked you, "Why didn't you protect me? Why didn't you get me the vaccination?"

Many parents are unaware of the danger because, thank God, there hasn't been a polio epidemic in a long time. It could happen again. — Hope Somebody Listens

Dear Hope: So do I. In the meantime, oral polio vaccines are available free of charge to any school-age child in Chicago and Cook County. Parents who are interested should call the Board of Health. They will be referred to the nearest clinic.

Parents in other cities should phone their own City or County Health Departments for information as to what is available in their area.

And while we're on the subject, hear this from Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph A. Califano, Jr.: "Sixteen million children under 14 years of age have not been vaccinated against polio. Of course these programs are expensive, but I will find the money to fund them."

Current recommendations for vaccinating children are as follows: Polio: Three shots at two, four and 18 months of age. At five years — a booster.

Diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus: Protection from all three diseases can be obtained in one shot. This shot should be given in four doses — the first at two months of age, again at four months, again at six months and finally at 18 months.

Measles: One shot at 15 months of age, unless an epidemic occurs, in which case the parents should consult a doctor about earlier vaccination.

Rubella or German measles: One shot at one year of age. (This may be changed soon and given along with measles shot.)

Mumps: One shot at one year of age. (May also be changed and combined with measles-plus a 10 spot and his correct opening bid is clearly one diamond. His choice after South responds one spade lies between one no-trump and two spades and two spades is the better call.

While South may have only four spades, he is just about as likely to have a five-card suit. A final spade contract is likely to be superior. Finally, if South does have just four spades he may try some other second bid and the partnership can still get to no-trump.

And then for the proof of the pudding, South does have just four spades, but they are enough for game to wheel in.

Ask the Jacobys

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Today's hand is an object lesson for those people who feel that having to play a game contract with four trumps opposite three is a fate worse than death.

Playing at four spades, South makes the key play at trick three. South discards a low diamond on the third heart instead of ruffing. After this, he makes the rest of the tricks with no trouble at all.

He has 10 top tricks in no-trump, but the opponents will almost surely take five heart tricks before he can gain the lead.

Now let's look at the bidding. North has 14 high-card points,

A Florida reader wants to know how you show one ace and a void suit, when responding to a Blackwood four no-trump.

This is one of those gray areas where everybody has an opinion and no one really knows what to do.

The Jacobys will bid six diamonds to show this provided we feel that our void is in a suit that we think our partner is worried about and we like our hand in general. Otherwise we just bid five diamonds.

We will discuss Blackwood complications in the articles starting Monday, March 21.

The film, "Alexander and the Car With the Missing Headlight," stores and activities will be featured during the preschool story hour Wednesday, March 16, at 10 a.m. in the Benton Harbor public library.

Friday afternoon films for children will not be shown March 18 due to preparation for the 30th annual American Association of University Women Art Exhibition.

New picture books added to the junior room collection include "Alfred Goes Flying" by Bill Binzen; "World, World, What Can I Do?" Barbara Hazen; "Count the Cats," Erika Wehrs; and "Apples to Zippers: An Alphabet Book," Patricia Ruben.

Guitar Concert Friday

EDWARDSBURG — Run Hudson, classical and popular guitarist, will present a concert Friday, March 18, at 8 p.m. in Edwardsburg junior high school auditorium.

Tickets for the concert, a segment of Southwestern Michigan college's series of 1976-77 special activities, are $2 for general admission and $1 for students and senior citizens.

Hudson, in 1970, was the first guitarist to receive a grant from the Institute of Hispanic Culture to study guitar in Spain. His repertoire ranges from classical to native Guatemalan music, including some of his own compositions.

Japanese Collection

TOKYO (AP) — A collection of Japanese No robes and masks rarely displayed even in museums will be shown for the first time in the United States from April to September 1977.

The 145 objects will be displayed at the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C., Japan House Gallery, New York, and the Kimbell Art Museum, Fort Worth, Tex.

"The Tokugawa Collection: No Robes and Masks" is part of the collection of the Tokugawa Museum, opened in 1935 by the 19th lord of Owari, Yochichika Tokugawa, a direct descendant of the first shogun, Ieyasu Tokugawa. The museum houses the largest private collection of Japanese art in the world.

Dr. Lester Coleman

My mother died after a long, complicated illness. The doctors and the nurses at the hospital could not possibly have been any kinder while she was there.

One of the doctors, who was particularly devoted to my mother, asked permission for an autopsy. We granted it. Now, after one month, we have not gotten any report. Worse than that, there is underlying anger between some members of the family because we gave permission. — Miss L.N., Mont.

Dear Miss N.: Permission for an autopsy, especially in a case that is not completely clear, may shed light and bring valuable information for the prevention of disease in the rest of the family.

Many of the autopsy findings have brought medicine to its present peak of increasing the life span to almost 75 years. There is, even at this time of sorrow, satisfaction in the knowledge that somewhere, some place, another human being may be spared or benefited by your important decision. With your permission you helped contribute to medical advances.

You can be sure that the report will be made available to your doctor as soon as it is ready. The microscopic work in chemical analysis is enormous. Be patient.

In order to prevent any expansion of anger or hostility within the family, those with opposing views should openly discuss the matter with your doctor or with your religious advisor.

You will be amazed to know that only in rare instances is permission to perform an autopsy contrary to the dictates of most religions.

Are there any special diseases that should keep passengers from flying? — Mr. A.M., Calif.

Dear Mr. M.: Chronic lung conditions, such as active tuberculosis and severe emphysema, or marked anemia, pregnancy past the eighth month, acute infection of the sinuses, a severe cold and infection of the ears and some heart conditions may make flying inadvisable.

Yet there is no single rule that can apply to everyone. Flying in commercial planes these days gives security that there will be no changes in the pressurization of the cabin. Consequently, many doctors are more lenient with permission than they would be if their patient were flying in a non-pressurized private plane.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Friends will be able to help you in ways today, but I wouldn't count on them if you're trying to make money in a business matter.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You function best today when you're working on joint ventures. You're motivated by sharing your ideas and feelings.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Make it a point to compliment those who are deserving today. Showing others that you care can bring unexplained benefits.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Being realistic can reward you handsomely today. Don't expect more than you're entitled to, nor give more than you have to.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Those you're fond of and who reciprocate in kind will be lucky for you today. They're the type you should associate with.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You enjoy your work today because you realize you can advance by doing a better job. This gives you added incentive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Use your deft diplomatic touch today if it's necessary to manage the affairs of others. You can do it without being offensive.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're very imaginative today in finding ways to save money for household needs or for improving living conditions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your insight regarding the outcome of events today is reasonably accurate, but do leave some margin for error.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Materially this could be a red-letter day if you exploit your opportunities. There's a possibility you won't make the best of your assets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you handle others positively today it's likely you can get what you want. Use sincerity, not a snow job.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do what has to be done today quietly. If need be, pull the strings from the background.

plus a 10 spot and his correct opening bid is clearly one diamond. His choice after South responds one spade lies between one notrump and two spades and two spades is the better call.

While South may have only four spades, he is just about as likely to have a five-card suit. A final spade contract is likely to be superior. Finally, if South does have just four spades he may try some other second bid and the partnership can still get to notrump.

And then for the proof of the pudding, South does have just four spades, but they are enough for game to wheel in.

Ask the Jacobys

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Today's hand is an object lesson for those people who feel that having to play a game contract with four trumps opposite three is a fate worse than death.

Playing at four spades, South makes the key play at trick three. South discards a low diamond on the third heart instead of ruffing. After this, he makes the rest of the tricks with no trouble at all.

He has 10 top tricks in no-trump, but the opponents will almost surely take five heart tricks before he can gain the lead.

Now let's look at the bidding. North has 14 high-card points,

A Florida reader wants to know how you show one ace and a void suit, when responding to a Blackwood four notrump.

This is one of those gray areas where everybody has an opinion and no one really knows what to do.

The Jacobys will bid six diamonds to show this provided we feel that our void is in a suit that we think our partner is worried about and we like our hand in general. Otherwise we just bid five diamonds.

We will discuss Blackwood complications in the articles starting Monday, March 21.

Nurses' Trial To Continue Despite 'Confession' Note

DETROIT (AP) — The trial of two Filipino nurses accused of murdering patients at a Veterans Administration hospital will continue despite reports that another woman — now dead — confessed to the slayings.

Arbor veterans hospital during the summer of 1975. But a report by the Detroit Free Press indicated a former VA hospital nursing supervisor, Betty Jakim, left a suicide note pleading the innocence of the two nurses. "One of the alternatives open to us is to ask for dismissal," defense attorney Thomas O'Brien said Monday. Both sides said jury selection would continue today as scheduled. The defense and prosecuting attorneys planned to meet with U.S. District Court Judge Phillip Pratt prior to today's court session to discuss the new disclosure.

A decision to ask for dismissal "has to do with whether the government withheld information from us," O'Brien said. O'Brien said the defense had subpoenaed an FBI information concerning Mrs. Jakim. He said if the government had withheld information to which the defense felt it was entitled, the defense would probably ask that charges be dropped.

months after she was discharged from a mental hospital. A psychiatrist who interviewed her last August said Mrs. Jakim made statements that amounted to a confession to the patient deaths, the newspaper said. Doctors said they did not report the statements to authorities because they thought the confessions were caused by her mental condition. Van Dam said FBI agents were sent Monday to Sebring, Fla., to interview Mrs. Jakim's husband, Emil. The defense also has subpoenaed Mrs. Jakim's medical records, O'Brien said, and will review that material as well. He said the defense would not seek a delay in court proceedings to study the new material. Jury selection entered its third week today, and O'Brien estimated it might take "another week or so" before it was completed. The trial itself is expected to last at least four months.

PROTESTING SHUTOFFS: Mrs. Angeline Perry, director of McComb County Welfare Rights organization, led about 50-100 marchers in front of State Capitol in protest Monday of utilities that turn off services to customers who don't pay their bills. Mrs. Perry's group was joined by others from the Detroit area, Flint, Saginaw and Lansing. They asked that utilities not turn off services for non-payment until after June 1. (AP Wirephoto)

Utility Shutoffs Spark Reminder From PSC Chief

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's three largest utilities have a responsibility to tell customers how they can pay off big gas and electric bills and avert shutoffs, the state told the firms Monday.

Daniel Demlow, chairman of the Public Service Commission, sent a letter to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison Co., emphasizing the new "consumer bill of rights."

He said the cold winter has prompted numerous pleas to the state to aid customers who risk shutoffs of service because they can't pay a utility bill.

The "bill of rights," Demlow reminded the companies, prohibits the cutoff of service if it might worsen a medical emergency in the household.

And, he said, a utility is required to offer customers a way to settle bills if they complain they can't pay them in full. And the settlement "must be reasonable in every respect."

The "outpouring of anger and frustration" from consumers, Demlow said, indicates that many do not know about settlement procedures under the "bill of rights."

The best source of information for consumers, Demlow said, is the utilities themselves. "I have every expectation that your company will in the future use every means possible to make sure that your customers are fully aware of the existence and the manner of operation of the provisions of the Consumer Standards and Billing Practices (the "bill of rights") relating to settlement agreements and medical emergency certificates," he said.

Demlow told the utilities he expects them to implement the "bill of rights" "in a fair and reasonable fashion." And he said they must monitor the performance of their employees who deal with customers to insure they are giving out the right information.

"The utility customers in this state are not going to be denied the rights contained within the Consumer Standards and Billing Practices because of lack of information or misinformation," Demlow said.

Rita Hayworth Ruled Alcoholic

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — After hearing evidence that actress Rita Hayworth is an alcoholic who is physically and mentally ill, a court has named a temporary conservator to handle her estate.

A petition for the action was filed by the county counsel's office. It included a statement by Dr. James Miner of Hoag Memorial Hospital, who said that Miss Hayworth is "gravely disabled as a result of mental disorder or impairment by chronic alcoholism."

Carter Not Pushing States To Decriminalize Marijuana

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration wants to abolish federal penalties for possession of small amounts of marijuana, but it says states should decide for themselves whether to decriminalize their marijuana laws.

Dr. Peter G. Bourne, Carter's choice to direct the Office of Drug Abuse Policy, said Monday the administration "will continue to discourage marijuana use, but we feel criminal penalties that brand otherwise law-abiding people for life are neither an effective nor an appropriate deterrent."

Bourne testified Monday before the House Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control, which continued hearings today on the issue.

The administration feels the federal government "should not seek in any way to influence" states' decisions on decriminalizing laws against possessing small amounts of marijuana, he said.

The existing federal law on simple possession is now "rarely enforced" and should be dropped along the lines suggested in the bill recently submitted to the Congress, he said.

Los Angeles Police Chief Edward Davis attacked the administration's stand, arguing that no one "from the President down through the lowest bureaucrat should in any way attempt to act as a huckster for the decriminalization of marijuana."

The outspoken police chief called arguments in favor of decriminalization "poppycock," "claptrap" and "hypocrisy." Present federal law provides a fine of up to $15,000 and a maximum of five years' imprisonment for possession of marijuana by first offenders, with double that for second offenders.

Double Telephone Listings Are Free

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Husbands and wives can have their first names listed together in the Michigan Bell telephone directory without any extra charge, as long as they make their decision before May 31, the state Public Service Commission said Monday.

The PSC unanimously ordered Bell to temporarily suspend a $5 service charge that it had been applying to those who wanted their names listed on the same line in the directory. Bell has been taking orders for the new type of listing since Feb. 1.

But Monday, the PSC said that those persons who have already been charged for the service should get refunds, and those who apply for it before May 31 should get it free.

Nurses' Trial To Continue Despite 'Confession' Note

DETROIT (AP) — The trial of two Filipino nurses accused of murdering patients at a Veterans Administration hospital will continue despite reports that another woman — now dead — confessed to the slayings. Filipina Narciso, 30, and Leonora Perez, 32, have been charged with two counts of murder and seven counts of poisoning patients at the Ann Arbor veterans hospital during the summer of 1975.

But a report by the Detroit Free Press indicated a former VA hospital nursing supervisor, Betty Jakim, left a suicide note pleading the innocence of the two nurses. "One of the alternatives open to us is to ask for dismissal," defense attorney Thomas O'Brien said Monday. Both

He said if the government had withheld information to which the defense felt it was entitled, the defense would probably ask that charges be dropped.

Judge Pratt has already rebuked the government for withholding earlier evidence from the defense. Pratt ordered the prosecution to turn over all its information to the defendants.

U.S. Atty. Philip Van Dam said the prosecution was aware of Mrs. Jakim's possible link to the case. "She was, as were others, under suspicion" at one time, Van Dam said. But the investigation into Mrs. Jakim and the breathing failures believed responsible for the deaths "didn't suggest anything criminal," Van Dam said.

Georgia Ballot Is Crowded

ATLANTA (AP) — A dozen candidates crowded the ballot today in Georgia's 5th Congressional District, scrambling for the fragments of a coalition of blacks and whites that four months ago gave a 67 per cent landslide to Andrew Young, the first black congressman in the Deep South since Reconstruction. Young's resignation to become ambassador to the United Nations left the Atlanta-area district without an obvious successor. It appeared certain no candidate would win a majority in the special non-partisan election and that there will be a two-man runoff election on April 5.

Diet Sweetener Sale Hot

NEW YORK (AP) — Artificial sweeteners and low-calorie soft drinks are vanishing from grocery store shelves as diet-conscious shoppers stock up in the face of a government warning that saccharin may cause cancer. "No one's asking questions. They are just buying," said Jerome Webb, the manager of a grocery store in Cambridge, Mass. He reported sales of diet sodas were about one-third higher than normal. In New York, Seattle and Atlanta, supermarkets reported heavy runs on artificial sweeteners and higher than normal sales of diet sodas. The Food and Drug Administration last week announced plans to prohibit the general sale of saccharin after tests indicated large doses of the sweetener caused cancer in rats.

Highway 'Spying' Protested

WEST DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — An angry dentist has accused Iowa highway officials of invading the privacy of motorists by spying on them through one-way mirrors at rest stops along Interstate highways. The state Department of Transportation admitted Monday that secret surveillance booths have been used at the state's 40 rest stops since 1968. The department said the booths were used only in an effort to curtail vandalism outside the rest stop buildings. Dr. William Harris said he was enraged recently when he stopped at a rest area near Mitchellville, east of Des Moines, to check a map and noticed the mirror. "I knew it was a one way mirror because I've had training with psychiatric patients," said Harris. "I was very unhappy about the whole thing."

Teamster Probe Aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wary Secretary of Labor Ray Marshall says he will tell a House subcommittee behind closed doors what's going on in the government's probe of a scandal-ridden Teamster pension fund. At public hearings Monday panel members bristled at their inability to get an open accounting of the 18-month investigation of alleged ties with organized crime and questionable loan practices by the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Pension Fund. An aide to Marshall said the secretary didn't want to testify in open hearings because of the probe and possible future court action.

Voting Equality Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man named to become South Africa's new foreign minister says he favors the end of "discrimination based solely on color," but rules out equal voting rights for nonwhites. R. F. Botha, now his nation's ambassador to the United States, says if the rest of the world expects "a one-man-one-vote system" in South Africa "the answer is no." In an exclusive interview Monday before his return home to succeed Hilgard Muller as foreign minister, Botha said South Africa can comply with the "principle of majority rule," but then, of course, our concept of majority rule is that a majority of voters determines who should govern," Botha said.

Water Crisis Discussed

MAR DEL PLATA, Argentina (AP) — The first global conference on the world's water resources has brought 1,000 delegates from 100 countries to this seaside resort to seek answers to the threats of water shortage and pollution challenging rich and poor nations. One theme emerged from the opening session Monday of the United Nations Water Conference: Water can no longer be taken for granted. "The so-called crisis of water is a cause for worldwide anxiety," President Jorge Videla of Argentina told the delegates. "Snarling birth rates, requirements of industries, demands from urban centers, the often irrational use of available water supplies and the pollution of these resources are precipitating the crisis." Meeting until March 25, the delegates will discuss how more water can be made available to two-thirds of the world's people who have limited access to it and often find it polluted when they get it.

'Devil Woman' Godsend In Helping Solve Crime

By PAUL CARPENTER
Associated Press Writer
WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP) —

To some people living in the fundamentalist religious atmosphere in this corner of Pennsylvania, Dorothy Allison is the devil woman.

To others, she is a godsend — the woman who has the power to find missing loved ones and to solve murders.

Ms. Allison, 32, of Nutley, N.J., came to Waynesboro Jan. 22 at the request of the parents of 16-year-old Deborah Sue Kline, who had been missing for six months.

Four days later, Richard Lee Dodson led police to Miss Kline's body in a trash dump — just where the psychic had said it would be.

Dodson and Ronald Henninger have been charged with kidnapping, raping and murdering Miss Kline.

"I was so ... skeptical you wouldn't believe it," said Robert Cox, a Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter at the Waynesboro Record Herald. "It didn't take too long for her to change that. There's just no way she could've known some of those things."

Another reporter, Marie Lamer of the Chambersburg

Public Opinion, said, "We have some ministers who think she's the work of the devil, but others thought she was the answer to their prayers."

Ms. Allison said Randolph Hearst first sought her help after his daughter Patricia was kidnapped and on the run with other fugitives, possibly hiding out in Pennsylvania. But it was months later, while she was in the state on another case in July 1974, that Ms. Allison contacted state police and the FBI.

"I told them Patty Hearst is here in Pennsylvania," she said months before the Hearst hideout was found near Scranton.

Local police would only say that Ms. Allison may have provided "psychological help" in solving the Kline murder.

But Cox and others point to these developments — all prior to Dodson's actions and none denied by the police.

—Ms. Allison had said the girl's body was in a trash dump. It was.

—She had an image of a swimming pool. Miss Kline's body was next to a discarded plastic children's pool.

—She referred to a burned house and to the color yellow. The body was found along the road to Burnt Cabins, Pa. Near the spot are several unusually large yellow traffic warning signs.

—She mentioned a "line or line" and the word metal. The body was 150 feet from the county line and was adjacent to Metal Township.

—She gave two names, Ronald and Richard. Richard Dodson and Ronald Henninger were charged.

A masseuse arrested at the Plaza Spa Sept. 16 and charged with soliciting to commit prostitution was sentenced on a reduced charge yesterday afternoon by Berrien District Court Judge Ronald J. Taylor. Jacqueline Sue Lewis, 23, of Highland avenue, Benton township, pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly person, illegal occupation, soliciting for immoral purposes. She was sentenced to fine and costs of $55. Prosecution and defense were in court for a hearing on a defense motion to dismiss the case on grounds that Tom Ennis, the Berrien metro crime squad officer who arrested the woman used entrapment in making the arrest. The hearing was called off when a plea bargain was made, the judge said. Jacqueline Lewis told the judge she is no longer employed at the Spa, located at 1027 East Napier avenue, Benton township.

Robbery Hearing Slated

A Benton township man charged with armed robbery Feb. 28 at the Cass Dairy store, Euclid avenue, Benton township, was jailed in lieu of $25,000 bond yesterday after demanding preliminary examination in Berrien District court.

Thomas L. Simpson, 19, of 2291 Lawrence drive, is accused of building up two store employees while armed with a rifle and fleeing with an undetermined amount of cash.

Others demanding examinations yesterday were:

Maxine Westbrook, 29, of 821 Vineyard street, Benton Harbor, charged with assault with a deadly weapon — a knife — against Bernice Woods in Benton Harbor March 13.

James D. Howe, 17, of 310 East Washington, Berrien Springs, accused of larceny of a CB radio from a Jeep in Berrien Springs Jan. 30.

Alfred Gullidge, 19, of 441 Broadway, and Jimmy C. Wade, 24, of 606 Colfax avenue, both of Benton Harbor, on charges of breaking and entering a Benton Harbor house March 12.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Use of marijuana — Roger K. Seering, 21, of Rolling Prairie, Ind., William A. Cook, 26, of Detroit, and Geoffrey H. Browning, 27, of Grosse Pointe, each fine and costs of $50 or 10 days in jail; Cheryl M. McClusky, 30, of Detroit, $50.

Driving under the influence of intoxicants — Mark A. Errichello, 18, of Valparaiso, Ind., and Lewis G. Parker, 46, of Detroit, each $155 or 30 days in jail; Kaye Mark, 55, of 702 Chicago road, Niles, and Paul Gradovich, 19, of Michigan City, Ind., each $155.

Impaired driving — Donald D. Miller, 28, of California road, Sawyer, $155; Turfina Sagmo, 31, of 315 Bluffview, Berrien Springs, $100; Larry E. Gunkel, 19, of 5518 Hiawatha lane, Stevensville, $105 or 20 days in jail; Gary L. Elliot, 27, of 5750 George street, Stevensville, $152; Michael A. Washegesic, 19, of South Haven, $75.

Driving while license suspended — Gregory L. Moore, 18, of 5250 Spring Hill road, Coloma, three days in jail and $65 or 20 days in jail total; Randy L. Christianson, 20, of 1100 Lake boulevard, St. Joseph, three days in jail and $62.

Assault and battery — David W. Harris, 22, of 6545 Center street, Coloma, $50.

Creating a disturbance — Essie Mae Mosby, 27, of 371 East Britain, Benton Harbor, $32 or six days in jail.

Petty larceny — Susan Czecherbowicz (also known as Claullin), 18, of Grand Rapids, $125 or 20 days in jail.

Pesticide Taint Ball's Top Fear

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A common wood preservative has state agriculture Director B. Dale Ball more worried than he was about Michigan's PBB crisis. And Ball said he suspects that some of the thousands of animals destroyed because of high PBB levels may instead have been sick from highly poisonous dioxins found in the wood preservative, pentachlorophenol.

'Coverup' Dominates PBB Trial

By PIET BENNETT
Associated Press Writer
CADDILLAC, Mich. (AP) — Coverup accusations against Michigan Chemical Co. are likely to dominate this week's proceedings at the state's first PBB contamination trial.

When testimony resumes today, the Muskegon County farmer filing the damage suit is slated to be on the witness stand for the seventh day. The proceedings will be entering their fourth week and the farmer is the fourth witness to testify.

Paul Greer, one attorney for Roy Tacoma, said he expects questioning of his client to be completed today. After Tacoma steps down, Greer said he intends to call a state livestock feed inspector and then move to the first of 8 to 10 employees from the chemical firm that made PBB.

Greer said testimony by Michigan Chemical workers should fill the rest of the week. In an opening argument more than two weeks ago, Greer contended the chemical firm and Michigan Farm Bureau Services tried to hide the accidental mixing of PBB into livestock feed distributed across most of the state nearly four years ago.

Gary Schenk, Tacoma's other lawyer, went even further in his opening remarks.

Schenk contended the two major defendants among the five firms Tacoma is suing got together "to undertake a campaign to blame this on everything but PBB."

Schenk also told Wexford County Circuit Court Judge William Peterson, who is hearing the case without a jury, that in seeking unspecified punitive damages, Tacoma confronts "the record of foot dragging, covering up (and) ignoring warnings" about PBB.

Tacoma is seeking $250,000 actual damages for more than 100 cattle tainted with the fire retardant.

Because the preservative, known as penta or PCP, is a federally-registered pesticide, the federal government should pay farmers nationwide for any losses due to dioxins, Ball said Monday.

"It's their problem. It's a federally-registered pesticide," said Ball. "We happen to have found the problem."

The state has quarantined eight dairy herds in which penta was found and has banned the sale of the preservative in Michigan until companies can produce dioxin-free brands. Ball has appealed to Washington for federal money to reimburse the farmers for lost milk and meat sales.

Some dioxins are hundreds of times more toxic than PBB, Ball said. Tests are underway to see if dioxins are present in milk from quarantined farms.

One scientist who has worked with dioxins says the chemical accumulates in the human body. As little as 3 1/2 milligrams of one type of dioxin found in penta can be fatal, he says. There are 28,000 milligrams in an ounce.

State officials confirmed Monday, however, that they knew as early as March 1 or 2 that the highly toxic dioxins were present in one Michigan herd, already quarantined for high penta levels. They had known since mid-January that seven other herds showed lower amounts of penta, but decided to quarantine them only when the dioxins were found in the first herd.

They said they wanted to have an official laboratory report in hand before issuing the other quarantines. They called the quarantines a precautionary measure to protect the state's food supply.

During the period between March 2 and last Friday, when the quarantines were issued, the seven farmers sold several dozen tons of milk and possibly some cows for slaughter.

"Since this has been going on for 35 years, I didn't think waiting for the official report was that important," said Ball. "I really don't think that's waiting too long."

Quarantined farmers have been warned not to consume any of their meat or milk, and officials are looking for someplace to dump the milk other than on farmers' land.

Penta has been manufactured for several decades, is used widely and in itself is considered relatively harmless. But the first finding of toxic dioxins in animals that licked and breathed fumes from penta-treated wood, was made by John Moore, a toxicologist with the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences in North Carolina.

Moore found highly toxic dioxins in liver samples from the herd first quarantined, where 100 cows have died over the last year. Dioxins also have been found in penta-treated wood from that barn.

Moore said he warned Assistant Agriculture Director Donald Isbister by phone on March 1 or 2 of the dioxins he had found.

Lottery Winner Ready To Spend

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — A 54-year-old Detroit auto worker became the Michigan Lottery's 31st millionaire Monday night in the Michigan Lottery Bureau drawing here.

And Alvin Hurry said he knows just what he's going to do with his million: "Spend it! Spend it!"

Jackson Woods, 31, of Detroit, was runnerup and won $50,000. He is single and a spot welder at Chrysler Corp.'s Hamtramck plant.

Like 25 other $1 million winners, Hurry got the money with an initial 50-cent investment for one ticket.

But, he says, that winning ticket was just one of many he has purchased — and he plans to use some of his prize money to buy more.

Hurry, who is single, has worked as a machine operator at Chrysler's Trenton engine plant for 30 years. He said he plans to keep his job despite the windfall.

"I'll be going to work in the morning," he said.

The Lucky Dozen Lottery Club of Perry won $25,000. It was represented by Ronald Rondel.

The seven $10,000 winner were:

—Webb Bussell, 19, now of Harrowgate, Tenn. He is unemployed and formerly lived in Flat Rock.

—Dorothy Esterline, 62, of

—Lucky Ten Lottery Club of Livonia, represented by Ralph Campbell. Its members work at the Fisher Body plant in Livonia.

—Helen Mooney, 57, of Northville. She works in the packing department of a plastics company.

—Dorothy Rydell, 60, 355 Belleville, a homemaker.

—Jean Ross, 71, of Harper Woods. She and her husband of 50 years are both retired.

—Gretchen Cordy, 30, Fairhaven, a forewoman at Ford Motor Co. at Utica.

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The names of 79 Michigan medical care providers, including a Berrien Center physician, were among more than 2,000 doctors, medical groups and laboratories in the nation that received over $100,000 each in Medicare payments in 1975.

The listing was made by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and was the first time recipients of Medicare payments have been reported.

HEW listed Dr. K.F. BURKHART OF Berrien Center as having received $144,967.

This morning, Donald Gast, administrator for the Southwestern Medical Clinic, said the $144,967 attributed to Dr. Burkhardt by HEW actually covered the combined billings of 12 physicians who are members of the Southwestern Medical Clinic, a group practice organization. He explained the clinic combines the Medicare payment claims of all 12 doctors under a single number in submitting them to HEW. Gast explained the clinic's billing procedure in the absence of Dr. Burkhardt, who is out of town.

Southwestern Medical Clinic conducts medical treatment clinics at Berrien General hospital, Berrien Springs and Bridgman. Its members are also staff doctors at Berrien General and man the emergency room there.

The biggest recipient in the nation listed by HEW was the Zumbrota Health Facility in Zumbrota, Minn., which is run by the famed Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn. HEW said Zumbrota Health Facility received more than $22 million in Medicare payments, far above any other single recipient.

A spokesman for Mayo said it appeared the $22 million figure may have been a computer error, or that the government may have listed all the funds the Mayo Clinic received under the Zumbrota name. He said Mayo Clinic operates several health facilities in Minnesota.

Following is the list of other physicians and laboratories in Michigan whose billings amounted to more than $100,000 each in 1975, according to the HEW report:

Bridgman School Board Approves Pay Increases

BRIDGMAN — Non-certified Bridgman school district employees were given a three per cent across the board pay increase last night by the Bridgman school board.

The board also approved, as required by law July 1, contributing five per cent into the non-certified employees retirement fund each year. The pay hikes are for the 1977-78 school year.

"In essence that's an eight per cent raise, when including the retirement fringe," Dr. David Lechner said.

The pay hikes are for approximately 60 full and part-time employees such as custodians, bus drivers, bookkeepers, secretaries, and cunks.

Hourly rates for some non-certified employees including the three per cent pay hike, with current wage rate in parenthesis are as follows: Custodians, $4.59 ($4.46); central office secretaries, $3.86 ($3.84); building secretaries, $3.67 ($3.56); maintenance, $5.07 ($4.92); cooks, $3.45 to $3.84 ($3.33 to $3.73); laundry maids, $2.88 ($2.90).

The board also established substitute teacher's pay for the 1977-78 school year at $32 per day, an increase of $1. Subs will also receive the five per cent board-paid retirement in 1977-78, however. The hourly rate for drivers' education instructors was raised from $7.37 to $7.67 per hour, effective July 1.

In other areas, the board heard a report from the University of Michigan bureau of school services, which had been hired by the district to evaluate the district's school cleaning program.

The report's comparative analysis of costs showed that custodial costs by Clean America by Ross cost the district 45.3 cents per square foot per year and by the district's own custodial staff, 48 cents per square foot per year.

The report showed that the 48-cent figure for the district's own staff did not include such items as unemployment compensation, supervisory costs, capital outlay for equipment and the five per cent mandated requirement which goes into effect July 1.

"In fairness to our own staff, the 48-cent figure also does not take into account all the sundry (miscellaneous) tasks they perform day-in and day-out," Dr. Lechner said.

The report showed that some 180,014 square feet must be cleaned each day. Of that amount the district's custodial staff cleans 92,118 square feet ($44.149 per year) and the cleaning service $7,896 ($39.965).

Dr. Lechner said the U of M analysis, headed by Dr. Bates Landis, rated the custodial work at Bridgman schools as "very good."

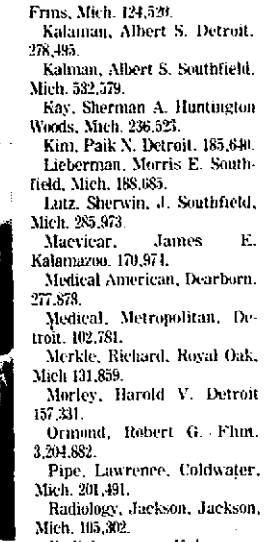

The board also passed two resolutions ratifying appointments of paying agent, co-paying agent and a depository for tax collections on the 1976

building and site fund.

Named as agents for the $2.6 million new middle school bonding program were Michigan National Bank, Battle Creek, as paying agent and Michigan National Bank, Detroit, as co-paying agent. The Farmer's and Merchants National Bank, Bridgman branch was named as depository.

Dr. Lechner said bids on the proposed project will be received and opened March 30, at 7:30 p.m. at a special board meeting. Bids will be awarded April 2, if approved by the board and architect. He said, hopefully, construction on the new building could start by the end of May.

Three Oaks Youths Are Arrested

South Berrien Bureau

THREE OAKS — Two Three Oaks boys were arrested last night by police here shortly after rocks tossed from the Hickory street viaduct broke two windshields on an Amtrak passenger train.

Amtrak engineer Gene Brockway, 38, Niles, told police no one was injured when rocks hit the eastbound train shortly after 7 p.m.

Police estimated damage at about $1,000.

The two boys, ages 13 and 14, were released to the custody of their parents following questioning. Police said the boys will be petitioned into probate court on charges of malicious destruction of property valued at over $1,000.

The two boys were apprehended by police within a block of the viaduct after the train engineer reported the rock tossing over a radio.

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The names of 79 Michigan medical care providers, including a Berrien Center physician, were among more than 2,000 doctors, medical groups and laboratories in the nation that received over $100,000 each in Medicare payments in 1975.

The listing was made by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and was the first time recipients of Medicare payments have been reported.

HEW listed Dr. K.F. BURKHART OF Berrien Center as having received $144,987.

This morning, Donald Gast, administrator for the Southwestern Medical Clinic, said the $144,987 attributed to Dr. Burkhardt by HEW actually covered the combined billings of 12 physicians who are members of the Southwestern Medical Clinic, a group practice organization. He explained the clinic combines the Medicare payment claims of all 12 doctors under a single number in submitting them to HEW. Gast explained the clinic's billing procedure in the absence of Dr. Burkhardt, who is out of town.

Southwestern Medical Clinic conducts medical treatment clinics at Berrien General hospital, Berrien Springs and Bridgman. Its members are also staff doctors at Berrien General and man the emergency room there.

The biggest recipient in the nation listed by HEW was the Zumbrota Health Facility in Zumbrota, Minn., which is run by the famed Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn. HEW said Zumbrota Health Facility received more than $22 million in Medicare payments, far above any other single recipient.

A spokesman for Mayo said it appeared the $22 million figure may have been a computer error, or that the government may have listed all the funds the Mayo Clinic received under the Zumbrota name. He said Mayo Clinic operates several health facilities in Minnesota.

Following is the list of other physicians and laboratories in Michigan whose billings amounted to more than $100,000 each in 1975, according to the HEW report:

Bridgman School Board Approves Pay Increases

BRIDGMAN — Non-certified Bridgman school district employees were given a three per cent across the board pay increase last night by the Bridgman school board.

The board also approved, as required by law July 1, contributing five per cent into the non-certified employees retirement fund each year. The pay hikes are for the 1977-78 school year.

"In essence that's an eight per cent raise, when including the retirement fringe," Dr. David Lechner said.

The pay hikes are for approximately 60 full and part-time employees such as custodians, bus drivers, bookkeepers, secretaries, and cooks.

Hourly rates for some non-certified employees including the three per cent pay hike, with current wage rate in parenthesis are as follows: Custodians, $4.59 ($4.46); central office secretaries, $3.96 ($3.84); building secretaries, $3.67 ($3.56); maintenance, $5.07 ($4.92); cooks, $3.43 to $3.84 ($3.33 to $3.73); laundry maids, $2.88 ($2.80).

The board also established substitute teacher's pay for the 1977-78 school year at $32 per day, an increase of $1. Subs will also receive the five per cent board-paid retirement in 1977-78, however. The hourly rate for drivers' education instructors was raised from $7.37 to $7.67 per hour, effective July 1.

In other areas, the board heard a report from the University of Michigan bureau of school services, which had been hired by the district to evaluate the district's school cleaning program.

The report's comparative analysis of costs showed that custodial costs by Clean America by Ross cost the district 45.3 cents per square foot per year and by the district's own custodial staff, 48 cents per square foot per year.

The report showed that the 48-cent figure for the district's own staff did not include such items as unemployment compensation, supervisory costs, capital outlay for equipment and the five per cent mandated requirement which goes into effect July 1.

"In fairness to our own staff, the 48-cent figure also does not take into account all the sundry (miscellaneous) tasks they perform day-in and day-out," Dr. Lechner said.

The report showed that some 180,014 square feet must be cleaned each day. Of that amount the district's custodial staff cleans 92,118 square feet ($44.149 per year) and the cleaning service $7,896 ($39.865).

Dr. Lechner said the U of M analysis, headed by Dr. Bates Landis, rated the custodial work at Bridgman schools as "very good."

The board also passed two resolutions ratifying appointments of paying agent, co-paying agent and a depository for tax collections on the 1976

building and site fund.

Named as agents for the $2.6 million new middle school bonding program were Michigan National Bank, Battle Creek, as paying agent and Michigan National Bank, Detroit, as co-paying agent. The Farmer's and Merchants National Bank, Bridgman branch was named as depository.

Dr. Lechner said bids on the proposed project will be received and opened March 30, at 7:30 p.m. at a special board meeting. Bids will be awarded April 2, if approved by the board and architect. He said, hopefully, construction on the new building could start by the end of May.

Three Oaks Youths Are Arrested

South Berrien Bureau

THREE OAKS — Two Three Oaks boys were arrested last night by police here shortly after rocks tossed from the Hickory street viaduct broke two windshields on an Amtrak passenger train.

Amtrak engineer Gene Brockway, 39, Niles, told police no one was injured when rocks hit the eastbound train shortly after 7 p.m.

Police estimated damage at about $1,600.

The two boys, ages 13 and 14, were released to the custody of their parents following questioning. Police said the boys will be petitioned into probate court on charges of malicious destruction of property valued at over $100.

The two boys were apprehended by police within a block of the viaduct after the train engineer reported the rock tossing over a radio.

SJ Schools Seek Shift In Tax Date

In a move to ease a cash flow problem, the St. Joseph board of education is asking the City of St. Joseph to collect school district property taxes along with the city property tax in July.

The board last night authorized Business Manager Dennis Percy to contact city officials and determine if the request is agreeable.

Percy said about 80 per cent of the school district's income is from local property taxes. He

Hartford Okays Police Bargainer

HARTFORD — The Hartford city council last night voted to recognize the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 96 as the bargaining agent for the city's six full-time police officers.

In late February, an FOP attorney had written the council asking for formal recognition of the St. Joseph-based FOP lodge as the officers' bargaining agent.

The council also appointed its police committee and chairman of the finance committee as city negotiators in labor contract talks with the officers.

Police Chief Lee Spencer is not included in the unionization.

In other areas, the council gave tentative approval for an amusement license for the Hartford House, and its operator Nick Fuller. Approved was a license retroactive to Feb. 1, and good until June 30, 1978.

City officials had previously refused to renew Fuller's license, saying he had missed the deadline for renewal, and then cited him for operating

Hartford Principal Gets Double Duties

HARTFORD — The Hartford school board last night gave Woodside elementary Principal Mary Lou McDonnell the additional duties as acting principal of Red Arrow elementary school. She replaces former Red Arrow Principal Eugene Snider who the board granted a paid sabbatical leave last week for the period Feb. 28 to June 30.

Snider, granted the leave because of personal reasons, according to Supt. Gary Waterkamp, will not be returning to the school system. Waterkamp said Miss McDonnell will hold both jobs until the end of the current school year and added that there is a possibility of her retaining both positions for next school year.

The board last night did not provide extra pay for Miss McDonnell's additional duties as acting principal at Red Arrow. After her appointment, Miss McDonnell told the board she intends to attack discipline problems at Red Arrow by using a system like the one she uses at Woodside. Under the system, she said, students literally make contracts with the faculty on how they intend to act in the classrooms.

In other areas, the board announced a long-standing legal dispute with a Kalamazoo architectural firm has ended. Board members said Trend Associates has agreed to accept an out-of-court settlement for $3,750 for services it provided for a school construction bond issue defeated by voters several years ago.

In late 1974, the firm filed suit against the school, seeking $12,900 it alleged was owed for some 631 man hours spent in studies for the school. School officials also announced that the annual athletic banquet and awards program will be April 16 at the high school.

Cass School Chiefs Get Longer Terms

CASSOPOLIS — The Lewis Cass Intermediate district school board last night, by a 3 to 2 vote, approved one-year contract extensions for the district's four administrators.

They are Arthur Towe, superintendent; Mrs. Alice Barrett, director of special services; Carl Komor, director of special education; and Ned Sutherland, director of career education.

Any salary adjustments for the four positions will be determined later, board members said.

The contracts were to have expired in the summer of 1978. With last night's board action, they will expire in the summer of 1979.

Two board members, I.C. Madden and Samuel Hansen, voted against the action, saying they did not feel action was needed at this time. However, they made a point of saying that the way they voted did not mean a lack of confidence in the administrators. Voting for the extensions were Board Members Robert Bainbridge, Janet Pendergrass and Michael Chuceta.

In other areas, the board approved holding the annual biennial election to fill two board seats. The six-year terms of Mrs. Pendergrass of Dowagiac and Chuceta, Cassopolis, expire June 30. The election will be held on June 6 in the intermediate district office near Cassopolis.

said more than half of this is from the City of St. Joseph. Percy said a cash flow problem could be alleviated if St. Joseph city property owners paid their school taxes in July instead of December. Townships in the district would continue to levy the school tax in December.

Percy noted that every spring, the district has been forced to borrow against anticipated tax income, because it all came in the winter. The winter tax bills are payable from December into February.

St. Joseph city property owners now pay only their city taxes in July. They pay school and county taxes in December. Township governments collect all taxes—township, schools and county—in December.

The St. Joseph school district levied 35.616 mills last year, including 31.466 mills for operating, 1-mill for building and site, and 3.150 for debt retirement. St. Joseph city levied 16.70 mills last year. If the same tax rates held for 1977, city property owners would be faced with tax rate of more than 52 mills in July.

City property owners would then pay only Berrien county and Lake Michigan college taxes in December.

The school board in other matters scheduled a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 28, at Jefferson school, to consider anticipated pink-slipping of teachers.

Schools Supt. Burton Aldrich said the board probably would have to lay off more than 15 regular teachers, because special education teachers with higher seniority in the Lake View Gard school appear likely to decline transfers to the Berrien intermediate school district. Although the special education teachers will be offered jobs with the county district, they are covered under a master contract between St. Joseph schools and the St. Joseph Education association.

This contract offers higher salaries than the county.

Details of the transfer of Gard and Bellwether special programs to the county and prospects of pink slipping of regular teachers were detailed earlier by this newspaper.

Aldrich also cited a probable loss of 135 students from regular schools next year and termed declining enrollments and higher operating expenses as problems that could result in additional layoffs. The alternatives to program cuts could be a request for additional operating tax millage at the June 13 annual election it was reported.

The board scheduled a work session on program priorities and possible millage request for 7:30 p.m. next Monday, at Jefferson school. A final determination would be at a regular board meeting.

The board last night also:

- Authorized the issuance of one note to Peoples State bank in the amount of $70,856 for seven years, at an annual interest rate of 5 per cent, for the purchase of four school buses. Arrival of the buses, ordered earlier, is expected in April.

- Approved a $2,000 contract with Thomas Sinn and Associates for a district demographic survey.

- Recommended that an agreement between the school district and the City of St. Joseph on a joint recreation program, dated Jan. 6, be expanded to include St. Joseph township.

- Retained the certified public accounting firm of McMurray, Marks and Edmunds, St. Joseph, to handle the district audit.

- Amended the board policy on transporting senior citizens' groups from the district to special functions to permit the superintendent to receive and act on all requests.

Woman May Face Treasury Charge

Federal authorities intend to prosecute a Watervliet woman who was arrested Saturday night for allegedly attempting to use an altered $1 bill to buy drinks in a Coloma township bar, according to Prosecutor John Smietanka.

Smietanka said a U.S. Treasury department agent is investigating the incident, which also led to the arrest of the woman on drug possession charges.

Yesterday in Berrien District court Charlotte Inez Kent, 33, of 317 St. Joseph street, demanded examination on a charge of possession of amphetamines and pleaded innocent to a charge of possession of marijuana. She was jailed under $5,000 bond.

Coloma township police reported they were called to the Ambie Inn when a patron allegedly tried to buy drinks with a $1 bill that had the corners of a $20 bill taped to its corners. Police confiscated the bill, and also suspected drugs they found while searching the arrested woman, they said.

Buchanan Slates Hearing On Grant

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission last night set a public hearing for March 28, to go over a final application for a federal community development grant for 1977-78.

Commission action came after the city was notified that the federal agency overseeing the program had tentatively agreed to consider approving half of the city's pre-application for $400,000. The hearing will start at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

The agency, the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) department, will review the final application before acting.

In other areas, the commission amended its garage sale ordinance so that an individual, church or organization may hold a three-day sale twice each year.

The sale must be confined to a garage, covered carport, building or back yard. A permit costing $1 must also be obtained prior to the sale and posted on the site during the sale. The amendments become effective

March 30.

Mrs. Linda Shelles, vice chairman of the Southwest Michigan Community Ambulance Service reported the new ambulance building is under construction in Bertrand township and a fund raising improvement drive will be held April 1 to 15 in the area to help pay for the $59,000 building. The commission approved solicitations for the drive in the city.

The commission tabled consideration of a proposal from a representative of United Appraisal Inc., Chagrin Falls, Ohio, to appraise residential and commercial property in the city. Under the proposal all data would be completed by the end of 1977 in time for the 1978 tax rolls.

An ordinance was approved regulating garbage and trash collections. All garbage and trash to be picked up by the city, must be in covered containers or plastic bags and must not be put on the curb until after 6 p.m., the evening prior to collection day.

A request from Norman Ketchum, 125 West Chicago street, for a permit to burn refuse from a building he's demolishing on Alexander street was tabled.

Neal Burks, fire chief, reported his department handled 39 fires in the city during 1976, compared to 28 in 1975. However, total loss from the 1976 fires was $41,600 compared to $140,620 the previous year.

are payable from December into February.

St. Joseph city property owners now pay only their city taxes in July. They pay school and county taxes in December. Township governments collect all taxes—township, schools and county—in December.

The St. Joseph school district levied 35.616 mills last year, including 31.466 mills for operating, 1-mill for building and site, and 3.150 for debt retirement. St. Joseph city levied 16.70 mills last year. If the same tax rates held for 1977, city property owners would be faced with a tax rate of more than 52 mills in July.

City property owners would then pay only Berrien county and Lake Michigan college taxes in December.

The school board in other matters scheduled a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 28, at Jefferson school, to consider anticipated pink-slipping of teachers.

Schools Supt. Burton Aldrich said the board probably would have to lay off more than 15 regular teachers, because special education teachers with higher seniority in the Lake View Gard school appear likely to decline transfers to the Berrien intermediate school district. Although the special education teachers will be offered jobs with the county district, they are covered under a master contract between St. Joseph schools and the St. Joseph Education association.

This contract offers higher salaries than the county. Details of the transfer of Gard and Bellwether special programs to the county and prospects of pink slipping of regular teachers were detailed earlier by this newspaper.

Aldrich also cited a probable loss of 195 students from regular schools next year and termed declining enrollments and higher operating expenses as problems that could result in additional layoffs. The alternatives to program cuts could be a request for additional operating tax millage at the June 13 annual election it was reported.

The board scheduled a work session on program priorities and possible millage request for 7:30 p.m. next Monday, at Jefferson school. A final determination would be at a regular board meeting.

The board last night also: —Authorized the issuance of one note to Peoples State bank in the amount of $70,856 for seven years, at an annual interest rate of 5 per cent, for the purchase of four school buses. Arrival of the buses, ordered earlier, is expected in April.

—Approved a $2,000 contract with Thomas Sinn and Associates for a district demographic survey.

—Recommended that an agreement between the school district and the City of St. Joseph on a joint recreation program, dated Jan. 6, be expanded to include St. Joseph township.

—Retained the certified public accounting firm of McMurray, Marks and Edmunds, St. Joseph, to handle the district audit.

—Amended the board policy on transporting senior citizens' groups from the district to special functions to permit the superintendent to receive and act on all requests.

BICYCLE BREAKER: The citizen's band radio craze has even struck cyclists in Toronto area and Walter Chrysler is one of about a half-dozen enthusiasts. His unit is powered by a motorcycle battery mounted on his rear carrier with antenna. His bike is also equipped with a normal portable radio when he just wants to listen to music. Woman May Face Treasury Charge

Federal authorities intend to prosecute a Watervliet woman who was arrested Saturday night for allegedly attempting to use an altered $1 bill to buy drinks in a Coloma township bar, according to Prosecutor John Smetanka.

Smetanka said a U.S. Treasury department agent is investigating the incident, which also led to the arrest of the woman on drug possession charges.

Yesterday in Berrien District court Charlotte Inez Kent, 33, of 317 St. Joseph street, demanded examination on a charge of possession of amphetamines and pleaded innocent to a charge of possession of marijuana. She was jailed under $5,000 bond.

Coloma township police reported they were called to the Ambler Inn when a patron allegedly tried to buy drinks with a $1 bill that had the corners of a $20 bill taped to its corners. Police confiscated the bill, and also suspected drugs they found while searching the arrested woman, they said.

Buchanan Slates Hearing On Grant

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission last night set a public hearing for March 28, to go over a final application for a federal community development grant for 1977-78.

Commission action came after the city was notified that the federal agency overseeing the program had tentatively agreed to consider approving half of the city's pre-application for $400,000. The hearing will start at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

The agency, the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) department, will review the final application before acting.

In other areas, the commission amended its garage sale ordinance so that an individual, church or organization may hold a three-day sale twice each year.

The sale must be confined to a garage, covered carport, building or back yard. A permit costing $1 must also be obtained prior to the sale and posted on the site during the sale. The amendments become effective

March 30.

Mrs. Linda Shelles, vice chairman of the Southwest Michigan Community Ambulance Service reported the new ambulance building is under construction in Bertrand township and a fund raising improvement drive will be held April 1 to 15 in the area to help pay for the $59,000 building. The commission approved solicitations for the drive in the city.

The commission tabled consideration of a proposal from a representative of United Appraisal Inc., Chagrin Falls, Ohio, to appraise residential and commercial property in the city. Under the proposal all data would be completed by the end of 1977 in time for the 1978 tax rolls.

An ordinance was approved regulating garbage and trash collections. All garbage and trash to be picked up by the city, must be in covered containers or plastic bags and must not be put on the curb until after 6 p.m., the evening prior to collection day.

A request from Norman Ketchum, 125 West Chicago street, for a permit to burn refuse from a building he's demolishing on Alexander street was tabled.

Neal Burks, fire chief, reported his department handled 39 fires in the city during 1976, compared to 28 in 1975. However, total loss from the 1976 fires was $44,600 compared to $140,620 the previous year.

Two Rate High

Michael R. Priebe and Eric R. Schwarz, Albion college sophomores from St. Joseph, have been named Albion Fellows signifying a grade point average of 3.7 or better. Priebe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVon Priebe, 3174 Ravine drive. Schwarz is the son of Mrs. Barbara Schwarz, 1303 Lewis avenue, and the late Dr. Eugene R. Schwarz.

Hartford Okays Police Bargainer

HARTFORD — The Hartford city council last night voted to recognize the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 96 as the bargaining agent for the city's six full-time police officers.

In late February, an FOP attorney had written the council asking for formal recognition of the St. Joseph-based FOP lodge as the officers' bargaining agent.

The council also appointed its police committee and chairman of the finance committee as city negotiators in labor contract talks with the officers.

Police Chief Lee Spencer is not included in the unionization.

In other areas, the council gave tentative approval for an amusement license for the Hartford House, and its operator Nick Fuller. Approved was a license retroactive to Feb. 1, and good until June 30, 1978.

City officials had previously refused to renew Fuller's license, saying he had missed the deadline for renewal, and then cited him for operating games without an amusement license.

Last night, city officials said city ordinances do not provide for denial based on missing a deadline. The city attorney has been ordered to seek dismissal of the charge in Seventh District court in Paw Paw.

Fuller will get a full license once a fire inspection is completed, councilmen said.

The Hartford House is a former hotel on Main street.

Homer Jackson, superintendent of public works, announced that bids on an estimated $294,000 sidewalk construction project will be opened April 4. Money for the project is coming from a federal public works employment grant.

Jackson was also authorized by the council to enter into a contract with Great Lakes Building Services, Inc., Benton Harbor, for repairs to a city garage damaged by fire. Cost of the repair will be about $4,500. The city's insurance carrier handled bidding on the project.

Hartford Principal Gets Double Duties

HARTFORD — The Hartford school board last night gave Woodside elementary Principal Mary Lou McDonnell the additional duties as acting principal of Red Arrow elementary school. She replaces former Red Arrow Principal Eugene Snider who the board granted a paid sabbatical leave last week for the period Feb. 28 to June 30.

Snider, granted the leave because of personal reasons, according to Supt. Gary Waterkamp, will not be returning to the school system. Waterkamp said Miss McDonnell will hold both jobs until the end of the current school year and added that there is a possibility of her retaining both positions for next school year.

The board last night did not provide extra pay for Miss McDonnell's additional duties as acting principal at Red Arrow. After her appointment, Miss McDonnell told the board she intends to attack discipline problems at Red Arrow by using a system like the one she uses at Woodside. Under the system, she said, students literally make contracts with the faculty on how they intend to act in the classrooms.

In other areas, the board announced a long-standing legal dispute with a Kalamazoo architectural firm has ended. Board members said Trend Associates has agreed to accept an out-of-court settlement for $3,750 for services it provided for a school construction bond issue defeated by voters several years ago.

In late 1974, the firm filed suit against the school, seeking $12,900 it alleged was owed for some 631 man hours spent in studies for the school. School officials also announced that the annual athletic banquet and awards program will be April 16 at the high school.

Cass School Chiefs Get Longer Terms

CASSOPOLIS — The Lewis Cass Intermediate district school board last night, by a 3 to 2 vote, approved one-year contract extensions for the district's four administrators.

They are Arthur Towle, superintendent; Mrs. Alice Barrett, director of special services; Carl Komor, director of special education; and Ned Sutherland, director of career education.

Any salary adjustments for the four positions will be determined later, board members said. The contracts were to have expired in the summer of 1978. With last night's board action, they will expire in the summer of 1979.

Two board members, I.C. Madden and Samuel Hansen, voted against the action, saying they did not feel action was needed at this time. However, they made a point of saying that the way they voted did not mean a lack of confidence in the administrators. Voting for the extensions were Board Members Robert Bainbridge, Janet Pendergrass and Michael Chucta.

In other areas, the board approved holding the annual biennial election to fill two board seats. The six-year terms of Mrs. Pendergrass of Dowagiac and Chucta, Cassopolis, expire June 30. The election will be held on June 6 in the intermediate district office near Cassopolis.

The 1976-77 salaries for the four administrators whose contracts were extended last night are, for Towle, $26,000; Mrs. Barrett, $21,000; Komor, $22,500; and Sutherland, $23,500.

Local Council Seats Filled In 10 Area Communities

Voters in nine southwestern Michigan villages and one city went to the polls yesterday to fill available terms on municipal councils and, in some cases, on library boards. The city involved was New Buffalo.

The villages were Stevensville, Shoreham and Grand Beach, in Berrien county; Decatur, Lawton and Paw Paw in Van Buren county; Saugatuck and Douglas in Allegan county; and Cassopolis in Cass county.

The results by community were:

New Buffalo

NEW BUFFALO — Incumbent New Buffalo city councilman William VanMeer was upset by challenger Clarence (Clancy) Sayles in the city's election here yesterday.

Unofficial returns gave Sayles 175 votes to 67 polled by VanMeer, the three-year veteran of the council. The two ran as non-partisan candidates for the three-year post.

Sayles, a security guard, served on the council from 1960-63.

Village officials said 242 ballots were cast. There are about 1,300 registered voters in the city.

Stevensville

STEVENSVILLE — Two incumbents and one newcomer won the three trustee seats on the Stevensville village council at stake in yesterday's village election.

The three, all Republicans, were opposed only by a Democrat write-in candidate who began his campaign over the weekend.

Elected were newcomer Carl Kolb, with 131 votes, and Charles "Bud" Kerlikowske, 124 votes, and B.W. Yaslick, with 113 votes, both incumbents. Write-in candidate Richard Zandarski received 20 votes. A total of 158 votes were cast of 534 registered voters in the village.

Shoreham

Thirteen Shoreham voters turned out yesterday to elect three unopposed incumbent trustees in what was the village's last annual election.

Starting in 1978, Shoreham will vote every two years with terms of trustees running four years and village officers two years, according to Mrs. Janet Helsley, clerk.

Incumbents elected to one-year terms yesterday were Robert Hahn and Lynn Rayle, 13 votes each, and Alvin Burkall, 12 votes.

Three trustees were elected last year for four-year terms, and four officers were elected to two-year terms.

Grand Beach

GRAND BEACH — Three incumbent Grand Beach village council members faced no formal opposition in being re-elected yesterday in this community's election, but a total of seven write-in candidates also received votes.

Re-elected to the two-year, non-partisan trustee posts were incumbents Mrs. Louise Krejci, Chester Zwissler Jr. and Harry Wildermuth. They received 61, 42 and 39 unofficial votes, respectively.

Write-in candidates, and the number of votes they received, were James Hoover, 24; Ed Carroll, 2; and Jack Grace, Vernon Roberts, John Dreeson, Robert Kenny and Ray Bopes, all 1.

Village officials said 72 ballots were cast.

Decatur

DECATUR — Two incumbents and a former village council member were elected to three Decatur village council posts in yesterday's election here.

Re-elected were incumbents Mrs. Eleanor Smith, a Democrat, and Lyle Overton, a Republican. The third, two-year post went to Democrat Vernon Anthony, who lost a 1974 primary bid for village president and a 1975 attempt to rejoin the council.

Unofficial returns from the five-way race showed Mrs. Smith leading with 122 votes; Overton, 106, and Anthony, 105. Ronald Williams, a Democrat, garnered 37 votes, and Richard Overley, a Republican, 69.

Village officials said 167 votes were cast.

Lawton

LAWTON — Four candidates running unopposed for four two-year terms as trustee on the Lawton village council were elected yesterday in village election balloting. Also elected were two candidates unopposed for two two-year seats on the village library board.

Elected to the trustee posts were Warren F. Conklin, 33 votes; Donald Bitley, 29 votes; Burl Unrath, 25 votes; and Clifford Atwater, 24 votes. All are incumbent Republicans.

Elected to the library board were Marian Pfister with 33 votes and Stanley Pelley with 29. Both are incumbent republicans.

Paw Paw

PAW PAW — Three unopposed GOP incumbent councilmen were re-elected here in yesterday's village election.

According to unofficial returns, they were Edward Wolownik, who polled 43 votes; David Richardson, with 38 votes; and Fritz Fooy with 36 votes.

Also elected without opposition were two library board candidates, both Republicans. They were incumbent Norman Roger, with 38 votes and Mrs. Virginia Snell, with 32 votes. All terms are for two years.

Village officials said 47 people cast ballots out of a possible 400 registered voters.

Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK — Two incumbents and a newcomer, all Republicans, won two-year trustee seats on the Saugatuck village council in the village election here yesterday. The lone Democrat in the four-way race lost in his bid for a seat.

In the voting, DeForest Doerner garnered 136 votes and Robert Rea had 106 votes, both are incumbents. Newcomer Robert Gardner totaled 126 votes. Democrat James Potts had 22 votes.

One unopposed candidate, Robert Jones, a Republican, totaled 123 votes in a separate vote for one remaining year on the unexpired term of Richard Hoffman who resigned. Jones was an incumbent who completed his own two-year term this year.

Douglas

DOUGLAS — Three Republicans bested two Democrats in a five-way race for three two-year trustee terms on the Douglas village council in balloting here yesterday.

Incumbent Richard Snyder won re-election with 100 votes. Larry Phillips received 85, and Carl Wicks had 85. Democrats Larry Hosley and William Shook had 19 and 12 votes respectively. Bruce Troutman, who lost in the primary, received 14 write-in votes. Troutman, an incumbent Republican, tied with Wicks in the primary and lost a place on the ballot in a drawing conducted by the Allegan county board of canvassers.

Cassopolis

CASSOPOLIS — Two incumbents were re-elected and a third was defeated yesterday in a five-way race for three Cassopolis village council seats at stake in the village's election.

Re-elected to the two-year posts were Republican George Maddox and Democrat James Broussard Jr. Challenger El-bur "Vincent" Hawkins, a Democrat, outpolled Republican incumbent Mrs. Stella Casey for the third post.

Unofficial returns showed Broussard leading the list of five with 188 votes. He was followed by Hawkins, with 138, and Maddox, with 146. Mrs. Casey garnered 137 votes and Joseph Ritter, a Republican, received 111.

Village officials 312 ballots were cast. There were eight spoiled ballots.

Fennville Principal Resigning

FENNVILLE — The Fennville school board last night accepted the resignation of Albert Truesdell, high school principal, who stated in a letter he was leaving to "pursue other alternatives."

Truesdell, who has been high school principal three years, has not commented on what other pursuits he is undertaking. His resignation is effective at the end of the school year.

In other action, the board approved a recommendation from the administrative salary committee on a new formula for determining salaries of principals, assistant principals and the curriculum coordinator. No salaries for those positions were determined last night however, because, according to Supt. James Tackmann, some principals will soon be gaining higher college degrees, a part of the new formula.

Actual salaries of the administrators for 1977-78 are to be announced in April.

The formula for principals starts at the highest teacher salary for that degree and adds a factor for added responsibilities and a percentage for each week work beyond a teacher in the year and for years of experience.

Assistant principals get 85 percent of a principal's base plus percentages for added weeks and experience. The curriculum coordinator's base is the highest salary for a teacher with that degree plus percentages for the added work in the year and experience.

In related action, the board set salaries for five supervisory people not covered under the new formula. Current salaries are in parentheses. Included were Eleanor Szkopiec, business manager, $14,000 ($11,500); Clyde Ely, superintendent of maintenance and grounds, $14,000 ($13,000); John Pfister, transportation director and athletic director, $20,000 ($18,500); Gladys Sexton, hot lunch supervisor, $7,500 ($6,500); and Luis Barron, school nurse, $8,000 ($7,000).

Indian Parents Meeting Tonight

HARTFORD — The Indian Parent committee for the Hartford schools is to meet tonight at 7:30 in the high school library to elect officers for 1977-78, according to Arthur Morsaw of the committee.

two-year terms as trustee on the Lawton village council were elected yesterday in village election balloting. Also elected were two candidates unopposed for two two-year seats on the village library board.

Elected to the trustee posts were Warren F. Conklin, 33 votes; Donald Bitely, 29 votes; Burl Unrath, 25 votes; and Clifford Atwater, 24 votes. All are incumbent Republicans.

Elected to the library board were Marian Pfister with 33 votes and Stanley Peffley with 29. Both are incumbent republicans.

Paw Paw

PAW PAW — Three unopposed GOP incumbent councilmen were re-elected here in yesterday's village election.

According to unofficial returns, they were Edward Wolownik, who polled 43 votes; David Richardson, with 38 votes; and Fritz Fooy with 36 votes.

Also elected without opposition were two library board candidates, both Republicans. They were incumbent Norman Roger, with 38 votes and Mrs. Virginia Snell, with 32 votes. All terms are for two years.

Village officials said 47 people cast ballots out of a possible 400 registered voters.

Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK — Two incumbents and a newcomer, all Republicans, won two-year trustee seats on the Saugatuck village council in the village election here yesterday. The lone Democrat in the four-way race lost in his bid for a seat.

In the voting, DeForest Doerner garnered 136 votes and Robert Rea had 106 votes, both are incumbents. Newcomer Robert Gardner totaled 126 votes. Democrat James Potts had 22 votes.

One unopposed candidate, Robert Jones, a Republican, totaled 123 votes in a separate vote for one remaining year on the unexpired term of Richard Hoffman who resigned. Jones was an incumbent who completed his own two-year term this year.

Douglas

DOUGLAS — Three Republicans bested two Democrats in a five-way race for three two-year trustee terms on the Douglas village council in balloting here yesterday.

Incumbent Richard Snyder won re-election with 100 votes. Larry Phillips received 95, and Carl Wicks had 85. Democrats Larry Hosley and William Shook had 19 and 12 votes respectively. Bruce Troutman, who lost in the primary, received 14 write-in votes. Troutman, an incumbent Republican, tied with Wicks in the primary and lost a place on the ballot in a drawing conducted by the Allegan county board of canvassers.

bur "Vincent" Hawkins, a Democrat, outpolled Republican incumbent Mrs. Stella Casey for the third post.

Cassopolis

CASSOPOLIS — Two incumbents were re-elected and a third was defeated yesterday in a five-way race for three Cassopolis village council seats at stake in the village's election.

Re-elected to the two-year posts were Republican George Maddox and Democrat James Broussard Jr. Challenger El-bur "Vincent" Hawkins, a Democrat, outpolled Republican incumbent Mrs. Stella Casey for the third post.

Unofficial returns showed Broussard leading the list of five with 188 votes. He was followed by Hawkins, with 148, and Maddox, with 146. Mrs. Casey garnered 137 votes and Joseph Ritter, a Republican, received 114.

Village officials 312 ballots were cast. There were eight spoiled ballots.

in Mrs. Rosenzweig, reached at home Sunday night, said of the series: "We haven't seen it."

Published accounts of the Tuesday installment said that Rosenzweig, 1975 Phoenix Man of the Year, "has nurtured prostitution and gambling" the Arizona city for years. The stories on the IRE reports said Rosenzweig "had documented ties with mob-connected book-makers and syndicate hoodlums" instrumental in building up Las Vegas "as the gambling capital of the nation." They also said Rosenzweig denied influence in gambling rackets and saying his only connection with prostitution was "maybe twice" recommending prostitutes to friends as an accommodation.

Goldwater said on television today that the accusation that Rosenzweig was tied to prostitution was "another lie." He said that he and Rosenzweig were elected to City Council at the same time and that the following year Phoenix was named an All American City, "mainly because we got rid of prostitution."

Prostitution is legal in Maricopa County outside the city limits of Phoenix.

Sen. Goldwater telephoned members of the news media in his home state of Arizona on Monday. He said he had seen published reports of the series and added: "I would say from the copies of the original material that we've gotten our hands on ... I would have to say, not being a lawyer, that they're all libelous. What I've seen of it is totally false."

Asked if he would file suit, the Republican senator said: "That's something we're taking a look at."

He added on "Good Morning, America" that if he does file a suit, it will "probably be the biggest in the history of the United States. ... we'll leave it up to our lawyers."

Anthony Insolia, managing editor of Newsday, the Long Island newspaper, and story editor for the IRE report said: "We stand on what we have reported and written based on six months of intensive, dedicated investigation in Arizona."

The published accounts said the Goldwaters and Rosenzweig were involved in a web of relationships with underworld lieutenant Meyer Lansky, but Sen. Goldwater said Monday afternoon: "I never heard of Meyer Lansky until I talked to Barbara Walters about 20 minutes ago."

Robert Goldwater, in a telephone call to The Associated Press in Phoenix on Monday said of the IRE report: "I know that none of my friends will pay any attention to it. They'll take it for the poppycock that it is."

The published stories said Rosenzweig confirmed that he had received a $5,000 contribution from the late Willie Bioff, described as a racketeer, which he put into Barry Goldwater's 1952 Senate campaign.

Sen. Goldwater said, "That is true." But he added that he knew Bioff under the name Bill Nelson which Bioff used when he moved to Phoenix in the 1940s. He was murdered in 1955.

The senator also said that he once gave Bioff and his wife a ride in his plane from Las Vegas to Phoenix after there was a problem with the Bioffs' commercial flight. He said the whole story had been reported by columnist Westbrook Pegler about 20 years ago.

Goldwater added today on "Good Morning, America," that after that plane flight "I think I was at his house for drinks twice, he lived right down the street from the golf course."

He said that Bioff had never been convicted of anything, and that Bioff had moved to Phoenix under an assumed name after he "ratted on Al Capone," the Chicago mobster.

The published accounts of the IRE series said Goldwater "flew Bioff to social events around the state," and added that Goldwater continued to associate with Bioff after he learned his true identity.

The stories also said that both Goldwaters were friendly with Gus Greenbaum, described as a Las Vegas lieutenant, and stayed at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas when he operated it. The stories said the Valley National Bank — of which Robert Goldwater is a director — loaned money to help finance the Flamingo.

Sen. Goldwater said: "I didn't know that he (Greenbaum) had any connection with any gangsters, but I wouldn't have been surprised."

Sen. Goldwater said Gus Greenbaum and his wife were "very respected, highly thought of as church people. Later Gus Greenbaum went to Las Vegas and became manager of the Flamingo. When Peggy (Goldwater's wife) and I, on rare occasions, would go up there, we would stay at the Flamingo." He said he went to Greenbaum's funeral after Greenbaum and his wife were murdered in 1958.

Desegregation Trial Is May 17

COLOMA — It was reported at the meeting of the Coloma school board last night that the Benton Harbor schools desegregation suit trial is scheduled to begin May 17. The Coloma school district is one of a number of defendants in the prolonged litigation.

Atty. Michael Stafford, of the board's law firm of Farhat, Burns and Story, of Lansing, told the Coloma board in a letter that the trial will open in the federal district court rooms in Kalamazoo. A pre-trial hearing in advance of the trial's beginning has been announced by Judge Noel Fox for April 13, at 1:30 p.m. Stafford asked that the board have representatives at the hearings who could act for the board.

The suit, filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on behalf of a mother and her six children and other black students in the Benton Harbor district, has been in progress since 1967.

The Coloma district became involved because of the transfer of the former Farnam grade school district to it from Benton Harbor. The suit also involves the Eau Claire district because three areas of the Benton Harbor district were transferred there. Residents of a three-district area in Sedus township are also defendants.

A pre-trial conference was held in the case Feb. 25 in Kalamazoo.

Vega May Be Dropped

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. is considering dropping its subcompact Chevrolet Vega at the end of this model year as part of a major realignment of its small car line, a Detroit newspaper says. Quoting "insider sources," the Detroit News said GM would drop the Vega and perhaps its sister car, the Pontiac Astre, in 1978. GM officials refused to confirm the report, giving the standard response to any questions about future models. "We never discuss our future product plans," a company spokesman said.

Eau Claire Tables Action On Rate Hike, Tax Cut

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire village council tabled action on a possible water rate increase and a proposed 1.5-mill sewer tax cut last night.

The water rate increase under discussion involved moving from the present $3 per month rate to $4 or $4.50 per month.

Frank James, village president, said the increase was needed to offset a $8,290 deficit created primarily because of extensive repairs to two main water pumps.

The increase would produce $4,934 to $7,401 more in yearly revenue.

The council decided to wait until it was clear whether present rates will be able to overcome the deficit.

The proposed cut in the sewer tax levy from 3 mills to 1.5 mills will be presented at an April 11 hearing on the village's 1977-78 budget. According to Mrs. Ruth Sharpe, village clerk, it was learned only recently that adjustments were to have been made annually on the bonded millage in response to increases or decreases in sewer income. The village has not made adjustments since the project was constructed 10 years ago and a surplus has resulted, she said.

If the proposal is adopted, the cutback will result in an income drop from $8,775 to $4,385, James said.

In other areas, the council announced it will also consider granting an industrial facility exemption certificate to Shawnee Specialties Co. at the April 11 session. The land and zinc die casting firm moved to Eau Claire from Bridgman and is asking for a tax break under a 1974 state law aimed at encouraging expansion and improvement of Michigan industries.

Shawnee plans an expenditure of $128,007 for its building, landscaping, machinery and equipment. The firm, which employed three people in Bridgman, expects to hire eight to 10 in Eau Claire by the end of the year.

A similar request by Silver Mill Frozen Foods Inc., which was to be decided on at last night's meeting, was postponed until the April 11 meeting because notices have not yet gone to the other governing bodies involved.

The council adopted on the third reading an ordinance for sale of 1.13 acres of village-owned land to Michigan Tube Co. for $4,650.

In connection with the land sale, the council approved vacating a portion of Third street included in the sold parcel, and dedication of the relocation of another portion of the street.

The council accepted the resignation of trustee Clois Pucheu. In his letter of resignation, Pucheu said he believed he could be more effective in the community as a private citizen.

Leslie Cripps, of Cripps and Associates, a Berrien Springs consulting firm, outlined procedures for applying for federal grants for community improvements. Cripps suggested the village apply for a planning grant to aid in preparing a study of village needs and planning community growth and development. Cost of applying for the grant is $200.

Cripps said the grant, if approved would pay two-thirds of the cost of the community study, which could then form the basis of an application for a public works grant or a community development grant.

OBITUARIES

George Brown

Word has been received of the death of George P. Brown, 84, of 230 S. Kansas, Olathe, Kan., formerly of St. Joseph. Mr. Brown died at his home in Olathe, on March 2, 1977. Home-Builders Penalized

LANSING (AP) — The state Department of Licensing and Regulation has revoked one home-builder's license and suspended another for alleged violations. The license of James F. Ratliff Jr. of Orchard Lake was revoked for misrepresentation of fact in obtaining his license, the department said. A 60-day suspension went to Randall M. Fenkel of West Bloomfield for violation of building laws and failure to correct a structural matter. The action was taken by a department commission which licenses those engaged in building and doing other work on homes.

Deer-Feeding Reprieve

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A winter deer-feeding program in the Upper Peninsula's Beaver Basin has won a reprieve from a federal judge. But the victory seems likely to be short-lived. U.S. District Court Judge Wendell Miles on Monday denied government requests for an injunction halting the Alger County feeding program inside the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. But the judge ruled that the U.S. Secretary of the Interior has authority to take "the necessary and appropriate steps to protect the National Lakeshore notwithstanding state and local interests in the affected wildlife. Interference by this court is therefore unnecessary." Miles said he denied the injunction to halt the feeding program because the government failed to prove the feeding is doing irreparable harm.

Casco Rejects Sewer Proposal

SOUTH HAVEN — The Casco township board last night joined the South Haven township board in rejecting a proposed area sanitary sewer district.

Action by the board not to participate in a joint project with the city and township of South Haven corresponds with the results of an advisory election of property owners on March 5 in which the proposal was rejected by more than a 3-to-1 margin.

The project would have involved construction of collection systems in South Haven and Casco townships and the upgrading of the existing city system to handle the additional sewage. Total estimated project cost was $8.5 million.

South Haven township board made a similar decision to reject the project last Thursday night during a special meeting.

A motion by Casco Trustee Henry Compton to participate in the project was defeated 4 to 1. Opposed were Supervisor Rankin Lyman, Clerk Albert Overhiser, Trustee Eldon Ridley and Treasurer Grace Adel Johnston.

"We all agreed that we need it (the sewer system), but as long as the people were against it we weren't going to support it," said Lyman. "We didn't want to stick our necks out and get it chopped off."

Compton said the township faces health problems in the immediate future, contending there are septic tank fields that are draining into the township's ditches and endangering drinking water.

He also said he believed the township board was hasty in making its decision on the basis of the advisory election.

"The people were not informed properly," said Compton. "There was confusion about the payment, especially among senior citizens."

Voters were given one week notice about the election, primarily through the news media. Compton said he would have conducted an election by mail because so many of the property owners are seasonal residents. Only 25 percent of the estimated 240 eligible property owners cast a ballot.

Eau Claire Discusses Smoking

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire school board last night heard a report from the board's representative to a committee seeking answers to a problem of student smoking on school grounds.

Board member Albert Simaz indicated there is a problem of student smoking, but said it appeared to be no better or worse than in other schools. The committee is made up of students, faculty and interested citizens and is attempting to come up with guidelines to deal with student smoking, according to another board member, Franklin Jackson.

Jackson said the board also heard a report from Ken Brauer, director of community education. He said he has received a 12 per cent return on questionnaires he sent out seeking how to create more interest in the program. He told the board the questionnaire dealt with such topics as what classes people would like and what times would be better suited for classes. The results of the questionnaire were used in setting up the community education program for the current term, Brauer reported.

The board also voted to give Dr. William Horie, school superintendent a two-year contract at an annual salary of $26,500 for the coming year. Horie's current salary is $23,750.

High School 'Bomb' Is Just Wire

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — A state police bomb squad found a ticking package following a bomb threat to Ionia High School on Monday, but contained only harmless wiring.

A caller said a bomb had been placed in a second-floor bathroom at the school and was set to go off at mid-morning. The school's 1,000 students left the building while the state police search was in progress.

Troopers uncovered a package that was ticking. But they said it contained a clock and some wiring, and no explosives.

Classes were resumed but, by then, several hundred students had left for the day.

Benton Rubbish Must Be Placed At Streets Only

Benton township has reminded residents rubbish is to be placed beside streets for collection. Supervisor Catheryn Sirk said yesterday residents who fail to comply will receive warnings and could be taken to court under the township's trash disposal ordinance if up to three warnings are ignored.

Mrs. Sirk announced March 1 that alley pickups of trash were being discontinued because winter left alleys in bad condition.

She added that rubbish should be placed in proper containers for pickup.

The suit, filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on behalf of a mother and her six children and other black students in the Benton Harbor district, has been in progress since 1967.

The Coloma district became involved because of the transfer of the former Eaman grade school district to it from Benton Harbor. The suit also involves the Eau Claire district because three areas of the Benton Harbor district were transferred there. Residents of a three-district area in Sodus township are also defendants.

A pre-trial conference was held in the case Feb. 25 in Kalamazoo.

Vega May Be Dropped

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. is considering dropping its subcompact Chevrolet Vega at the end of this model year as part of a major realignment of its small car line, a Detroit newspaper says. Quoting "inside sources," the Detroit News said GM would drop the Vega and perhaps its sister car, the Pontiac Astre, in 1978. GM officials refused to confirm the report, giving the standard response to any questions about future models. "We never discuss our future product plans," a company spokesman said.

Eau Claire Tables Action On Rate Hike, Tax Cut

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire village council tabled action on a possible water rate increase and a proposed 1.5-mill sewer tax cut last night.

The water rate increase under discussion involved moving from the present $3 per month rate to $4 or $4.50 per month.

Frank James, village president, said the increase was needed to offset a $9,290 deficit created primarily because of extensive repairs to two main water pumps.

The increase would produce $4,934 to $7,401 more in yearly revenue.

The council decided to wait until it was clear whether present rates will be able to overcome the deficit.

The proposed cut in the sewer tax levy from 3 mills to 1.5 mills will be presented at an April 11 hearing on the village's 1977-78 budget. According to Mrs. Ruth Sharpe, village clerk, it was learned only recently that adjustments were to have been made annually on the bonded millage in response to increases or decreases in sewer income. The village has not made adjustments since the project was constructed 10 years ago and a surplus has resulted, she said.

If the proposal is adopted, the cutback will result in an income drop from $8,775 to $4,385, James said.

In other areas, the council announced it will also consider granting an industrial facility exemption certificate to Shawnee Specialties Co. at the April 11 session. The lead and zinc die casting firm moved to Eau Claire from Bridgman and is asking for a tax break under a 1974 state law aimed at encouraging expansion and improvement of Michigan industries.

Shawnee plans an expenditure of $128,007 for its building, landscaping, machinery and equipment. The firm, which employed three people in Bridgman, expects to hire eight to 10 in Eau Claire by the end of the year.

A similar request by Silver Mill Frozen Foods Inc., which was to be decided on at last night's meeting, was postponed till the April 11 meeting because notices have not yet gone to the other governing bodies involved.

The council adopted on the third reading an ordinance for sale of 1.13 acres of village-owned land to Michigan Tube Co. for $4,650.

In connection with the land sale, the council approved vacating a portion of Third street included in the sold parcel, and dedication of the relocation of another portion of the street.

The council accepted the resignation of trustee Clois Pucheu. In his letter of resignation, Pucheu said he believed he could be more effective in the community as a private citizen.

Leslie Cripps, of Cripps and Associates, a Berrien Springs consulting firm, outlined procedures for applying for federal grants for community improvements. Cripps suggested the village apply for a planning grant to aid in preparing a study of village needs and planning community growth and development. Cost of applying for the grant is $200.

Cripps said the grant, if approved would pay two-thirds of the cost of the community study, which could then form the basis of an application for a public works grant or a community development grant.

Economy Depends On Cars

per cent in 1976, the largest increase since 1953. It is expected to increase by 11 per cent in 1977. Total employment last year was up by 56,700. In 1974, the state lost about 300,000 employees.

But Milliken said the unadjusted unemployment rate of 9 per cent last December was still too high.

Auto production is the key to the economy, Miller said.

"Somewhere down the road, probably in about three years, auto production is going to drop again. That's a fact we have to live with in Michigan," Miller said.

During 1976, Michigan's auto production increased 26.4 per cent compared with 1975.

A significant factor in the Michigan economy is what Miller called the average weekly earnings — the bottom line on what paychecks will buy after deductions. The average in 1970 was $143 a week. That jumped to $170 in 1973 but then fell to $155 in 1974.

"They were back up to $171 a week in 1976, and this year we forecast they will be up 6 per cent to $183," Miller said.

Miller said he does not know the likely effect of extra state funding of proposed legislation to lower the tolerance level of PBB in meat and improve state correctional facilities and social services.

"If they have to get rid of all the animals (contaminated by PBB), it would have a devastating effect," Miller said. "We could be eaten up."

Miller also predicted gasoline prices will go up 10 per cent by the end of 1977, including the governor's proposed 2-cent-a-gallon tax hike.

Benton Rubbish Must Be Placed At Streets Only

Benton township has reminded residents rubbish is to be placed beside streets for collection. Supervisor Catheryn Sirk said yesterday residents who fail to comply will receive warnings and could be taken to court under the township's trash disposal ordinance if up to three warnings are ignored.

Mrs. Sirk announced March 1 that alley pickups of trash were being discontinued because winter left alleys in bad condition.

She added that rubbish should be placed in proper containers for pickup.

Home-Builders Penalized

LANSING (AP) — The state Department of Licensing and Regulation has revoked one home-builder's license and suspended another for alleged violations. The license of James F. Rathiff Jr. of Orchard Lake was revoked for misrepresentation of fact in obtaining his license, the department said. A 60-day suspension went to Randall M. Fenkell of West Bloomfield for violation of building laws and failure to correct a structural matter. The action was taken by a department commission which licenses those engaged in building and doing other work on homes.

Deer-Feeding Reprieve

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A winter deer-feeding program in the Upper Peninsula's Beaver Basin has won a reprieve from a federal judge. But the victory seems likely to be shortlived. U.S. District Court Judge Wendell Miles on Monday denied government requests for an injunction halting the Alger County feeding program inside the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. But the judge ruled that the U.S. Secretary of the Interior has authority to take "the necessary and appropriate steps to protect the National Lakeshore notwithstanding state and local interests in the affected wildlife. Interference by this court is therefore unnecessary." Miles said he denied the injunction to halt the feeding program because the government failed to prove the feeding is doing irreparable harm.

Casco Rejects Sewer Proposal

SOUTH HAVEN — The Casco township board last night joined the South Haven township board in rejecting a proposed area sanitary sewer district.

Action by the board not to participate in a joint project with the city and township of South Haven corresponds with the results of an advisory election of property owners on March 5 in which the proposal was rejected by more than a 3-to-1 margin.

The project would have involved construction of collection systems in South Haven and Casco townships and the upgrading of the existing city system to handle the additional sewage. Total estimated project cost was $6.5 million.

South Haven township board made a similar decision to reject the project last Thursday night during a special meeting. A motion by Casco Trustee Henry Compton to participate in the project was defeated 4 to 1. Opposed were Supervisor Rankin Lyman, Clerk Albert Overhiser, Trustee Eldon Ridley and Treasurer Grace Adel Johnston.

"We all agreed that we need it

(the sewer system), but as long as the people were against it, we weren't going to support it," said Lyman. "We didn't want to stick our necks out and get it chopped off."

Compton said the township faces health problems in the immediate future, contending there are septic tank fields that are draining into the township's ditches and endangering drinking water.

He also said he believed the township board was hasty in making its decision on the basis of the advisory election.

"The people were not informed properly," said Compton. "There was confusion about the payment, especially among senior citizens."

Voters were given one week notice about the election, primarily through the news media. Compton said he would have conducted an election by mail because so many of the property owners are seasonal residents. Only 25 percent of the estimated 240 eligible property owners cast a ballot.

Eau Claire Discusses Smoking

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire school board last night heard a report from the board's representative to a committee seeking answers to a problem of student smoking on school grounds.

Board member Albert Simaz indicated there is a problem of student smoking, but said it appeared to be no better or worse than in other schools. The committee is made up of students, faculty and interested citizens and is attempting to come up with guidelines to deal with student smoking, according to another board member, Franklin Jackson.

Jackson said the board also heard a report from Ken Brauer, director of community education. He said he has received a 12 per cent return on questionnaires he sent out seeking how to create more interest in the program. He told the board the questionnaire dealt with such topics as what classes people would like and what times would be better suited for classes. The results of the questionnaire were used in setting up the community education program for the current term, Brauer reported.

The board also voted to give Dr. William Horie, school superintendent a two-year contract at an annual salary of $26,500 for the coming year. Horie's current salary is $23,750.

High School 'Bomb' Is Just Wire

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — A state police bomb squad found a ticking package following a bomb threat to Ionia High School on Monday, but contained only harmless wiring. A caller said a bomb had been placed in a second-floor bathroom at the school and was set to go off at mid-morning. The school's 1,000 students left the building while the state police search was in progress.

Troopers uncovered a package that was ticking. But they said it contained a clock and some wiring, and no explosives.

Classes were resumed but, by then, several hundred students had left for the day.

State Has New Allegan Prison Site

HOLLAND — Michigan's Department of Corrections unveiled a new site and plan for a prison facility in Allegan county here last night. The change dropped a controversial proposal to locate a minimum security prison in the Allegan state game area.

The new plan calls for developing a medium security prison on the 800-acre St. Augustine seminary in Laketown township midway between Saugatuck and Holland. It is on 66th street at 138th avenue and is operated by the St. Augustine order. The state already has an option to buy the 14-year-old Catholic facility for no more than $1.2 million.

The announcements concerning the new plans were made by Perry Johnson, department director, during a meeting initially called because of the state game area site proposal. Johnson's announcement drew applause from a predominately Allegan county crowd opposed to the state game area site. About 200 people were present.

Under the new plan, 50 acres of the seminary would be fenced off for prison use with the balance of the property assigned to the department of natural resources for recreational development.

The corrections department's original plan for the state game area called for a minimum security camp for 100 prisoners.

The new plan would provide for 400 prisoners, of which Johnson said, 400 would be medium security with the remaining 80 minimum security. Johnson said the suggestion for the new site came from Allegan county residents opposed to a prison camp in the 45,000-acre game area.

Church officials have announced that the prep school, opened in 1964, would, close in June because of a decline in enrollment. It is designed to provide housing and classroom space for 250 students. Enrollment this year was about 50. The property has a 1½ miles of Lake Michigan frontage but Johnson emphasized that the 50 acres contemplated for prison use would not include any lake frontage.

While they cheered Johnson's announcement as a victory for them, it appeared the department will be running into another wave of opposition from the Holland and Saugatuck areas.

Commissioner Walter Bray of Saugatuck and Mayor Louis Hallacy of Holland expressed negative views about the new plan. Cost of converting the seminary to prison use would bring the total outlay to $5.1 million, Johnson said, less than a third than the estimated $17.2 million it would cost to build a comparable facility from scratch.

Johnson said the annual operating budget would run between $1.5 million and $1.9 million with between 170-180 employees.

He said based on experience at other facilities, about 85 per cent of the staff would be drawn from the immediate area.

Johnson indicated that if all goes well, the first prisoners could be moving in by mid August. His timetable calls for completion of the property transfer by June 30, employment of staff by July 3

and installation of a security system by Aug. 1.

Johnson said the facility was needed because of present overcrowding in the system.

With 1,400 more prisoners than it has space for, the state is expected to add another 1,500 prisoners this year, he said.

Former State Rep. James Farnsworth said the Allegan plan is only one of seven attempts to meet the emergency prison population situation. Farnsworth is now deputy director of management and budget for the department. He was instrumental in setting up last night's meeting.

Farnsworth said the plan was approved in the department of budget and management about 10 days ago, but emphasized there will be a public hearing and legislative approval would have to be obtained for the necessary appropriation.

No date for the public hearing was set, but Farnsworth indicated it would be in a few weeks.

Watervliet Considering School Millage Request

WATERVLIT — Watervliet school Supt. Samuel Gravitt told the school board here last night there is a strong possibility that an additional property tax operating millage will be sought from the voters for next year.

The board set a special meeting for March 21 when the 1977-78 budget will be presented and Gravitt said at that time the board will consider a millage request. Another special meeting was slated for March 28 to consider teacher tenure and probation.

Gravitt said he does not know now what additional millage might be requested, but said a figure probably would be presented at the March 21 meeting.

In other action, the board approved contract offers for the coming year to five school administrators including Gravitt. Gravitt was offered a three-year contract at a salary of $28,300 for the first year with the remaining two years to be negotiated. Gravitt was given a three-year contract last year which the board threw out and come up with the new pact. Gravitt's salary this year is $27,225.

Michael Williamson, administrative assistant was offered a two-year contract at $20,010 an increase from this year's salary of $19,010. Kenneth Bannan, high school principal, was offered a two-year contract at a salary of $22,800 compared to this year's salary of $21,670. Monte Anderson, middle school principal, was offered $20,880 in a two-year contract, an increase from $20,180. Two elementary principals, David Coffeen and Wayne Wiltshire, each were offered contracts of $19,480, up from this year's $18,980.

The board turned down a request from band directors Russell Mayforth, high school, and Robert Nelson, middle school, to underwrite a summer band program at an estimated cost of $1,000 because money is not now available. The board indicated it would support the proposal once money becomes available.

The board authorized purchase of a new copy machine at a cost of $3,980 to replace an existing copier. Gravitt said the school will lease the copier until funds become available for purchase.

Gravitt said the board accepted his recommendation that the air conditioning system in the high school not be operated this year because of the expense of making repairs or major modifications. Gravitt said repairs would cost an estimated $2,000 to $3,000 and it may still not operate effectively or the present diesel generator could be converted to electrical power at an estimated cost of $15,000.

The board granted permission to the Southwestern Michigan Gladiolus society to use the south elementary school July 21 through 23 for a flower show and waived the rental fee. The group will pay for custodial help.

Spring coaching assignments were approved. Bob Freed and Bob Delaney will coach the girl's softball team and Jerry Barchett will serve as assistant boy's track coach.

The board directed the board secretary to write letters of commendation to four groups including the boy's basketball team, the girl's volleyball team, the senior high band and the north elementary school safety patrol for their successes this year.

Gravitt told the board that nominating petitions for two expiring seats on the school board must be in to the school secretary by April 11 at 4 p.m. The terms of current board President George Shane and Alton Wendzel are expiring. Shane said he plans to seek re-election. Wendzel did not attend last night's meeting and has given no indication whether he will seek re-election.

Niles Plans Second Try For Millage

NILES — The Niles school board last night voted to try for the second time this year to get voter approval of an additional four-mill tax levy.

The board set Tuesday, May 10, as the date for the special election to decide the fate of the proposal which would raise an estimated $675,000 for school operations the first year of the three-year levy.

An identical proposal was turned down by voters by a near 2 to 1 margin on March 8.

If approved, the district's total tax levy would be increased from its present 31.625 mills to 35.625.

State Okays Gobles School Bond Proposal

GOBLES — The Gobles school board last night was told by Supt. Guy Laversee that the state board of education has given its approval to a $3,150,000 school construction bond issue to be put before voters in a special election April 23.

State approval came after examination of the amount and length of the construction projects that include construction of a new high school, remodeling that would permit use of the present high school building as a middle school and repair work for the elementary school.

Laversee also showed the board a break down on costs for each of the construction projects that include construction of a new high school, remodeling that would permit use of the present high school building as a middle school and repair work for the elementary school.

Laversee said the $2,100 square foot high school would cost $2,976,190 of the total; remodeling on the old high school, $120,480; and repairs to the elementary school, $53,330.

According to the school architects, Binda Associates, Battle Creek, the bond issue would require a 7.07 property tax mill levy the first year with subsequently declining levies to make bond payments.

In other business, the board discussed but took no action on suggestions from the audience that more teachers have first aid training. The board noted that the school is located near the Gobles medical center and expressed concern about school liability insurance if the school required teachers to have first aid training.

Also discussed was student smoking in school restrooms. Some members of the audience told the board that other schools have designated student smoking areas. Laversee maintained that he felt smoking should not be permitted on school grounds.

Laversee informed the board that the district would administer federal Title I remedial reading funds next year. The Gobles district had been under a cooperative program with the Van Buren intermediate school district which had administered the funds. The intermediate district board approved turning over administration of the program to the individual districts.

Laversee said the district would get $25,000 for a remedial reading teacher and two aides.

BANGOR NAMES STAFF

Appointment Permanent

BANGOR — The Bangor school board promoted Fred Stap to superintendent and extended the contracts of two other administrators last night.

Stap had been acting superintendent technically since last May when Supt. Howard Beyer was suspended by the board for failing to inform it of a property transfer out of the district. Beyer was fired in June.

But even before that time, Stap, 43, had assumed many of the duties of running the district while Beyer was on sick leave. Although the board extended Stap's contract for two years, he will continue to be paid at his present rate of $25,000 annually.

Stap was authorized to seek bids for repairs on the elementary school roof and to put permanent walls in place of partitions now in several rooms at the high school.

The Edwin Raphael company, Holland, was awarded a $1,475 contract for drapes at the new middle school; and the Peerless company of Indiana a $13,625 contract for a new well.

Mrs. Peggy Phillips was appointed as the board's representative at the June 6 election to pick two members of the Van Buren intermediate school board. Board member Mildred Royal announced she

Paw Paw Area Sewer Vote Set

BY DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau
PAW PAW — Property owners in Paw Paw township who are included in plans for a proposed $8 million area sewer system will get a chance to vote on whether they want the system.

Township Supervisor Gale

Copping said Monday the township board will be sending out notices of the election to affected property owners later this week or early next week. He said mechanics of the vote are still being worked out, but only those in the sewer study area will be allowed to cast ballots. A date was to be announced later.

Last Thursday, the township board approved the facilities plan for the system. Its study area also contains parts of Antwerp and Waverly township and Paw Paw village.

"The approval of the facility plan does not commit either the township or affected residents to the construction of a connecting sewer system at this time," Copping said. "Rather, the action taken by the township board, in approving the plan will make it possible for partial federal and state funding of connecting sewers at such time as the residents of the various study areas request sewer connections."

In a news release, the township board board indicated that where the majority of residents favor sewers, the board would seriously consider proceeding toward construction. In areas where the system is not necessary or the majority of residents are against, construction would be "held in abeyance until such time as a sewer system is mandated."

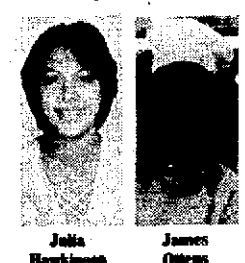

Lawrence Juniors Will Present Play

LAWRENCE — "Off the Track," a comedy about a group of people stranded in a railroad station, will be presented by the Lawrence junior class at the high school auditorium, March 17, 18 and 19. Thursday's performance will be at 7:30 p.m., with Friday and Saturday's at 8 p.m.

Playing the leading roles are Julia Hawkinson and James Otens.

BH Credit Union Will Meet

The eighth annual meeting of Peoples Community Federal Credit union will be held Saturday, March 18, at Ramada Inn, south of Benton Harbor. Mrs. Frances McBride, credit union manager, said tickets may be obtained at the credit union office, 426 East Main street, Benton Harbor, or by calling 927-3907. The event will start with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. followed by a buffet dinner at 7.

off for prison use with the balance of the property assigned to the department of natural resources for recreational development.

The corrections department's original plan for the state game area called for a minimum security camp for 100 prisoners.

The new plan would provide for 480 prisoners, of which Johnson said, 400 would be medium security with the remaining 80 minimum security. Johnson said the suggestion for the new site came from Allegan county residents opposed to a prison camp in the 45,000-acre game area.

Church officials have announced that the prep school, opened in 1964, would, close in June because of a decline in enrollment. It is designed to provide housing and classroom space for 250 students. Enrollment this year was about 50. The property has a 1½ miles of Lake Michigan frontage but Johnson emphasized that the 50 acres contemplated for prison use would not include any lake frontage.

While they cheered Johnson's announcement as a victory for them, it appeared the department will be running into another wave of opposition from the Holland and Saugatuck areas.

Commissioner Walter Bray of Saugatuck and Mayor Louis Hallacy of Holland expressed negative views about the new plan. Cost of converting the seminary to prison use would bring the total outlay to $5.1 million, Johnson said, less than a third than the estimated $17.2 million it would cost to build a comparable facility from scratch.

Johnson said the annual operating budget would run between $3.5 million and $3.9 million with between 170-180 employees.

He said based on experience at other facilities, about 85 per cent of the staff would be drawn from the immediate area.

Johnson indicated that if all goes well, the first prisoners could be moving in by mid August. His timetable calls for completion of the property transfer by June 30, employment of staff by July 5

and installation of a security system by Aug. 1.

Johnson said the facility was needed because of present overcrowding in the system.

With 1,400 more prisoners than it has space for, the state is expected to add another 1,500 prisoners this year, he said.

Former State Rep. James Farnsworth said the Allegan plan is only one of seven attempts to meet the emergency prison population situation. Farnsworth is now deputy director of management and budget for the department. He was instrumental in setting up last night's meeting.

Farnsworth said the plan was approved in the department of budget and management about 10 days ago, but emphasized there will be a public hearing and legislative approval would have to be obtained for the necessary appropriation.

No date for the public hearing was set, but Farnsworth indicated it would be in a few weeks.

Watervliet Considering School Millage Request

WATERVLIET — Watervliet school Supt. Samuel Gravitt told the school board here last night there is a strong possibility that an additional property tax operating millage will be sought from the voters for next year.

The board set a special meeting for March 21 when the 1977-78 budget will be presented and Gravitt said at that time the board will consider a millage request. Another special meeting was slated for March 28 to consider teacher tenure and probation.

Gravitt said he does not know now what additional millage might be requested, but said a figure probably would be presented at the March 21 meeting.

In other action, the board approved contract offers for the coming year to five school administrators including Gravitt. Gravitt was offered a three-year contract at a salary of $28,300 for the first year with the remaining two years to be negotiated. Gravitt was given a three-year contract last year which the board threw out and come up with the new pact. Gravitt's salary this year is $27,225.

Michael Williamson, administrative assistant was offered a two-year contract at $20,010 an increase from this year's salary of $19,010. Kenneth Bannen, high school principal, was offered a two-year contract at a salary of $22,800 compared to this year's salary of $21,670. Monte Anderson, middle school principal, was offered $20,680 in a two-year contract, an increase from $20,180. Two elementary principals, David Coffeen and Wayne Wiltshire, each were offered contracts of $19,460, up from this year's $18,960.

The board turned down a request from band directors Russell Mayforth, high school, and Robert Nelson, middle school, to underwrite a summer band program at an estimated cost of $1,000 because money is not now available. The board indicated it would support the proposal once money becomes available.

The board authorized purchase of a new copy machine at a cost of $3,860 to replace an existing copier. Gravitt said the school will lease the copier until funds become available for purchase.

Gravitt said the board accepted his recommendation that the air conditioning system in the high school not be operated this year because of the expense of making repairs or major modifications. Gravitt said repairs would cost an estimated $2,000 to $3,000 and it may still not operate effectively or the present diesel generator could be converted to electrical power at an estimated cost of $15,000.

The board granted permission to the Southwestern Michigan Gladiolus society to use the south elementary school July 21 through 23 for a flower show and waived the rental fee. The group will pay for custodial help.

Spring coaching assignments were approved. Bob Freed and Bob Delaney will coach the girl's softball team and Jerry Barchett will serve as assistant boy's track coach.

The board directed the board secretary to write letters of commendation to four groups including the boy's basketball team, the girl's volleyball team, the senior high band and the north elementary school safety patrol for their successes this year.

Gravitt told the board that nominating petitions for two expiring seats on the school board must be in to the school secretary by April 11 at 4 p.m. The terms of current board President George Shane and Alton Wendzel are expiring. Shane said he plans to seek re-election. Wendzel did not attend last night's meeting and has given no indication whether he will seek re-election.

Niles Plans Second Try For Millage

NILES — The Niles school board last night voted to try for the second time this year to get voter approval of an additional four-mill tax levy.

The board set Tuesday, May 10, as the date for the special election to decide the fate of the proposal which would raise an estimated $675,000 for school operations the first year of the three-year levy.

An identical proposal was turned down by voters by a near 2 to 1 margin on March 8.

If approved, the district's total tax levy would be increased from its present 31.626 mills to 35.626.

SCHOOL CROSSING GUARDS: Two Hartford school crossing guards were on duty for first time Monday morning, following year of discussions between parents and school and city officials over placement of traffic lights and guards. Shown above is Police Chief Lee Spencer, left, and crossing guard Mrs.

EMERGENCY LANDING: Coast Guard auxiliary airplane on ice condition inspection flight of Lake Michigan yesterday skidded off end of runway at South Haven airport during emergency landing and nosed into field. Neither pilot George Landfield, auxiliary member and owner of plane, nor LCDR Gary Van Nevel, passenger, were hurt. Landfield said he brought plane in when one of motors malfunctioned and went into field when brakes failed. Investigation into accident was being conducted by Coast Guard and Federal Aeronautics administration. Accident occurred at 3:45 p.m. (Tom Renner photo)

Paw Paw Area Sewer Vote Set

Paw Paw Bureau
PAW PAW — Property owners in Paw Paw township who are included in plans for a proposed $9 million area sewer system will get a chance to vote on whether they want the system.

Township Supervisor Gale

Copping said Monday the township board will be sending out notices of the election to affected property owners later this week or early next week. He said mechanics of the vote are still being worked out, but only those in the sewer study area will be allowed to cast ballots. A date was to be announced later.

Last Thursday, the township board approved the facilities plan for the system. Its study area also contains parts of Antwerp and Waverly township and Paw Paw village.

"The approval of the facility plan does not commit either the township or affected residents to the construction of a connecting sewer system at this time," Copping said. "Rather, the action taken by the township board, in approving the plan will make it possible for partial federal and state funding of connecting sewers at such time as the residents of the various study areas request sewer connections."

In a news release, the township board board indicated that where the majority of residents favor sewers, the board would seriously consider proceeding toward construction. In areas where the system is not necessary or the majority of residents are against, construction would be "held in abeyance until such time as a sewer system is mandated."

Lawrence Juniors Will Present Play

LAWRENCE — "Off the Track," a comedy about a group of people stranded in a railroad station, will be presented by the Lawrence junior class at the high school auditorium, March 17, 18 and 19.

Thursday's performance will be at 7:30 p.m., with Friday and Saturday's at 8 p.m.

Playing the leading roles are Julia Hawkinson and James Ottens.

BH Credit Union Will Meet

The eighth annual meeting of Peoples Community Federal Credit union will be held Saturday, March 19, at Ramada Inn, south of Benton Harbor. Mrs. Frances McBride, credit union manager, said tickets may be obtained at the credit union office, 420 East Main street, Benton Harbor, or by calling 927-3507. The event will start with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. followed by a buffet dinner at 7.

BANGOR NAMES STAFF

Appointment Permanent

BANGOR — The Bangor school board promoted Fred Stap to superintendent and extended the contracts of two other administrators last night.

Stap had been acting superintendent technically since last May when Supt. Howard Beyer was suspended by the board for failing to inform it of a property transfer out of the district. Beyer was fired in June.

But even before that time, Stap, 43, had assumed many of the duties of running the district while Beyer was on sick leave. Although the board extended Stap's contract for two years, he will continue to be paid at his present rate of $25,000 annually. Stap has been with the district for eight years.

The board also extended the contracts of high school principal John Balzer and elementary principal Franklin McCarroll for two years, but their salaries were left unchanged — Balzer at $24,000 and McCarroll at $19,500.

In other areas, the board approved curriculum changes making courses in American literature and oral communications required for 11th graders. English teacher Daniel Skarritt called the new requirements a move toward getting back to fundamentals.

The board voted to eliminate the summer Title I reading program and use the money that will be saved toward expanding regular school year reading programs.

Stap was authorized to seek bids for repairs on the elementary school roof and to put permanent walls in place of partitions now in several rooms at the high school.

The Edwin Raphael company, Holland, was awarded a $1,475 contract for drapes at the new middle school; and the Peerless company of Indiana a $13,625 contract for a new well.

Mrs. Peggy Phillips was appointed as the board's representative at the June 6 election to pick two members of the Van Buren intermediate school board. Board member Mildred Royal announced she had been elected secretary-treasurer of the newly formed Van Buren school board association.

The board also authorized the expenditure of $656 to extend the water sprinkler system to a spray booth in the high school shop area for fire protection.

School Gets Wrecked Car

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire public schools has been given a wrecked 1977 Oldsmobile Cutlass for instructional purposes by Oldsmobile division of General Motors. The auto, damaged in a transport accident, will be used by the high school in auto mechanics classes to aid instruction, according to Howard Ver Hage, director of shared-time occupational education.

Fennville Article Published

FENNVILLE — Mrs. Gladys Kincaid, media department chairman of the Fennville public schools, has written an article that was published in the winter edition of the Michigan Librarian. The article was entitled "The Fennville Public Schools Reach Out." The article described what roles the Fennville school library plays in providing programs to meet the needs of patrons.

Underdog Vitale Feels Pressure Will Be On U-M

By DAVID N. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Fast-break talker Dick Vitale went home Monday to get his University of Detroit basketball team ready for No. 1 ranked Michigan.

But the feisty coach left behind a stream-of-consciousness monologue on the intrastate matchup that would have made James Joyce proud.

"What can I say about Michigan, except that their record speaks for itself," he said in his heavy south New Jersey street accent following his team's victory over Middle Tennessee here Sunday. "My players know I always try to be as honest and as fair with them as possible. I will not lie to them and tell 'em we are not overpersuaded.

"I'm not worried a damn about coaching. I'm not worried a damn about competing with Johnny Orr. I'm worried about one thing. I'm gonna lose sleep worrying about (Kickey) Green, about (Steve) Grote, about (Johnny) Robinson, about (Phil) Hubbard and about their bench. 'Cause they got personnel."

But Vitale says because his 25-3 team will be the underdog in Thursday's Midwest Regional game at Lexington, Ky., the pressure will be on the top-ranked Wolverines.

"The burden is on them. They must bring the robes to Ann Arbor. We are just a poor little school. But we've wanted this challenge. I know myself as a coach, you always try to face the best. And right now they are the best.

"They might beat us by 30 ... 40 ... 50, but you know what? We're gonna challenge 'em, fight our heads out, because we are proud to be representing the city of Detroit — not just the university — playing in Lexington."

Two of Vitale's top seven players are from Detroit itself and three more are from its suburbs. And Vitale says even he is astounded they came to play with him and that they have beaten four teams that won 20 games this season.

"An $8,000 budget playing the giants?," he marveled. "Playing the $100,000 guys with the super blazers, the bag time programs and we're the little guys. We're the guys that are just down here, trying to scrap to make it.

"I walk into a kid's house and say 'Detroit' and he looks at me like 'Are you see-see-see ... Detroit?' I could go to Houston, I could go out to Florida. I could go all over the country."

"I gotta spend eight hours to get him to listen, to lift his head. Ye Michigan walks in and says, 'Michigan' and the kid is jumping outta his seat. He's going crazy that Michigan is talking to him. Me, I gotta go, 'Terry, I want you so badly.' And he says, 'But coach, I could go to Michigan.'"

"But they came with the bald-headed, one-eyed Italian and we got a great family. I love 'em."

By DAVE KAYE
AP Sports Writer

Fame is fleeting.

Two weeks ago, the University of San Francisco was coasting along with a 29-0 record. Then along came Notre Dame and the Irish ended the Dons' skien, beating them 93-82. The loss dropped San Francisco from No. 1 in The Associated Press Top Twenty to No. 3 after the Dons had held the top position most of the season.

Last week, San Francisco went up against the Runnin' Rebels of Nevada-Las Vegas and lost again, 121-95, in the opening round of the NCAA tournament, and plummeted to eighth in the final poll of the season.

Michigan, 25-3, finished No. 1 with 893 points, garnering 28 first-place votes in national balloting by a panel of 49 sportswriters and broadcasters.

The Wolverines beat Holy Cross 92-81 in the first round of the NCAA tournament after edging Marquette 69-68 in their regular-season finale.

UCLA, 24-4, beat Louisville 87-79 in the NCAA tourney and held its No. 2 ranking with 836 points, receiving eight first-place votes. Kentucky, 23-3, was one of the big climbers in this week's poll, vaulting from sixth to No. 3 with 775 points and seven first-place votes after routing Princeton 72-58.

Nevada-Las Vegas, 26-2, beat San Francisco and rose one place from fourth with 743 points and five No. 1 votes. North Carolina's Tar Heels, 25-4, beat Purdue 66-66 but fell from fourth to No. 5 with 638 points and one first-place vote.

Syracuse's Orangemen, 26-3, upset Tennessee 93-88 in overtime in the NCAA and leaped from 10th to No. 6.

Marquette, 21-7, in addition to losing to Michigan, beat Cincinnati 66-51 in the NCAA and jumped from 18th to seventh.

After San Francisco, 29-2, came Wake Forest, 23-6. The Deacons, unranked a week ago, defeated Arkansas 86-80 in the national tourney and leaped to No. 9. Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, 21-6, beat Hofstra 90-83 in the NCAA and moved from 15th to 10th, rounding out the top 10.

Alabama, 23-4, beat Memphis State 90-63 in the first round of the National Invitation Tournament and climbed one spot to 11th. Detroit, 25-3, beat Middle Tennessee 93-78 in an NCAA opening-round game and vaulted from 17th to 12th. Minnesota, 22-3, did not play, and remained 13th.

Utah, 22-8, beat St. John's, N.Y., 72-68 in an NCAA game and rose from 19th to 14th. Tennessee, 20-8, finished 15th after losing to Syracuse.

Kansas State, 23-7, defeated Providence 87-60 in the NCAA tourney and wound up 16th in the poll. North Carolina-Charlotte, 24-3, beat Central Michigan 91-88 in overtime in another NCAA game and moved from 18th to 17th.

Arkansas, 28-2 and No. 8 a week ago, plunged to 18th after losing to Wake Forest. Louisville, 21-7, lost to UCLA and fell from 14th to 19th.

Rounding out the Top 20 was VMI, 26-3. The Keydets, who were unranked a week ago, beat Duquesne 73-66 in an NCAA contest.

Cincinnati, 23-5, Providence, 24-5, and Arizona, 21-6, all lost in the NCAA tournament and fell out of the final poll.

Suit Filed To Block Arena

DETROIT (AP) — Saying he wants to know exactly how much a proposed new riverfront arena is going to cost Detroit taxpayers, a Birmingham man filed suit Monday to block construction of the facility.

The suit was filed in Wayne County Circuit Court on behalf of attorney George Kratchman, who owns an office building on the city's east side.

Kratchman is represented by attorney Ron Prebenda, who successfully sued five years ago to block city plans for a downtown football stadium. A stadium later was constructed in Pontiac.

Prebenda said the state Supreme Court ruling in that 1972 suit mandates that a city make full disclosure of all costs involved in such municipal projects before selling bonds to finance them.

Prebenda said the city has violated that ruling by publishing notice that the arena will cost $22.8 million.

"They don't dare come out and say that including interest from the bonds, it will cost $40 million or $50 million," he said.

Kratchman, 62, is an attorney now practicing in Southfield who formerly had his offices in Detroit. He still owns property in that city, and thus is entitled to sue as a taxpayer.

Otis Sparks Houston Win

Alabama Also Advances In NIT Tourney

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It was the right time, the right place and the right player for the Houston Cougars.

"With about 12 seconds to go, I turned to my assistant coach and told him Otis would win it for us," said Houston Coach Guy Lewis, talking about Otis Birdsong, the Cougars' shooting star who averages 30 points per game.

Lewis did not have to wait long to see his prophecy come true. Six seconds later, Birdsong stole a pass, raced down-court and put in a jump shot, giving the Cougars a 91-90 overtime victory over Illinois State in the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Tournament Monday night.

The victory advanced Houston to Thursday night's semifinals against Alabama, which earlier Monday beat Virginia Tech 79-72. The remaining semifinalists will be decided tonight when Villanova meets Massachusetts and Oregon plays St. Bonaventure.

Before Birdsong scored the winning basket, Illinois State had made it a breath-taking contest in the second half. Trailing by 14 points at intermission, the Redbirds rallied behind brawny Jeff Wilkins and finally caught up with Houston on Ron Jones' two free throws with one second left in regulation time.

That tied the score 81-81 and set up a pulsating overtime period during which the teams never were more than four points apart. Joe Galvin's field goal with 15 seconds left provided Illinois State with a 90-89 edge before Birdsong scored his game-winner. His 30 points matched his season's average.

Birdsong was not the only Houston hero. Cecil Rose scored 26 points for the Cougars, including eight of their 10 in overtime.

Wilkins wound up with 28 points for the Redbirds before fouling out with three minutes left in regulation time.

The Alabama-Virginia Tech game was almost as exciting. The Crimson Tide, which had beaten the Gubblers by 30 points earlier in the season, had a more difficult time putting them away this time. In fact, Alabama trailed by 10 points at one juncture and was losing 45-40 at intermission.

Area Coaches To Face Bears In Cage Game

DOWAGIAC — The Chicago Bears are coming to town. But not to play football.

The Bears will face a group of area coaches in a benefit basketball game at 8 p.m. Friday at the Dowagiac high school gym. The game is sponsored by the Dowagiac Men's Varsity Club.

Among the Bears expected to participate are Doug Buffone, Walter Payton, Doug Avellini, Craig Clemmons, Jim Osborne, Dennis Lick, Bob Thomas and coach Jack Pardee.

The team of area coaches is headed by Lakeshore junior varsity coach Jim Sanford and St. Joe coaches Ike Muhlkamp (football) and Rick Bloodworth (girls basketball). Kenneth Wilson of Cassopolis will also be on hand.

Dowagiac coaches will participate, including former Buchanan standout Dave Shoemaker. Also on the team is Dowagiac middle school principal Hal Wheeler.

Tickets are $2 if purchased before Friday or $2.50 at the door. Tickets may be purchased from Denny Knola at Lakeshore high school.

them as possible. I will not lie to them and tell 'em we are not overpersoneled.

"I'm not worried a damn about coaching. I'm not worried a damn about competing with Johnny Orr. I'm worried about one thing: I'm gonna lose sleep worrying about (Rickey) Green, about (Steve) Grote, about (Johnny) Robinson, about (Phil) Hubbard and about their bench. 'Cause they got personnel."

But Vitale says because his 25-3 team will be the underdog in Thursday's Mid-east Regional game at Lexington, Ky., the pressure will be on the top-ranked Wolverines.

"The burden is on them. They must bring the roses to Ann Arbor. We are just a poor little school. But we've wanted this challenge. I know myself as a coach, you always try to face the best. And right now they are the best.

"They might beat us by 30... 40... 50, but you know what? We're gonna challenge 'em, fight our heats out, because we are proud to be representing the city of Detroit — not just the university — playing in Lexington."

Two of Vitale's top seven players are from Detroit itself and three more are from its suburbs. And Vitale says even he is astounded they came to play with him and that they have beaten four teams that won 20 games this season.

"An $8,000 budget playing the giants?," he marveled. "Playing the $100,000 guys with the super blazers, the big time programs and we're the little guys. We're the guys that are just down here, trying to scrap to make it.

"I walk into a kid's house and say 'Detroit' and he looks at me like 'Are you seer-ecious... Detroit? I could go to Houston. I could go out to Florida. I could go all over the country.'

"I gotta spend eight hours to get him to listen, to lift' his head. Yet Michigan walks in and says, 'Michigan' and the kid is jumpin' outta his seat. He's goin' crazy that Michigan is talking to him. Me. I gotta go. 'Terry. I want you so badly.' And he says, 'But coach, I could go to Michigan!'

"But they came with the bald-headed, one-eyed Italian and we got a great family. I love 'em."

By DAVE KAYE
AP Sports Writer

Fame is fleeting.

Two weeks ago, the University of San Francisco was coasting along with a 29-0 record. Then along came Notre Dame and the Irish ended the Dons' skein, beating them 93-82. The loss dropped San Francisco from No. 1 in The Associated Press Top Twenty to No. 3 after the Dons had held the top position most of the season.

Last week, San Francisco went up against the Runnin' Rebels of Nevada-Las Vegas and lost again, 121-95, in the opening round of the NCAA tournament, and plummeted to eighth in the final poll of the season.

Michigan, 25-3, finished No. 1 with 893 points, garnering 28 first-place votes in national balloting by a panel of 49 sportswriters and broadcasters.

The Wolverines beat Holy Cross 92-81 in the first round of the NCAA tournament after edging Marquette 69-68 in their regular-season finale.

UCLA, 24-4, beat Louisville 87-79 in the NCAA tourney and held its No. 2 ranking with 836 points, receiving eight first-place votes. Kentucky, 25-3, was one of the big climbers in this week's poll, vaulting from sixth to No. 3 with 775 points and seven first-place votes after routing Princeton 72-58.

Nevada-Las Vegas, 26-2, beat San Francisco and rose one place from fourth with 743 points and five No. 1 votes. North Carolina's Tar Heels, 25-4, beat Purdue 69-66 but fell from fourth to No. 5 with 638 points and one first-place vote.

Syracuse's Orangemen, 26-3, upset Tennessee 93-88 in overtime in the NCAA and leaped from 10th to No. 6.

Marquette, 21-7, in addition to losing to Michigan, beat Cincinnati 66-51 in the NCAA and jumped from 18th to seventh.

After San Francisco, 29-2, came Wake Forest, 23-6. The Deacons, unranked a week ago, defeated Arkansas 86-80 in the national tourney and leaped to No. 9. Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, 21-6, beat Hofstra 90-83 in the NCAA and moved from 15th to 10th, rounding out the top 10.

Alabama, 25-4, beat Memphis State 80-63 in the first round of the National Invitation Tournament and climbed one spot to 11th. Detroit, 25-3, beat Middle Tennessee 93-76 in an NCAA opening-round game and vaulted from 17th to 12th. Minnesota, 22-3, did not play, and remained 13th.

Utah, 22-6, beat St. John's, N.Y., 72-68 in an NCAA game and rose from 19th to 14th. Tennessee, 20-9, finished 15th after losing to Syracuse.

Kansas State, 23-7, defeated Providence 87-80 in the NCAA tourney and wound up 16th in the poll. North Carolina-Charlotte, 24-3, beat Central Michigan 91-86 in overtime in another NCAA game and moved from 18th to 17th.

Arkansas, 26-2 and No. 8 a week ago, plunged to 18th after losing to Wake Forest. Louisville, 21-7, lost to UCLA and fell from 14th to 19th.

Rounding out the Top 20 was VMI, 26-3. The Keydets, who were unranked a week ago, beat Duquesne 73-66 in an NCAA contest.

Cincinnati, 25-5, Providence, 24-5, and Arizona, 21-6, all lost in the NCAA tournament and fell out of the final poll.

Suit Filed To Block Arena

DETROIT (AP) — Saying he wants to know exactly how much a proposed new riverfront arena is going to cost Detroit taxpayers, a Birmingham man filed suit Monday to block construction of the facility.

The suit was filed in Wayne County Circuit Court on behalf of attorney George Kratchman, who owns an office building on the city's east side.

Kratchman is represented by attorney Ron Prebenda, who successfully sued five years ago to block city plans for a downtown football stadium. A stadium later was constructed in Pontiac.

Prebenda said the state Supreme Court ruling in that 1972 suit mandates that a city make full disclosure of all costs involved in such municipal projects before selling bonds to finance them.

Prebenda said the city has violated that ruling by publishing notice that the arena will cost $22.8 million.

"They don't dare come out and say that including interest from the bonds, it will cost $40 million or $50 million," he said.

Kratchman, 62, is an attorney now practicing in Southfield who formerly had his offices in Detroit. He still owns property in the city, and thus is entitled to sue as a taxpayer.

Otis Sparks Houston Win

Alabama Also Advances In NIT Tourney

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It was the right time, the right place and the right player for the Houston Cougars.

"With about 12 seconds to go, I turned to my assistant coach and told him Otis would win it for us," said Houston Coach Guy Lewis, talking about Otis Birdsong, the Cougars' shooting star who averages 30 points per game.

Lewis did not have to wait long to see his prophecy come true. Six seconds later, Birdsong stole a pass, raced down-court and put in a jump shot, giving the Cougars a 91-90 overtime victory over Illinois State in the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Tournament Monday night.

The victory advanced Houston to Thursday night's semifinals against Alabama, which earlier Monday beat Virginia Tech 79-72. The remaining semifinalists will be decided tonight when Villanova meets Massachusetts and Oregon plays St. Bonaventure.

Before Birdsong scored the winning basket, Illinois State had made it a breath-taking contest in the second half. Trailing by 14 points at intermission, the Redbirds rallied behind brawny Jeff Wilkins and finally caught up with Houston on Ron Jones' two free throws with one second left in regulation time.

That tied the score 81-81 and set up a pulsating overtime period during which the teams never were more than four points apart. Joe Galvin's field goal with 15 seconds left provided Illinois State with a 90-89 edge before Birdsong scored his game-winner. His 30 points matched his season's average.

Birdsong was not the only Houston hero. Cecil Rose scored 26 points for the Cougars, including eight of their

10 in overtime.

Wilkins wound up with 28 points for the Redbirds before fouling out with three minutes left in regulation time.

The Alabama-Virginia Tech game was almost as exciting. The Crimson Tide, which had beaten the Gobblers by 30 points earlier in the season, had a more difficult time putting them away this time. In fact, Alabama trailed by 10 points at one juncture and was losing 45-40 at intermission.

Area Coaches To Face Bears In Cage Game

DOWAGIAC — The Chicago Bears are coming to town. But not to play football.

The Bears will face a group of area coaches in a benefit basketball game at 8 p.m. Friday at the Dowagiac high school gym. The game is sponsored by the Dowagiac Men's Varsity Club.

Among the Bears expected to participate are Doug Buffone, Walter Payton, Bob Avellini, Craig Clemens, Jim Osborne, Dennis Lick, Bob Thomas and coach Jack Pardee.

The team of area coaches is headed by Lakeshore junior varsity coach Jim Sanford and St. Joe coaches Ike Muhlenkamp (football) and Rick Bloodworth (girls basketball). Kenneth Wilson of Cassopolis will also be on hand.

Dowagiac coaches will participate, including former Buchanan standout Dave Shoemaker. Also on the team is Dowagiac middle school principal Hal Wheeler.

Tickets are $2 if purchased before Friday or $2.50 at the door. Tickets may be purchased from Denny Kniola at Lakeshore high school.

Toronto Nips Expos In Canadian Match

Pirates Toss One-Hitter

By ALEX SACHARE

Toronto beat Montreal 3-2 Monday ... but the sport was baseball, not hockey.

"It seems like we won the Stanley Cup, doesn't it?" asked Lloyd Allen in the jubilant Toronto lockerroom after the Blue Jays edged the Expos in the first meeting between Canada's two major league baseball teams. "We gave it just that little extra bit today."

The expansion Blue Jays are in the American League and the Expos are in the National, so the two clubs will not meet in regular season play. That added extra excitement to Monday's exhibition matchup.

The Expos twice took one-run leads on unearned runs, but Toronto came back and tied the score in the second and seventh innings, then pushed across the winning run in the eighth.

Steve Stagg beat out a bunt to open the eighth. The Blue Jays got runners on first and second, when Montreal relief pitcher Will McEneaney fielded Jim Mason's bunt and threw to second too late to get Stagg.

John Scott grounded to third baseman Pete Mackanin, who tagged Stagg and threw to first for a double play. But veteran Ron Fairly, a former Expos player, slapped a single to center, driving in Mason with the winning run.

Allen blanked the Expos on two hits over the last three innings in gaining the victory. He struck out four.

In other games: The Seattle Mariners, the other American League expansion team, whipped the Chicago Cubs 10-5 as Dave Collins, Rupert Jones and Lee Stanton homered, keying a nine-run first inning.

Jerry Reuss and five relievers limited Philadelphia to one hit in pitching the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 11-0 victory over the Phils. Al Oliver, Willie Stargell, Omar Moreno and Dave Parker homered for the Pirates.

Home runs by Johnny Grubb, Boog Powell and Buddy Bell highlighted a 22-hit attack as the Cleveland Indians whipped the San Diego Padres 12-6.

The Cincinnati Reds blanked the Kansas City Royals 5-0 behind first-inning homers by Dave Concepcion and Dan Driessen. After the game, the Reds announced that Concepcion had signed a five-year contract, two years longer than any contract ever given out by the team.

Rookie Dennis Sherrill singled home the winning run in the 11th inning as the New York Yankees edged the Texas Rangers 4-3.

Dave Klingman's first-inning homer started the New York Mets to a 5-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Jim Rice, George Scott and Butch Hobson homered, carrying the Boston Red Sox to an 8-7 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Sixto Lezcano singled home one run and scored the other in the Milwaukee Brewers' 2-0 decision over the Oakland A's as Bill Travers, Bryan Haas and Ken Sanders combined for a nine-hit shutout.

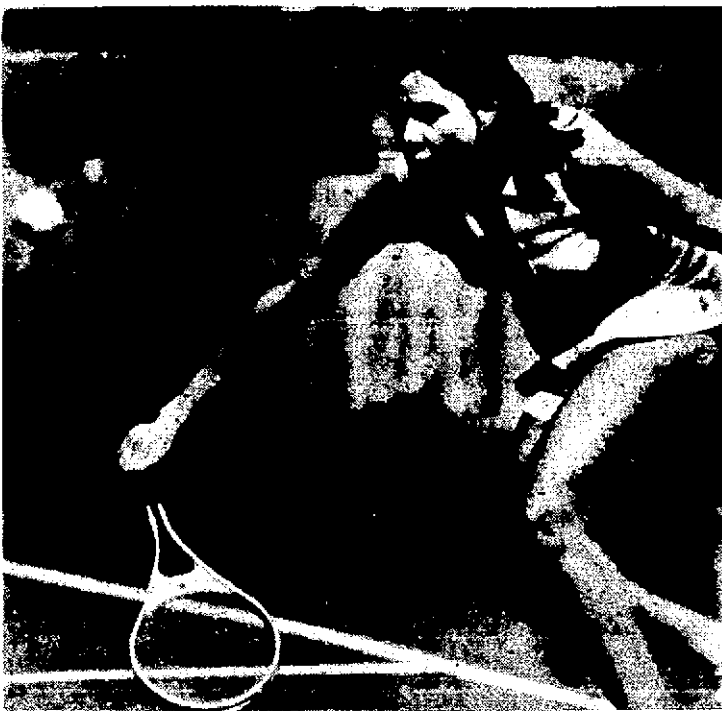

Dave Chalk's three hits led the California Angels past the San Francisco Giants 3-2.

Bob Forsch, Lerrin LaGrew, Ike Sutton and Tom Walker combined on a seven-hit shutout as the St. Louis Cardinals stopped the Detroit Tigers 3-0.

Larry Hsieh singled and doubled, driving in three runs and leading the Minnesota Twins to an 8-3 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Pesky Bucks Hold Down Jabbar In 110-106 Win

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The surveillance that annoys Kareem Abdul-Jabbar off the court took on another shape Monday night as the pesky Milwaukee Bucks shadowed the Los Angeles Lakers' star.

With center Sven Nater out-rebounding Abdul-Jabbar 13-11, the Bucks hounded the Lakers into missed opportunities and emerged with a 110-106 National Basketball Association victory.

"Tonight we just had trouble, period," Abdul-Jabbar said, denying he was being distracted by the security forces assigned to guard him.

"It's more of a bother than something to worry about," he said. "It is something the league requested for a couple of days. I didn't ask for it, and the Lakers didn't ask for it. It's not something I think about."

Extra police were on hand for the game, the only one in the NBA's schedule Monday night.

The NBA has said there have been threats against Abdul-Jabbar, a member of the Hanafi Muslim sect, members of which held about 100 hostages last week in three buildings in Washington, D.C.

The 7-foot-3½ star, who played for the Bucks before joining the Lakers, was allowed little freedom by Nater and reserve Kevin Restani, but scored 25 points.

Abdul-Jabbar had 16 (points) in the first half and only nine in the second. Bucks Coach Don Nelson noted, praising Nater. "I'd say that was pretty good," said Nelson.

Brian Winters, who had 12 of his 18 points in the second half in leading Milwaukee scoring, sank a 19-foot field goal, then a free throw, giving the Bucks a 108-101.

Nater, finishing with 14 points, scored 10 in pacing Milwaukee to a 29-25 lead at the end of the first period. The Bucks led 56-52 at halftime, then opened a 16-point lead late in the third period.

Huskies Sweep Awards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Northern Illinois has swept the major Mid-American Conference basketball awards.

John McDougall, winning the league's coaching award and Matt Hicks the Player of the Year title.

McDougall, in his first college coaching season after a long Illinois high school career, led the Huskies to a fourth-place finish after they had been a unanimous selection for last.

The 6-foot-4 Hicks, a senior from Aurora, Ill., was a unanimous all-conference selection after winning the league scoring and rebounding titles for the second straight season. He is the first player to accomplish the feat.

Hicks averaged 25.3 points and 13.0 rebounds in helping Northern Illinois to 13-14 overall and 10-6 league records.

McDougall received 39½ votes. Dick Parfitt of co-champion Central Michigan was second in the coaches' category.

Kuenn Grateful For Warnings Of Heart Trouble

SUN CITY, Ariz. (AP) — Harvey Kuenn, former major league batting champion and now a coach with the Milwaukee Brewers, says he is grateful now for all the discomfort he suffered last autumn.

It turned out to be a signal of serious heart trouble.

Kuenn, 46, found himself lacking energy and with a pain in one arm last August. An electrocardiogram showed no problem, but stress tests showed he was suffering from heart trouble.

"The doctor told me exactly what I could do and what I couldn't do in the condition that the stress test showed," Kuenn said recently at the Brewers' spring training site. "Driving the car, taking a shower. I had the potential of having a heart attack doing those things."

Further tests showed one vein in Kuenn's heart completely blocked, one 90 per cent blocked and another 80 per cent blocked.

The doctor recommended surgery, which Kuenn had Oct. 5.

"I was afraid," said Kuenn, who starred in the majors with Detroit. "You have to be afraid when they tell you the risks involved. The only surgery I'd ever had was a knee operation about four years ago, and I'd never really been sick in my life."

The surgery, involving four coronary bypasses, went well, and then Kuenn began walking for exercise. Within six weeks he was walking four to five miles per day. And he had to quit smoking.

Kuenn darts his exercising now walking across the outfield at the Brewers' practice fields.

"I think I was very fortunate for it happening the way it did," he said. "When they tell you that one out of every three people who have heart attacks die, it makes you feel fortunate. I had a chance to have it corrected. I'm very thankful."

Nater, finishing with 14 points, scored 10 in pacing Milwaukee to a 29-25 lead at the end of the first period. The Bucks led 36-32 at halftime, then opened a 16-point lead late in the third period.

Huskie Sweep Awards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Northern Illinois has swept the major Mid-American Conference basketball awards. John McDougal winning the league's coaching award and Matt Hicks the Player of the Year title.

McDougal, in his first college coaching season after a long Illinois high school career, led the Huskies to a fourth-place finish after they had been a unanimous selection for last.

The 6-foot-4 Hicks, a senior from Aurora, Ill., was a unanimous all-conference selection after winning the league scoring and rebounding titles for the second straight season. He is the first player to accomplish the feat.

Hicks averaged 25.3 points and 13.0 rebounds in helping Northern Illinois to 13-14 overall and 10-6 league records.

McDougal received 39½ votes. Dick Parfitt of co-champion Central Michigan was second in the coaches' category.

Kuenn Grateful For Warnings Of Heart Trouble

SUN CITY, Ariz. (AP) — Harvey Kuenn, former major league batting champion and now a coach with the Milwaukee Brewers, says he is grateful now for all the discomfort he suffered last autumn.

It turned out to be a signal of serious heart trouble.

Kuenn, 46, found himself lacking energy and with a pain in one arm last August. An electrocardiogram showed no problem, but stress tests showed he was suffering from heart trouble.

"The doctor told me exactly what I could do and what I couldn't do in the condition that the stress test showed," Kuenn said recently at the Brewers' spring training site. "Driving the car, taking a shower. I had the potential of having a heart attack doing those things."

Further tests showed one vein in Kuenn's heart completely blocked, one 90 per cent blocked and another 80 per cent blocked.

The doctor recommended surgery, which Kuenn had Oct. 5.

"I was afraid," said Kuenn, who starred in the majors with Detroit. "You have to be afraid when they tell you the risks involved. The only surgery I'd ever had was a knee operation about four years ago, and I'd never really been sick in my life."

The surgery, involving four coronary bypasses, went well, and then Kuenn began walking for exercise. Within six weeks he was walking four to five miles per day. And he had to quit smoking.

Kuenn does his exercising now walking across the outfield at the Brewers' practice fields.

"I think I was very fortunate for it happening the way it did," he said. "When they tell you that one out of every three people who have heart attacks die, it makes you feel fortunate. I had a chance to have it corrected. I'm very thankful."

Skier 'Serious'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Sheila McKinney, injured while practicing for a World Cup ski race, still was unconscious and in serious condition early today, a hospital spokesman reported.

RIGHT UP THERE: Mark Snow, 17, a junior center at Helix high school in La Mesa, Calif., is averaging 16.2 points and 17 rebounds per game. What makes the 6-9¾ Snow especially interesting is the fact he's a product of the same school and coach as NBA star Bill Walton. (AP Wirephoto)

Players May Lose Scholarships Rule Stirs Controversy

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coaching big-time college football is going to become "a cold-hearted profession" under a new rule limiting major schools to a maximum of 95 players on scholarship at one time, predicts Johnny Majors of Tennessee.

"I've never failed to renew a player's scholarship if he put forth an effort," Majors says, "but I may have to because of this rule."

When the National Collegiate Athletic Association put in the limits of 30 scholarships in one season but a total of only 95 in effect at any one time, it gave the schools until the 1977 season to get down to 95. And many coaches at big-time schools are scratching their heads these days trying to make four times 30 equal 95.

One answer, apparently, is runoffs. Because scholarships are renewable on a yearly basis, if a team is 10 players over the 95 limit, the 10 low men on the depth chart are likely to bite the dust and have their scholarships canceled — i.e., runoffs.

"It's a cruel thing to do, but they're forcing us to do it," says Nebraska's Tom Osborne, who figures to begin fall practice a half-dozen or so over the limit if no one flunks out or quits or gets hurt. Unless there's some kind of attrition, Osborne, like many other coaches, will just have to lift some scholarships.

And if the 95 limit is a problem this fall, just wait until next year, warns Charlie McClendon of Louisiana State.

"We're just under the limit this season, but the following year is going to be a problem for me and a lot of other folks," says McClendon. "Say you have the limit of 95 this year... well, you're not going to graduate 30 players."

Even with normal attrition, schools may have problems getting down to 95.

Alabama, for instance, is about 20 over the limit and a school spokesman says the dilemma is "tearing coach (Bear) Bryant up."

"It's a horrible rule," says Majors, who left Pitt after a 1976 national championship in try and rebuild Tennessee into a Southeastern Conference power again. "It puts the burden on the shoulders of the coach, who's

Three Women Play Key Roles In Met Franchise

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — New York Mets' rookie Lee Mazzilli dumped a bunt in front of the plate. Catcher Ted Simmons of the Cardinals pounced on the ball and, in desperate haste, threw wildly past first base.

Mazzilli, his legs churning, scampered around second and headed for third.

"Go, go, go," yelled Whitney De Roulet, 23.

They're "The Ladies of the Mets," and they're not ornaments or window dressing. They're completely involved.

Mrs. De Roulet is the Mets' president, successor to her mother, Mrs. Charles Payson, who died in October 1975. With son Dan, 22, committed to a career in New York, the daughters appear to be the ultimate heirs to the franchise, thus prolonging a maternal, upon-strings wedge in a world of tough, cigar-smoking baseball directors.

Mrs. De Roulet, as did her mother, sits in the higher councils. She is the first woman permitted on the dais at the strictly stag New York Baseball Writers' Dinner.

Whitney, wearing a famous family name, is assistant director of the public relations. Bebe has the same post in the promotions department. Both work 9-to-5 shifts and draw moderate salaries.

Both have become avid baseball fans, as has Mrs. De Roulet, who recalls how her grandmother, Mrs. John Payne Whitney of the thoroughbred racing Whitneys, used to sit by her radio and run a gamut of emotions with the old New York Giants.

The diamond fervor was passed on to Joan, who subsequently married a New York executive, Charles Payson. When Mrs. Payson died, her husband retained 48 per cent ownership with 32 per cent divided among four children — Mrs. De Roulet, two sisters and a brother, John.

"I remember grandmother's interest in the Giants and my mother used to take me to games as a child," Mrs. De Roulet said. "Then I drifted away for a while."

Vincent De Roulet, a Californian who was once ambassador to Jamaica, died in August 1975.

Whitney was the first of the daughters to get interested in baseball.

"I disliked it with a passion at first," acknowledged Bebe. "I wanted to travel. I went to South America, Peru and Paris. My main interest was riding horses — in shows and going fox-hunting."

"I fell in love with the Mets right away," said Whitney. "I started going to a lot of games in 1964. I would sit with Edna Stengel. It was fascinating."

The two daughters share their favorite personalities on the club. "We both adore Joe Torre, Ed Kranepool and Jerry Grote," said Bebe. "The older ones. They're unaffected, like a big warm blanket."

Montreal Keeps Rolling Along

MONTREAL (AP) — It has not been an easy season for opponents of the Montreal Canadiens as the defending National Hockey League champions roll to the best over-all record in the league.

The Canadiens need just one point to clinch the over-all title which will give them home-ice advantage in all of their Stanley Cup playoff games following Monday night's 3-0 triumph over the Los Angeles Kings.

It was the only game played Monday night in the NHL. The world Hockey Association was dark.

"They are certainly skating well," said Kings' center Butch Goring. "Everybody is."

Guy Lafleur, Jacques Lemaire and Guy Lapointe scored for the Canadiens with Ken Dryden blocking 25 shots for the shutout. Los Angeles goalie Rogie Vachon had 32 saves.

But it was Lafleur who drew particular praise from the Kings as he raised his league-leading point total to 122 and stretched his consecutive game point scoring streak to 20 games, two short of the NHL record set by Brannon Horvath during the 1959-60 season.

"The team moves with him," said Goring. "He has been playing super. Every team needs a leader and Lafleur seems to be theirs."

The Kings, in a second-place battle with the Pittsburgh Penguins in the Norris Division, played better Monday night than in their last appearance at Montreal Jan. 15, when they lost 6-0.

"They played well," said Canadiens' defenseman Larry Robinson, who picked up an assist on Lafleur's third-period goal, running his point total to 76, a club record for a defenseman. The previous mark was 75 set by Lapointe during the 1974-75 campaign.

Charter boat captain Casey Clark of Coloma will put his newest fishing invention on sale for the first time in southwestern Michigan during Saturday's Great Lakes Fishing Show at St. Joseph's Shadowland Ballroom.

Clark, who invented the "double downer," a few years back, will introduce "add-a-lure" at the 3 to 9:30 p.m. show. The device allows trollers to run two lures off one line.

"I guarantee that these things work very smoothly...no tangles," boasts Clark, who also teaches at Coloma. "This device has doubled my average catch per trip."

"Add-a-lure" is made of "high spring" stainless steel wire and clips on to a fisherman's line anywhere from the rod tip down to the cannonball. When a fish hits, the device "trips" and slides down to the cannonball. It comes in two sizes — one for 15-pound test line and up and another for lighter than 15-pound test line.

Clark, who has been a charter boat captain for five years, runs only about three to four feet of line between his new invention and the lure. Clark believes it has an advantage over running a lure behind a cannonball because "the lure is running by itself without a cannonball or anything else to spook fish."

Clark started using a version of his current "add-a-lure" last spring, and the first time out it caught him the winner in a fishing derby sponsored by Skipper's Landing at New Buffalo. Several refinements were made through the summer.

Clark manufactures the device himself and sells it for $1 or $5 for six.

Clark's other invention — the "double downer" — allows anglers to run two lines off a cannonball-like device.

The Coloma inventor also makes some of the lures he uses.

Now all he needs to come up with is one bait that will catch two fish at a time.

There will be another attempt to pass a wetlands bill this year in the Michigan legislature. It would require a statewide inventory of wetlands by the Department of Natural Resources and impose controls on a variety of potentially destructive uses of wetland areas.

Action on legislation requiring identification tags of fishing tip ups and dip net equipment is also expected. The dip net bill could also require the removal of dip net equipment and associated temporary buildings by June 10 of each year.

Further legislation anticipated includes amending the game law requiring monetary restitution for the illegal possession of a game animal. Present law refers to the illegal killing or possession of a game animal (presumably in its entirety). Therefore, some courts have applied the law as not meaning parts of an animal and therefore have failed to impose damages on some game law violators. New legislation would bring restitution when only parts of animals are recovered.

The Department of Natural Resources is considering three options for issuing permits to harvest deer doing crop damage.

As outlined by DNR wildlife chief Dr. David H. Jenkins, the options include:

—A normal permit quota and a "local" quota. Only local residents would be eligible for the latter permits.

—Same as first option but with "local" permits issued only to persons who own at least 30 acres in the designated area.

—A combination of the first two plans. Landowners would have five days in which to appear for permits. All others then would have five days to appear.

Tonight Set For Meeting

The Whirlpool St. Joseph Division Sportsmen's Club will meet tonight starting at 7:30 p.m. at the St. Joseph Holiday Inn.

Dave Johnson, area fish biologist, will talk on fish plans for the 1977 season. Jim Coplan, manager of the Wolf Lake fish hatchery, will speak on the operation of the Wolf Lake fish hatchery and future DNR hatchery programs.

Scores were submitted to the National Rifle Association national headquarters from across the nation to determine state champions. Bevilacqua is a member of the VFW Post 209 team which is instructed by Al Rosinski and competes at the Berrien County Sportsman's Club. VFW state commander Cecil A. American Salmon Derby Has Another New Format

The American Salmon Derby, now in its sixth year, has another new format.

Featured this year will be six one-day contests on Lake Michigan with an anticipated $810,000 in prizes, including $25,000 first prizes.

The contests are scheduled for May 21, June 1, June 25, July 16, Aug. 6 and Sept. 10. It will be on a boat basis, with an entry fee of $3,000 for a five-man team.

Prize money per contest is based on 200 boats entering, with 85 per cent of the fees being returned in prizes.

The American Salmon Derby will also have its regular contest with the $10 entry fee. That event will have a $10,000 first prize.

There will be a nine-day contest from July 16-24 for the area between Gary, Ind., and Algoma, Wis., and a 10-day event from Aug. 27-Sept. 5 from St.

Joseph to Manistee. Interested fishermen may obtain more information by writing:

American Salmon Derby, 706 Anderson Street, Ludington, Mich. 49431.

Inventory Starting

The National Wetland Inventory project of the Interior Department's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has begun operational mapping of the wetlands of the United States.

The project will classify and map all coastal wetlands of the United States, as well as parts of the Dakota prairie pothole and Mississippi delta regions during fiscal year 1977. The inventory staff expects to complete the entire United States by the end of 1978.

The loss of habitat is the most serious threat to wildlife in the United States today. Wetlands are vital nursery areas for many forms of wildlife, fish, and fowl, yet marshes, fens, bogs, and swamps across the nation are being drained and modified at an alarming rate.

The need for a national survey of remaining wetlands was recognized several years ago and preparations for operational mapping were begun in fiscal year 1975.

The last National Wetland Inventory was completed in 1954 and surveyed only the lower 48 states. The new National Wetland Inventory will maintain a data base, in both map and computer form, in which wetlands data will be stored and updated.

Mini Clinics Top Fishing Show Here

Mini fishing clinics will be highlighted Saturday at the annual Great Lakes Sport Fishing Show at St. Joseph's Shadowland Ballroom.

Clinics covering stream fishing, rod building, downrigger fishing, spawn bags, fishing wigglers, light line fishing, lake trout fishing and chinook angling in rivers will be featured at the free 3 to 9:30 p.m. show.

The event will be sponsored by the Southwestern Michigan Steelheaders, a chapter of the Michigan Steelhead and Salmon Fishermen's Association which was formed in late 1975 and now has about 425 members.

The Great Lakes Sport Fishing Show will still have equipment displays, with about 90 companies showing everything from hooks to boats. And factory representatives will be on hand.

There will also be a tackle shop with discount prices on lures and free door prizes.

Jim Doan and Dick Bell, directors of the Southwestern Michigan Steelheaders, will serve as co-chairmen of the St. Joseph show.

The St. Joe show is one of several scheduled throughout the state through April. There is also a show scheduled for South Haven on Thursday, March 31.

The shows are designed to be informative to interested fishermen, but Steelheaders will also be hoping to sign up new members. State dues are $7 per year and a chapter membership costs $5.

The Steelheaders are a non-profit organization devoted to the protection and promotion of Great Lakes sport fishing.

MSSFA has tackled such problems as stream litter, thermal and radiological pollution, DDT, PCB's and gill nets.

State dues are also used for the fishing clinics, publishing a guide book to Great Lakes fishing, the organization's monthly newspaper, the statewide fishing hot line, boat decals, arm patches and windshield decals are also offered.

Southwestern Michigan Steelheaders are also active. Last year, besides hosting the fishing clinic, they held a swap-shop, a fish boil, fishing contests, free boat safety inspections, a fishing class at St. Joseph high school and several membership meetings featuring fishing experts.

Fishing Report

The spring coho fishery on Lake Michigan is expected to get in full swing in the next couple of weeks.

A salmon fishery has developed off the nuclear plant near South Haven and is expected to spread quickly as ice conditions permit.

The fish being caught are running from 1½ to 2 pounds.

Meanwhile, high turbid water has been bothering steelhead fishermen on the St. Joseph River. A recent creel count at the Berrien Springs dam showed 35 fishermen with 19 steelhead and 6 brown trout.

Success on the St. Joseph, plus the Black and Kalamazoo Rivers, is expected to improve when the water drops and clears.

Ice conditions continue to deteriorate on inland lakes. The Department of Natural Resources has received numerous reports of fishermen going through the ice.

Woman Handed Prison Sentence In Son's Death

PAW PAW — A South Haven township woman was sentenced Monday in Van Buren circuit court to serve from three to five years in prison in connection with the 1974 death of her 13-month-old son.

Judge Meyer Warshawsky imposed the sentence on Jo Alice Harbison, 23, who had pleaded no contest earlier to a charge of attempted manslaughter, reduced from an original charge of manslaughter.

Mrs. Harbison originally told state police at South Haven that her son, Johnny Lee Harbison, had drowned in a toilet bowl at her mobile home on Airport road Nov. 16, 1974. Police however, said their investigation showed the infant had

Father's Search Is Ended

CENTREVILLE, Mich. (AP) — Howard Blue, who refused to believe that his son and a friend had simply vanished, ended a relentless three-week search for the pair with a tragic discovery.

The Sturgis man, combing rural roads in his search, noticed a bent tree branch "that didn't look right" Sunday. He stopped for a closer look and found — half submerged in water — the pickup truck containing the bodies of 23-year-old Michael Rose of Allegan and his son, 25-year-old Robert Blue of Kalamazoo.

The young men had last been seen Feb. 19, leaving a party in Fish Lake early in the foggy morning.

The father reported them missing when they didn't show up at their homes, but police could offer only routine help.

"We didn't have much notice on it, really," said Mason Meyer, St. Joseph County sheriff. "The Sturgis P.D. put out a flyer on it, but that was about it. We had an alert out for the truck if anybody saw it."

Blue discovered the partially submerged truck barely half a mile from the county sheriff's offices here, hidden by brush from the nearby road.

"We looked everywhere but in our own back yard," Sheriff Meyer said Monday.

"We all knew that Robert wouldn't just take off," said his grandmother, Mrs. Robert Blue. "If he hadn't run into foul play, we knew that he must have drowned in some body of water."

"Howard said, 'I'll find him no matter how long it takes,'" she recalled.

Blue questioned his son's friends and was able to retrace the young man's route from Fish Lake north toward Centreville. He noticed the damaged tree limb, climbed an embankment near the pond, and found the truck.

Dr. Frank Olney, assistant St. Joseph County medical examiner, said the men apparently drowned after the truck broke through ice on the pond. There was no evidence of foul play, Olney said.

The case had been delayed in part while Mrs. Harbison underwent psychiatric testing.

She was also sentenced yesterday to serve from 18 months to two years in prison as a result of her earlier guilty plea to a charge of uttering and publishing a no account check for $115 in South Haven on June 21, 1974. The two sentences are to be served concurrently.

In other cases, Oliver Lee Smith, 20, Decatur, was sentenced to from two to four years in prison, with 279 days credit, as a result of his guilty plea to a reduced charge of larceny in a building. He had originally been charged with armed robbery in connection with a $102 holdup of the Lawrence Roller Mill on Dec. 10, 1975.

Ronnie Dale Sikes, 20, Bangor, pleaded guilty to a charge of probation violation and was sentenced to six months in jail. He had been placed on two years probation last summer on a charge of attempting to swear to a false document, a driver's license, in South Haven during May, 1975.

Denver Lee Gillum, 20, 338 1/2 Park, South Haven, was placed on one year probation, fined $100, and ordered to serve 45 days in jail as a result of his earlier guilty plea to a charge of larceny in a building. The charge involves a break-in at a house at 401 North Shore drive, South Haven, last Dec. 1.

Charles Lewis, 19, route 2, Eau Claire, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted larceny in a building, tools from a pole building in Keeler township Nov. 10, 1975.

Charles Lhamon, 20, Paw Paw, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny in a building, a lawn mower from a garage on 15th avenue, Columbia township, on May 16, 1975.

Ricky Dotson, 22, Lawrence, pleaded innocent to a charge of felonious assault against his wife, Debra Dotson, with a knife, in Lawrence last Dec. 31.

George David Trowbridge, 18, 114 1/2 EQLM, Paw Paw, pleaded innocent to a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property, two cameras, in Paw Paw township Jan. 1.

Ronnie C. Leonard, 23, Martha's Vineyard trailer park, Lawton, pleaded innocent to a charge of child abuse alleging he beat a three-year-old son with a belt Jan. 15.

River Valley's Proposed Budget Projects Red Ink

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board last night approved a preliminary 1977-78 school budget showing projected expenditures higher than projected revenue.

Adopted for use by the Berrien county tax allocation board was a budget showing revenues at $2,725,427 and expenditures of $2,842,427. The budget adopted for 1976-77 was balanced at $2,623,238.

Preliminary budgets adopted at this time of the year for use by the allocation board often change before formal adoption by local school boards in the fall.

In other action, the board voted not to accept responsibility for housing the Bellwether program, an intermediate school district program for emotionally disturbed students. The program is now centered with the St. Joseph school system. Dr. Charles Williams, schools superintendent, told the board that if River Valley accepted the program, the school would have to free two classrooms, provide transportation and add two more teachers.

Although the county intermediate school district reimburses local school districts for costs, the Berrien Springs school district last week also refused to accept responsibility for the program.

On the recommendation of the curriculum and administrative council the board approved the addition of four new high school courses for the 1977-78 school year. No new teachers will be required, school officials said.

Courses added were Personal Law II in the vocational department; Biology III, a college prep course, in the science department; and U.S. history and Consumer Education in the social science department.

The board authorized Dr. Williams to seek bids on no-lead gas for school vehicles; announced that a school census will be taken in May; and also set a board work meeting for 8 p.m., Thursday.

Bad Check Earns Year Jail Term

PAW PAW — Clifford C. Benjamin, Jr., 25, Grand Junction, was sentenced in Seventh district court Monday to serve a year in jail on a reduced charge of issuing a non-sufficient fund check.

Benjamin had originally been charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by passing a check for $101 on May 30, 1975, in Bloomingdale for which he allegedly did not have enough funds in his account.

He pleaded guilty to the reduced charge. The sentence was handed down by Judge William C. Buhl.

Kennedy Against School Proposal

State Rep. Bela Kennedy (R-Bangor) said in a press release that a bill now before the house which would require all high schools to provide employment counseling and placement service is "putting the cart before the horse."

Kennedy said the proposed bill would require that beginning Sept. 15, 1978, all high schools, either alone or in cooperation with other districts or local units of government, provide the counseling and placement service.

Kennedy said, as a proponent of career education, he believes "we should have school programs which orient our students to the world of work, help them determine the kind of work they may be able to do, acquaint them with these fields and then when properly trained they will know what kind of work they can do and where to find it."

The proposed program, Kennedy said, would provide counseling and placement for students in grades 10 to 12 and to minors over 16 years of age who are school district residents. Kennedy said no funding for the local districts is provided in the bill, but Kennedy added, he feels in most cases one person would be required to operate the program.

Kennedy said he feels that his concept of career education would be "much more beneficial to our students than just hiring more people to provide more services for students who really don't know what they want to do."

Sometimes you find the most efficient energy ideas right under your nose.

Take your thermos bottle. It works on the same principle as a European home heating system we're now testing. It's called Electric Thermal Storage and it works like this.

While you're asleep, electric heating elements heat a special, brick core inside a heavily insulated container the size of an ordinary furnace. Heat in the bricks is stored inside this "thermos" until it is distributed through ordinary ductwork to heat your home.

The beauty of this system is that it uses less energy during the day, when we have our heaviest electric demand.

This could let us use our generating equipment more efficiently. Which, in turn, would help us reduce our costs. And yours.

With the way the cost of everything is going up these days, that's a pleasant switch for all of us.

While we've already pioneered the use of high voltage transmission lines, we're also continuing to research even higher voltages to move even larger chunks of electricity. The advantage here is that we can move more electricity over fewer lines. And fewer transmission lines mean lower transmission costs.

But, while we continue our search for ways to keep costs in line there are some things you can do to keep costs in line, too.

Not just by turning off lights and lowering thermostats, but by insulating your home properly, using appliances efficiently, and by considering the use of more energy-efficient devices that are already available.

Working together. It's the only way we can hope to lick the problems that affect the cost of electricity today. And tomorrow.

MAJ. BURNS GOES INTO MOURNING

'Hot Lips' Ready For Marriage

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — If you regularly watch CBS' "M-A-S-H," you know Maj. Frank Burns, a married doctor, has had an affair of almost five seasons with Maj. Margaret "Hot Lips" Houlihan, an unmarried nurse.

But Frank goes into mourning tonight. Having called a cease-fire to his woo, Hot Lips is temporarily stopping the Korean War to get married to her beloved, the never-seen-before Lt. Col. Donald Penobscott.

"It's just the beginning of things, not the ending," says Loretta Swit, who as Hot Lips is causing Burns (Larry Linville) so much grief by plighting her troth to Penobscott (Beeson Carroll).

Miss Swit, a lady with a robust, hearty laugh, says she'll soldier on next season with "M-A-S-H" but doesn't know yet if her beloved, an Army regular, will regularly check in with her unit.

The actress, a Passaic, N.J., native who began working in films and television here in 1969 after stage work on Broadway and other points, was asked why

Bloom'dale Honor Roll Announced

BLOOMINGDALE — Bloomingdale high school officials have announced the names of students in grades 9-12 who made the first semester honor roll. Honor roll students named were:

Twelfth: Judy Anderson, Pat Barnes, Steve Bartocci, Larry Bodtke, Dixie Boerman, Craig Burns, Mark Butler, Lynn Dickerson, Terry Leonard, Connie Miller, Roddy Rawson, Ray Russell, Jeff Sauer, Joann Streit, Angela Sullins, Scott Voorhees, Lori Harris.

Eleventh: Kay Bodtke, Melanie Dittlinger, George Fritz, Michele Hambley, Shirley Harris, Rania Korpak, Candy Kridler, Patty Larson, Roxanne Love, Roxann McIntyre, Emily McSpadden, Clay Ridge, Greg Sauer, Marilyn Shafer, Dan Wahnhoff.

Tenth: Fran Bartocci, Connie Butten, Amy Fleetwood, Dion Founie, Sandy Hambley, Carol Hasbrouck, Pam Jorgensen, Brad Picchiatto, Brenda Rowleson, Sue Shek, Ken Sobczyk, Elizabeth Viktoria.

Ninth: Cathy Asher, Margaret Bauer, Leslie Hooper, Sue Koblert, Julie Morehead, Candy Remington, Sherry Shek, Terry Shek, Cindy Stone.

"At that point, Gene was thinking perhaps marriage was a bit too final, and I said" — and her voice rose — "Gene, you can't be serious."

"So, they (the writers) decided that Margaret should take the plunge. I don't think it, the idea, was based on anything except growth, that the characters in 'M-A-S-H' should continue to grow and develop."

"And this seemed the way she (Hot Lips) was headed after going through all this hanky-panky with nothing but promises from Frank and broken cookies in packages from his wife."

Miss Swit was asked whether the lengthy affair caused her to get viewer mail that said, well, shame, shame on you.

"Well, no," she laughed. "I'm convinced it's because the affair was never painted as a picture of serenity, never as the way to go. It was always painted as foolish. In a way, it became a very moral thing."

"It showed there was nothing to gain with this relationship."

Doomed from the start, hey? "If you want to be ultradramatic, please do," she proposed.

TV's bride-to-be was asked if she's going steady with anyone off-camera.

"Let me just say that Margaret's life and mine are totally in a line at this moment," she cautiously replied. She went on to say a real marriage is afoot, but declined to say when or reveal the name of her beau.

Miss Swit, now that "M-A-S-H" is on a between-seasons production break, currently is rehearsing in a musical. She says she'll costar in it the next eight weeks in Salt Lake City, Utah.

If she says the play's title often enough, she'll be ready for the critical moment her real-life wedding ceremony gets down to business.

The show is "I Do, I Do."

MAJ. BURNS GOES INTO MOURNING

'Hot Lips' Ready For Marriage

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — If you regularly watch CBS' "M-A-S-H," you know Maj. Frank Burns, a married doctor, has had an affair of almost five seasons with Maj. Margaret "Hot Lips" Houlihan, an unmarried nurse.

But Frank goes into mourning tonight. Having called a cease-fire to his woo, Hot Lips is temporarily stopping the Korean War to get married to her beloved, the never-seen-before Lt. Col. Donald Penobscott.

"It's just the beginning of things, not the ending," says Loretta Swit, who as Hot Lips is causing Burns (Larry Linville) so much grief by plighting her troth to Penobscott (Beeson Carroll).

Galien Follows Lawyer's Lead On Easements

GALIEN — The Galien village council last night approved procedures outlined by its legal counsel for acquiring easements for the village's proposed $1.3 million sewer project.

Under recommendations made by Atty. Louis Desenberg, Buchanan, property owners will be given the opportunity to accompany the appraiser during his inspection and if the owner is not satisfied with the offer made for the parcel, based on the appraisal, he may seek an adjustment.

However, if voluntary agreements cannot be reached, then eventually formal condemnation proceedings will be instituted.

The recommendations also included one for purchase of land left from an easement if it had little value for the owner.

All recording fees, transfer taxes and similar expenses incidental to securing and recording the easement will be paid by the village in addition to the purchase price.

In related matters, the council passed a resolution requesting authority from the Berrien county Board of Public Works (BPW) to start formal condemnation proceedings to acquire a right-of-way on the Thomas Lazzack farm, off Holden road. The easement is needed to gain access to the sewer lagoon site.

The council approved payment of a $56,250 bill to Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph, for engineering services on the sewer project. A total of $51,400 of the bill meets eligibility requirements of the federal-state grant. The grant will pay 80 per cent of the $34,300, with Galien picking up the rest.

In other business, the council approved granting its street department crew a 50-cent per hour raise to $1.50.

Rezoning Bid Going To Royaltown Planners

The Royaltown township board last night referred to its planning commission a request from Robert McCoy to rezone his property at 3333 M-139, from single-family residential to commercial. The property which contains McCoy Auto Trim and McCoy Real Estate firm was formerly zoned commercial, but under the township's new zoning ordinance became residential. McCoy requested a public hearing on the matter.

In other areas, according to Otto Jasper, township clerk, the board accepted the $1,870 low bid of Evans Agricultural Service, Inc., Hinchman, for a 11 horsepower garden tractor with 50-inch mower for use at the township park. It was the lowest of three bids. The board signed a contract with Milton Geisler, township park superintendent, to take care of the township park for $4 per hour, an increase of 75 cents.

The township board will meet with the county road commission March 25 to discuss the summer road improvement program, it was announced.

Busy Session Due At Grace Christian

WATERLIET — Election of three school board members, approval of a 1977-78 budget and more details on plans for a four-year high school will be among items covered in the annual meeting of Grace Christian school Friday, March 25.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. at the Midway Baptist church on Red Arrow highway here, according to Brian K. Mayfield, school administrator.

Mayfield said anyone interested in the non-denominational school is invited to attend. Mayfield said three incumbent school board members are all seeking re-election to three-year terms. They are Harold Redman of St. Joseph, Rex Cassidy of Stevensville and David Geisler of Hartford.

Those at the meeting who are association members will be voting on school board candidates and on ratification of a proposed budget of about $185,000 for the 1977-78 school year, Mayfield said.

The school will spend about $110,000 this school year, he said.

Mayfield said the school will also unveil more details on the four-year high school program being planned for the beginning of the 1977-78 school year.

The school was founded in 1973 and presently has about 180 students in grades K-8. They attend classes in a nine-classroom school opened last fall on M-140 south of Waterliet.

NEWSMAN SUCCUMBS
DETROIT (AP) — Arthur D. Chernecki, retired Michigan newspaper editor for United Press International, died Monday after a lengthy illness. He was 50.

Lakeshore Gets New Temporary Insurance

The Lakeshore school board in special session last night approved obtaining temporary multi-peril insurance coverage from the John DeVries Agency, St. Joseph, until June 30.

The policy covers all buildings, grounds and personal property from fire, theft, or other natural disasters. It had been purchased through the Ott Insurance Agency, Baroda, but that policy expired today.

At its February meeting, the board asked that Ott extend the coverage until June 30 and also decided all its insurance policies would be put up for bids.

Asst. Supt. William Galbreath told the board the Ott Agency had informed him it could not extend the multi-peril policy through June 30, but could renew it for one year allowing the board to cancel it June 30. There would be a penalty for cancellation.

The board approved DeVries offer for the remainder of the school year at a cost of $7,618. The multi-peril coverage is a "blanket-type" coverage, Galbreath said.

The board at its February meeting decided to have all its various insurance policies coincide with the fiscal school year which ends June 30.

Galbreath said the district currently pays some $35,000 annually in premiums for all its insurance policies, including workmen's compensation which accounts for approximately 42 per cent of the total.

Hagar Studying Proposal On Trash Pickup Service

The Hagar township board last night postponed for further study a proposal for trash pick-up service for the township.

According to Edward Broderick, township supervisor, board members felt the proposal deserved greater input from township residents and further study before any board action was undertaken.

Broderick indicated the idea would be discussed during the township's annual meeting, Saturday, April 2, in order to learn the opinions of the residents attending the meeting.

Broderick said the board will attempt to learn if general township trash pick-up is the practical way to go, as opposed to maintaining a township dump.

Before any decision is made, Broderick added, a public hearing on the question would be conducted.

In a related area, Broderick announced the township dump, located on the south side of Coloma road, east of I-196, would be open both Saturday and Sunday, beginning next weekend.

The hours of the operation will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., on both days, said Broderick. Previously, the dump site was open only on Saturdays.

The new schedule will remain in effect through the remainder of the summer months.

The board appointed Martin Edinborough as chairman of the seven-member township planning commission, he had previously served as acting chairman.

The board approved transfer of both a SDD (liquor take out) and SDM (beer and wine take out) license from Lila Govatos to Frank Bovo, at 3613 US-33 North, known as the Oasis Party Store.

A petition signed by eight township residents requesting an engineering study be started for a proposed drain along Fikes road was received by the board. The proposed drain would be located on the west side of Fikes road, south of Thar road.

The board approved a Lily Tag day sale for the Easter Seal society for Crippled Children, for Friday, April 8.

Broderick read a letter from Marie Preston, director of the North Berrien Senior center, thanking the board for an advanced $400 payment toward the support of the center. A remaining $800 donation will be forwarded to the center following the annual meeting.

The board agreed to look into a complaint regarding unsightly automobiles stored adjacent to a service station on Coloma road.

Galien Follows Lawyer's Lead On Easements

GALIEN — The Galien village council last night approved procedures outlined by its legal counsel for acquiring easements for the village's proposed $1.3 million sewer project.

Under recommendations made by Atty. Louis Desenberg, Buchanan, property owners will be given the opportunity to accompany the appraiser during his inspection and if the owner is not satisfied with the offer made for the parcel, based on the appraisal, he may seek an adjustment.

However, if voluntary agreements cannot be reached, then eventually formal condemnation proceedings will be instituted.

The recommendations also included one for purchase of land left from an easement if it had little value for the owner.

All recording fees, transfer taxes and similar expenses incidental to securing and recording the easement will be paid by the village in addition to the purchase price.

In related matters, the council passed a resolution requesting authority from the Berrien county Board of Public Works (BPW) to start formal condemnation proceedings to acquire a right-of-way on the Thomas Lomack farm, off Holden road. The easement is needed to gain access to the sewer lagoon site.

The council approved payment of a $56,250 bill to Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph, for engineering services on the sewer project. A total of $54,400 of the bill meets eligibility requirements of the federal-state grant. The grant will pay 80 per cent of the $54,400, with Galien picking up the rest.

In other business, the council approved granting its street department crew a 50-cent per hour raise to $3.50.

Rezoning Bid Going To Royalton Planners

The Royalton township board last night referred to its planning commission a request from Robert McCoy to rezone his property at 3333 M-139, from single-family residential to commercial. The property which contains McCoy Auto Trim and McCoy Real Estate firm was formerly zoned commercial, but under the township's new zoning ordinance became residential. McCoy requested a public hearing on the matter.

In other areas, according to Otto Jasper, township clerk, the board accepted the $1,876 low bid of Evans Agricultural Service, Inc., Hinchman, for a 14 horsepower garden tractor with 50-inch mower for use at the township park. It was the lowest of three bids. The board signed a contract with Milton Geisler, township park superintendent, to take care of the township park for $4 per hour, an increase of 75 cents.

The township board will meet with the county road commission March 25 to discuss the summer road improvement program, it was announced.

Busy Session Due At Grace Christian

WATERVLIET — Election of three school board members, approval of a 1977-78 budget and more details on plans for a four-year high school will be among items covered in the annual meeting of Grace Christian school Friday, March 25.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. at the Midway Baptist church on Red Arrow highway here, according to Brian K. Mayfield, school administrator.

Mayfield said anyone interested in the non-denominational school is invited to attend.

Mayfield said three incumbent school board members are all seeking re-election to three-year terms. They are Harold Redman of St. Joseph, Rex Cassidy of Stevensville and David Geisler of Hartford.

Those at the meeting who are association members will be voting on school board candidates and on ratification of a proposed budget of about $185,000 for the 1977-78 school year, Mayfield said.

The school will spend about $110,000 this school year, he said.

Mayfield said the school will also unveil more details on the four-year high school program being planned for the beginning of the 1977-78 school year.

The school was founded in 1973 and presently has about 180 students in grades K-8. They attend classes in a nine-classroom school opened last fall on M-140 south of Watervliet.

Hagar Studying Proposal On Trash Pickup Service

The Hagar township board last night postponed for further study a proposal for trash pickup service for the township.

According to Edward Broderick, township supervisor, board members felt the proposal deserved greater input from township residents and further study before any board action was undertaken.

Broderick indicated the idea would be discussed during the township's annual meeting, Saturday, April 2, in order to learn the opinions of the residents attending the meeting.

Broderick said the board will attempt to learn if general township trash pick-up is the practical way to go, as opposed to maintaining a township dump.

Before any decision is made, Broderick added, a public hearing on the question would be conducted.

In a related area, Broderick announced the township dump, located on the south side of Coloma road, east of I-196, would be open both Saturday and Sunday, beginning next weekend.

The hours of the operation will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., on both days, said Broderick. Previously, the dump site was open only on Saturdays.

The new schedule will remain in effect through the remainder of the summer months.

The board appointed Martin Edinborough as chairman of the seven-member township planning commission, he had previously served as acting chairman.

The board approved transfer of both a SDD (liquor take out) and SDM (beer and wine take out) license from Lila Govatos to Frank Bovo, at 3613 US-33 North, known as the Oasis Party Store.

A petition signed by eight township residents requesting an engineering study be started for a proposed drain along Fikes road was received by the board.

The proposed drain would be located on the west side of Fikes road, south of Thar road.

The board approved a Lily Tag day sale for the Easter Seal society for Crippled Children, for Friday, April 8.

Broderick read a letter from Marie Preston, director of the North Berrien Senior center, thanking the board for an advanced $400 payment toward the support of the center. A remaining $600 donation will be forwarded to the center following the annual meeting.

The board agreed to look into a complaint regarding unsightly automobiles stored adjacent to a service station on Coloma road.

Lakeshore Gets New Temporary Insurance

The Lakeshore school board in special session last night approved obtaining temporary multi-peril insurance coverage from the John DeVries Agency, St. Joseph, until June 30.

The policy covers all buildings, grounds and personal property from fire, theft, or other natural disasters. It had been purchased through the Ott Insurance Agency, Baroda, but that policy expired today.

At its February meeting, the board asked that Ott extend the coverage until June 30 and also decided all its insurance policies would be put up for bids.

Asst. Supt. William Galbreath told the board the Ott Agency had informed him it could not extend the multi-peril policy through June 30, but could renew it for one year allowing the board to cancel it June 30. There would be a penalty for cancellation.

The board approved DeVries offer for the remainder of the school year at a cost of $7,618. The multi-peril coverage is a "blanket-type" coverage, Galbreath said.

The board at its February meeting decided to have all its various insurance policies coincide with the fiscal school year which ends June 30.

Galbreath said the district currently pays some $36,000 annually in premiums for all its insurance policies, including workmen's compensation which accounts for approximately 42 per cent of the total.

School Board At Covert Adopts Discipline Policy

COVERT — The Covert school board last night approved a new policy for the suspension and expulsion of students from school.

Under the policy, principals or the school superintendent may suspend a student for 13 reasons, and the superintendent may expel a student for five reasons.

The policy gives school administrators the authority to set the lengths of the suspension or expulsion.

Reasons for which a student may be suspended from school include intoxication or drinking on school grounds; smoking on school property; possession or use of narcotics; vandalism; stealing; setting fires on school grounds; insubordination to school employees; skipping school; and "acts of immoral characterization."

The five reasons for expelling a student are hitting a teacher; swearing at the principal; selling narcotics or alcohol on school property; extreme absenteeism by students over the age of 16; and continued vandalism to school property.

In other areas, the board also approved a policy governing the administration of medication on school property.

A policy on absenteeism was tabled for further study until the board's April 11 meeting.

Tenure for two teachers, William Howe, elementary school physical education, and Miss LaDonna Golden, third grade, was approved after the board discussed the matter in an executive session lasting nearly an hour. The vote for Howe was five yes and one abstaining.

Voting yes were Donald Quinn, Bernard Lucas, who had requested the executive session, Harold Bracken, Rev. L.C. Berry and Mrs. Alice Blair. Abstaining was trustee Carl Gregorait. Jerry Foster was absent.

The vote on Miss Golden was six yes.

Also last night, the board approved purchase of a $4,275 duplicator and scanner, and a $3,804 photo copier, both for use by the administrative offices.

Also approved were purchases of four items ranging in cost from $1,257 for trophy cases and bulletin boards to $800 for an auditorium restroom corridor gate. The costs amounted to $4,187 for the four items. They are to be purchased from the district's $4.8 million school construction bond.

Repair of an 18-inch planer for the high school shop was approved at cost of $1,800.

A request for funds from the Van Buren county department of mental health was tabled until the April meeting. Last year, the board approved payment of $485 to the department.

The board approved a request from the Van Buren county health department to conduct a seminar on swimming pool maintenance at the school pool on April 22. The seminar will be for operators of both public and private pools.

Hot Lunch Plan Wins Decatur Board Approval

DECATUR — The Decatur school board last night voted to implement a hot lunch program for students at an estimated cost of $122,000.

Exact cost of the project will not be known until the board meets with state officials and the two firms it contracted last night for the work. Named to plan and perform renovation of the junior-senior high school and install necessary equipment were Binda Associates, Bath Creek architects, and Stafford-Smith, Kalamazoo.

Supt. Wayne Hellenka said the board hopes to recover the estimated $122,000 needed to start the program from the federal and state governments.

In other areas, Hellenka said the deadline for filing nominations for one school trustee post at stake in the annual June school election is April 11. He said petitions are available at the junior-senior high school.

Board member Max Howe, whose post is up for election, did not indicate last night if he would seek re-election.

Also last night, the board approved contributing $920 to the Van Buren mental health department, the same amount it gave to the department last year.

On the recommendation of Louis Dudeck, transportation director, the board approved an $82 per month contract with Winkler Communications Center, South Haven, for maintenance of school bus radio equipment.

Richard Jacobsen, elementary principal, announced that registration for kindergarten students will be held on Thursday and Friday, April 21 and 22.

Siljander Opposes State Transit Plan

LANSING — State Rep. Mark Siljander of Three Rivers said recently he will not support the state transit plan unveiled in February by Gov. William Milliken. The freshman Republican representative predicted "tough sledding" for Milliken's proposal to raise $14.5 million in transportation funds through a two-cent gas tax hike and by computing license plate fees through the value of a car rather than its weight. Milliken has proposed using the projected revenue for providing increases for city and village streets and transportation programs, county roads and state highways and raising $31 million for state police patrols of city freeways.

The bill is still pending before both houses.

Farm Labor Rules Topic Of Meeting

PAW PAW — The governmental regulations that affect Michigan farmers in employing farm workers, and the record keeping requirements involved, will be discussed at a meeting Wednesday at 1 p.m.

The labor management and information session will be held at the Van Buren Farm Bureau building on Red Arrow highway, west of Paw Paw. The county Farm Bureau Women's committee is sponsor.

Donald A. Shepard, operations manager for the Michigan Agricultural Services association of the state Farm Bureau, will be principal speaker. He will outline state and federal minimum wage regulations, OSHA and MIOSHA, Workers Compensation, Unemployment Compensation, social security, farm labor camps, child labor law, farm labor contractor registration, and required records.

The meeting is open to all farmers.

Zaire Request Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration is considering a request to supply emergency military aid to Zaire, struggling to repel what it calls an invasion of mercenaries from Angola. State Department spokesman Frederick Z. Brown confirmed on Monday that the African nation submitted the request "very recently," apparently the first such plea the Carter administration has received. The Zaire government is struggling against invaders in its copper rich southern province, formerly known as Katanga.

Fennville May Share Policeman

FENNVILLE — City officials here are trying to figure out how they can best provide police protection for this Allegan county community of about 1,000 people.

The last full-time policeman, James Moeller, left his $5 per hour city police wage Jan. 1 to join the Allegan county sheriff's department.

Since then, according to City Commissioner James Clary, Moeller has been providing occasional part-time service while the city tries to work out a shared-time package for a deputy's services with the sheriff's department.

There is some feeling among commission members that a full-time man is not presently needed in Fennville," Clary said.

In addition, he said, it has become difficult to attract someone to take the job as a one-man police force.

He said that besides the costs to the city of providing fringe benefits, "there is just an one around to relieve you" during vacations and sick days.

Besides, he said, Fennville is not the most exciting place for police work.

Said Clary: "Imagine putting 20,000 miles a year on a car with an area of one square mile."

GOP Women Will Hear Judge Burkholz

Berrien Circuit Judge Zoe S. Burkholz will speak on "Women In Politics" at a luncheon meeting of Berrien county Republican women Thursday, March 24, at Win Schuler's restaurant, Stevensville. Mrs. Fred (Martha) Schalon, publicity chairman, said the luncheon will recognize all Republican women holding elected offices in the county. Judge Burkholz ran on the nonpartisan ticket in winning the circuit judgeship last November, but she is a Republican. Mrs. Schalon said reservations for the 11:45 a.m. luncheon may be made with Mrs. James (Doris) Walton, Berrien Springs; Mrs. Arella Hodges, Niles, or at county Republican headquarters, 763 East Napier avenue, Fairplain.

Fennville May Share Policeman

FENNVILLE — City officials here are trying to figure out how they can best provide police protection for this Allegan county community of about 1,000 people.

The last full-time policeman, James Moeller, left his $5 per hour city police wage Jan. 1 to join the Allegan county sheriff's department.

Since then, according to City Commissioner James Clarey, Moeller has been providing occasional part-time service while the city tries to work out a shared-time package for a deputy's services with the sheriff's department.

"There is some feeling among commission members that a full-time man is not presently needed in Fennville," Clarey said.

In addition, he said, it has become difficult to attract someone to take the job as a one-man police force.

He said that besides the costs to the city of providing fringe benefits, "there is just no one around to relieve you" during vacations and sick days.

Besides, he said, Fennville is not the most exciting place for police work.

Said Clarey: "Imagine putting 20,000 miles a year on a car with an area of one square mile."

GOP Women Will Hear Judge Burkholz

Berrien Circuit Judge Zoe S. Burkholz will speak on "Women In Politics" at a luncheon meeting of Berrien county Republican women Thursday, March 24, at Win Schuler's restaurant, Stevensville. Mrs. Fred (Martha) Schalon, publicity chairman, said the luncheon will recognize all Republican women holding elected offices in the county. Judge Burkholz ran on the nonpartisan ticket in winning the circuit judgeship last November, but she is a Republican. Mrs. Schalon said reservations for the 11:45 a.m. luncheon may be made with Mrs. James (Doris) Walton, Berrien Springs; Mrs. Arelia Hodges, Niles, or at county Republican headquarters, 763 East Napier avenue, Fairplain.

Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, March 15, the 74th day of 1977. There are 291 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 44 B.C., the Roman Emperor, Julius Caesar, was assassinated in the senate building in Rome.

On this date:

In 1603, the French navigator and explorer, Samuel de Champlain, sailed for the New World.

In 1767, the 7th American president, Andrew Jackson, was born.

In 1820, Maine entered the Union as the 23rd state.

In 1916, an American force under General John Pershing was ordered into Mexico to capture the revolutionary Mexican leader, Pancho Villa.

In 1943, during the Pacific War, Japanese planes raided the Australian city of Darwin.

In 1975, the Greek shipping magnate and husband of the former Jacqueline Kennedy, Aristotle Onassis, died in Paris at age 69.

Ten years ago: Henry Cabot Lodge resigned as the American ambassador to South Vietnam, and President Lyndon B. Johnson named Ellsworth Bunker to succeed him.

Five years ago: Hope for survivors was abandoned in the crash of a Danish airliner with 112 people aboard on a mountain near the Persian gulf.

One year ago: Former Governor William Scranton of Pennsylvania was sworn in as the United States Ambassador to the United Nations, succeeding Daniel P. Moynihan.

Today's birthdays: Singer Eddy Arnold is 59. Actor George Brent is 73.

Thought for today: Nothing is more unjust or capricious than public opinion. — William Hazlitt, English essayist, 1778-1830.

Austrian Actor Is Hospitalized

ROME (AP) — Austrian movie actor Helmut Berger has been hospitalized after drinking a large quantity of liquor and taking some medical pills, police said.

Officers said physicians who examined the actor told them the liquor and pills were responsible for Berger's agitated state after being brought to a hospital Monday by ambulance.

The doctors said Berger should recover in about a week.

Berger starred in several films directed by the late Italian director Luchino Visconti, including "The Damned," "Ludwig" and "Family Portrait."

EDITOR DIES

Two BH Men Arraigned In Homicide Cases

A Benton Harbor man pleaded innocent to an open charge of murder when arraigned Monday in Berrien Circuit court, while another Benton Harbor man pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of manslaughter in another homicide.

Pleading innocent before Judge William S. White to the open murder charge was Tommy Lee Davis, 21, of 216 South Fair avenue. He is charged in the Feb. 12 stabbing death of Douglas W. Camper.

Camper, 19, of Benton Harbor, died Feb. 16 of a single stab wound to the chest. The stabbing occurred in the 500 block of Broadway, Benton Harbor, during an alleged altercation between Camper and three other men.

Two others, Sammie Davis, Jr., 19, a brother of Tommy Davis, and Leroy Terrell, 20, have been sentenced to 60 and 90-day jail sentences, respectively, after pleading to assault and battery charges in district court. District Judge Hugh Black ruled they were not involved in the actual stabbing.

Johnnie Luther Hill, Jr., 26, of 315 Brunson avenue, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty before Judge Julian E. Hughes to manslaughter, reduced from second degree murder. He was charged with beating Annie Thompson, 47, to death on Nov. 3 in Benton Harbor.

In other arraignments before White:

Thomas J. Turner, 17, of South Bend, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering Country Cookin' restaurant in Niles township on Jan. 20.

Dufferian Jenkins, 23, of Twinline road, Benton township, pleaded innocent to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses over $100. She was charged with telling the Department of Social Services she had not received an ADC check in order to get another May 20, 1976.

Larry J. Patton, 20, of 870 Superior street, Benton Harbor, pleaded innocent to a charge of armed robbery of cash from William Antio with a gun Feb. 17 at the Kayo service station in Benton township.

Mark R. Skibbe, 21, of Benton Harbor, pleaded innocent to a charge of armed robbery — allegedly robbing Sherry Sherman of cash with a sawed-off rifle Feb. 17 at the Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant in Benton township.

Clyde H. Banner, 28, of Ann Arbor, pleaded innocent to a charge of possession of barbiturates Feb. 22 in Benton township.

Eddie J. Blackmore, 18, of 526 Cherry street, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty before Judge Hughes to assault with intent to rob while armed — assaulting Warren Hendrix with a knife Oct. 27 in Benton Harbor.

Ruby Jean Bradley, 17, of 221 South McCord street, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty before Judge Chester J. Byrns to larceny from a person — the theft of a wallet from Charles E. Anderson Oct. 23 in Benton Harbor.

TARGET: Gunmen tried unsuccessfully to assassinate Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's 30-year-old son, Sanjay, above, Monday night, according to India's National News Agency. The agency said five shots were fired into a jeep in which Sanjay Gandhi was riding through the rural constituency where he is a candidate for parliament. Gandhi was unhurt, the agency reported. Voting in India's first parliamentary election since 1971 starts Wednesday. (AP Wirephoto)

PUBLIC SERVICE EMPLOYMENT PROJECTS

The Berrien County CETA Program is now accepting applications for short-term Special Public Service Employment Projects, pursuant to revisions of the Title VI Federal Regulations. Eligible applicants include units of general purpose local government and agencies thereof, combinations of associations of such governmental units whose primary purpose is to provide public services, special purpose political subdivisions having the power to tax and spend funds, local educational agencies, institutions of higher education, community development corporations, non-profit groups and organizations serving Indians and other non-profit private organizations or institutions engaged in public service. A portion of the overall funding allocation to Berrien County will be used in projects to non-profit groups and organizations.

Projects must run a minimum of three (3) months but not longer than twelve (12) months. All projects must begin before September 30, 1977. Projects must be clearly defined specific tasks, which have a public service objective, and which results in a specific product or accomplishment when completed and which would not otherwise be accomplished with existing funds. If a project proposes to expand a current public service to any degree, the specific end product of the expansion of services must be defined and an explanation of how the need for the expanded level of service will no longer exist at the conclusion of the project.

Public service activity includes, but is not limited to, the following: beautification, conservation, crime prevention and control, education, child care, environmental quality, fire protecting, health care, housing and neighborhood improvements, manpower service, parks, streets and other public safety, recreation, rural development, solid waste removal, transportation, veterans outreach, community surveys or canvassing, etc. It excludes building and highway construction work (except that which the applicant is authorized to do and would normally perform itself rather than contract out). The CETA Act forbids participants to be employed in the construction, operation or maintenance of such part of any facility as is used or will be used for sectarian instruction or as a place of religious worship.

There will be an officer's conference on March 17, 1977 at 2:00 p.m. at the Miles Community Library Auditorium or March 18, 1977 at 2:00 p.m. at the Berrien County Courthouse, Board of Commissioners Room, to answer any questions with regard to Special Projects or the completion of an application.

Special Projects applications are currently available at the CETA Office, 145 West Main Street, Benton Harbor, Michigan 49822, 927-2476. The allocation of special project funds will be by project approval. The deadline for all project applications is 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 31, 1977.
